The Mulatto Convention. The New York Tribune says it is reported that FRED. DOUGLASS has been elected a delegate from Rochester to the "Loyal Southerners' Convention," in Philadelphia, 'which,' Mr. GREELEY says, "will make no objection to this color." He adds : "The Union party is perfectly willing-nay, anxious-that the loyal colored men should have a vote in its conventions." That is honest in expression, and the fact of the union of colors in their conventions would be an exhibition of consistency to principle equally as honest. That would be party honesty, and it would honestly represent also the Convention; for, by the term "loyal Southerners" is understood blacks as well as whites. To honestly represent the principle of the Radical party, the Convention should ignore no delegates on account of their color.

There can be no misunderstanding the import of this language. It is for each State united much of the cunning of VAN BUREN, ed to the admission to Congress of members to a compact violated and broken by the other to decide for itself whether it will be held parties to it. That is the doctrine of the Revolution of '98. For 63 ye2rs the Democratic party and the whole country, sub scribed to the wisdom and truth of this doctrine. And no set of men were louder in its promulgation than the leaders of the Black Republican party. In a debate in the Senate of the United States, February 20th, > "I recognize the doctrine of State Rights in its application to slavery as well as to matters of public concern. I will stand side by side with my Democratic friends in vindication of the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798-'99, which they have endorsed.

In the same debate, Senator Wade said: "I am one of those who at all times believe in the wisdom, the constitutionality, and the propriety of the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798-99. The reader will find these speeches in the Appendix to Congressional Globe, vol. 31, al rights. Men who have deserted from the 2nd session of the 33d Congress, page 533. Wade, in the ablest and most studied speeches of his life, said :-

"But Southern gentlemen stand here, and in almost all their speeches speak of the dissolution of the Union as an element of every argument, as though it were a peculiar condescension on their part that they permitted the Union to stand at all. If they do not feel interested in upholding this Union-it it really trenches on their rights-if it endangers their institutions to such an extent that they cannot feel secure under it-if their interests are violently assailed by means of the Union-I am not one of those who expect that they will long continue under it. I am not one of those who would ask them to continue in such a Union. It would be doing violence to the platform of the party to which I belong. We have adopted the old Declaration of Independence as the basis of our political movement, which declares that any people, when their Government ceases | will not permit him to thus hide his cowardto protect their rights, when it is so subverted from the true purpose of government as to oppress them, have the right to recur to fundamental principles, and if need be, to destroy the Government under which they live, and to erect on its ruins another more conducive to their welfare. I hold that they have this right. I will not blame any people for exercising it, whenever they think the contingency has come. I certainly shall be the advocate of that same doctrine whenever I find that the principles of this Government have become so oppressive to the section to which I belong, that a free people ought not endure it. You will not then find me backward in being the advocate of disunion. I hope the Union will continue forever. I see nothing at present which I think should dissolve it; but if the gentlemen see it, I say again that they have the same interest in maintaining this Union, in my judgment, that we of the North have. If they think they have not, be it so. You cannot distinguished gentlemen. A large number forcibly hold men in this Union; for the attempt to do so, it seems to me, would sub-under which we live.' Neither Mr. Seward nor any other Republican member of Congress raised a note of objection to this doctrine. Nobody objected to it. It was the acknowledged opinion of all the statesmen in the country of all parties. Now behold the change! For having honestly, and, as he believed, patriotically acted up to these precise principles. Wilson and Wade now want to hang Jefferson Davis For doing what these men said they would do, what they said all had a clear right to do, they now propose to murder Mr. Davis But there stand the Resolutions of '98; and there they will stand, the everlasting monument of the wisdom and patriotism of the founders of our Government, and a perpetual rebuke to the degeneracy, hypocrisy and crime of the politicians of these latter days! These Resolutions of '98 are still the creed of the pure Democracy-still the creed of every intelligent patriot in the land. But we are told by ignoramuses and loyal traitors that the war upset those principles. The war has no more upset the principles of the Resolutions of '98, than the stormy clouds of night have upset the sun. The eternal principles of right and truth, and liberty, cannot be changed by war. Every right which belonged to the States before the war belongs to them now-will belong to them forever for all that war can do against them. War is simply brute force; but the rights of political communities rest upon the immutable principles of justice and of truth. Whenever those principles are violated, it is the Bogus Deserter Lists in Preparation. We understand that the Disunien mann gers have given orders to the State printers that they must have the lists of Deserters and Non-reporting Drafted men ready for distribution in two weeks. The printers are accordingly working day and night to get them done. Some time ago we stated that the regiments were estimated to average about 150 deserters and non-reporting drafted men, which would make the aggregate upon the lists about 30,000. We are told, now, that the aggregate will reach nearly SIXTY THOUSAND! There is strong reason to believe this, from the fact that the lists have been in the hands of the printers long enough to have been printed weeks ago-i containg no more than 30,000. Even though there may be 60,000, time enough has elapsed to have had them printed now and ready for distribution. We believe the delay to be intentional-designed to give the accused no time to prepare proof and hunt up witnesses ! But there is a more serious rumor abroad

It is said that, since the lists were first prepared, there have been added the names of thousands of Democrats who were never in service, and were never drafted ! Sixty thousand names would be ONE-SIXTH of all the Pennsylvania soldiers in service during the whole war. It is not possible that ONE soldier out of every SIX deserted from service Nor is it probable that there was one deserter for every twelve men. The names of persons who were never in service have been added principally in localities where Disun ion election officers preside, so that, unless the accused may be able to furnish proof, AT A MOMENT'S NOTICE, that they were never in service, their votes can be rejected. The mere publication of such names upon the lists, it is calculated, will secure the election officers from punishment afterwards. There is but little doubt that this desperate Disunion game is going on. The delay in the preparation and distribution of the lists is strong 1855, Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, proof of the fact ! To checkmate this desperate game of the Disunionists, we hope Mr. Wallace, Chairman of the State Central Committee will at once issue a circular to the election, defining their powers and duties under the election laws of the State, AND WARNING THEM AGAINST REJECTING THE BALLOT OF ANY MAN whose name may be upon those lists, no matter whether he be a Deserter, Non-reporting Conscript or not ! We hope that he will also instruct the people to secure witnesses against all elections officers who may reject such ballots, and assure all who may suffer disfranchisement in that way that the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania will assume the responsibility and expense of conducting the legal proceedings in every court, from the lowest to the highest, necessary to secure to them their rights and to right their wrongs! The Supreme Court of the State having decided, in effect, that ALL MEN, of lawful age, who have a residence in the State, and poid their taxes according to law, SHALL BE ALLOW ED TO VOTE, (any Federal or State law to the contrary notwithstanding,) it is the duty of the party of the Union and Constitution to protect in and assure to every citizen of Pennsylvania his just constitutionmilitary service, or who have neglected or In the subsequent Congress, Senator refused to perform service when drafted, are certainly liable to punishment, but no man can be deprived of his vote or of any civil or political right until tried by court martial, under the Rules and Regulations of the Army, found guilty, sentenced and sentence approved. We hope, therefore, that measares will be at once taken to bring to punishment any and every election officer who assumes judicial powers and dares to reject the ballots of the men whose names appear upon those lists, unless they have been tried by court martial, found guilty, sentenced, and sentence approved .- Patriot and Union.
