A couple of horses belonging to William Neal, of this place, ran away on Monday morning last. They were hitched to a sleigh and was being drove by a colored man, and while passing down Main Street commenced running at the top of their speed, and the driver finding himself unable to check them up, sprang from the sleigh, leaving the horses to make the best of it. On attempting to turn off of Main Street, on an alley leading to their stable, they ran through Mr. Lutz's fence, into his lot, under a large tree, where they halted, without even a scratch. The damage done was to the extent of a panel or two of fence tern down and the demolishing of the sleigh-tongue. The "dark" escaped by making one or two revolutions in the snow.

A GENTS WANTED FOR THE

PICTORIAL BOOK
OF ANECDOTES AND INCIDENTS of the rebellic There is a certain portion of the war that will inever go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or peetry which is a very real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful parratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravecy of men, the pluck of our heroes, the ro-mance and hardships of the service.

The volume is profusely illustrated with over 200 engravings by the first artists, which are really beau-tiful; worthy of examination as specimens of the agr.

Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution. The book's contents include reminiscences of camp, picket, spy, scout, bivouse, siege and battle-field adventures; thrilling feats of bravery, wit, drollery, comical and ludicrous adventures, etc., etc., Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and au-thentic history, are skillfully interwoven in this work literary art. This work sells itself. The people are tired of dry details and partison works, and want something humorous, romatic and startling. Our agents are making from $100 to $200 per month clear of all expenses. Send for circulars, giving full particulars and see our terms and proof of the above assertion.
