

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW.—Years have been aptly compared to men. They are born like men, and they grow, mature, and die like men. And in obedience to this dispensation, since we last had the pleasure of holding "sweet converse" with our readers, an old year has died, and a new year has been born. On Saturday night last, just as the old clock tolled twelve, EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY NINE, having finished its course, was "gathered to its fathers." Calmly and serenely, and with the stars to watch its departure, it yielded to the irrevocable decree of Time, and took its flight to the mysterious Past. It was a great old year, was 1859. It was characterized by great events. It had its troubles and its sorrows, its joys and its hopes. It was marked by unseasonable frosts, yet it saw Mother Earth yielding bountifully the fruits of the husbandman's toil. In the Old World, it witnessed fierce conflicts; it saw Liberty throttled, and Despotism Power triumphant; but it saw Despotism totter and left them tottering. In our own country, it witnessed contending parties, and even had its ears pierced with the traitor's cry of "Disunion;" but though the old year died, the Union still lives.—Moreover, during the past year, Death, that foe to mortality, has been unusually busy. He has visited the palaces of the rich, as well as the humble cottages of the poor; and in his work of havoc and desolation, mankind—shall we say it?—have freely given him assistance. Unnecessary wars, and those beautiful badges of civilization, the duel, the gibbet and the guillotine, have well and faithfully served his purpose. Truly, the old year has seen the grim monster in many forms; he has seen many a poor mortal die; and now the old year itself has died. To the dead, whether it be the mortal or the year, we can only say, "peace to thy manes."

But we are now under a new dispensation. Just as old 1859 piped out, his successor, EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY was born; and Time, whose motto is Progression, immediately crowned him monarch of the year. The young prince came to his birth at a cold season—snow and ice everywhere—the whole brow of Creation shaggy with hoar-frost. This is not as it should be. As a matter of taste, it is a sad arrangement. Time and Nature would much better harmonize did the year have its beginning in the springtime; that delightful season when the genial sunshine gladdens everything; when the trees bud, and the flowers spring up; when gentle breezes send forth sweet music, and the dear little birds sing the praises of their great Creator. But it were idle to talk about changing this arrangement; we should not change it if we could. It has become a fixture, and we are content that the year shall end, and January begin the new year.

In events of importance, the new year will equal, if not surpass, its immediate predecessor. During its cycle, a Governor will be elected for our own State, and a President will be chosen to watch over the destinies of our great and mighty Republic. We may state, also, that 1860, will be one day longer than 1859. It is a leap year; a time when the order of some things at least is reversed; a year in which the saying is "the girls court the boys, and the boys the girls." These facts will of themselves render the new year one of importance. But it will be important in many other aspects. It will bring sickness, and sorrow, and sadness, to many a household; to others, it will bring health, and peace, and comfort. It will give life and being to millions; to millions it will be the end of their earthly hopes. It will witness the taking of many good resolutions; many of them kept; many of them broken. And last, though not least, it will, as its predecessors have done before, witness too many of the follies and un-folleries which pertain to mankind. Still let us hope, that 1860 will have a keen eye to Progress, and that it may mark an era in the advancement of the human race. Meantime, we wish the reader a happy new year!

OUR THANKS.—We return our thanks to Mr. J. Keil, of Wilmore, for an excellent pair of gloves, given us last week. He is a whole-souled fellow, and is deserving of a liberal patronage from the citizens of that place.

A GOOD CHANCE.—The attention of those of our young men who may desire to obtain good situations, is directed to the advertisement in another column of C. L. Kirby & Co.

OUR MEERSCHAUM.—We have got a Meerschaum; not a mere sham; not a potato pipe, with a quill stem to it; not one of your common white clay pipes, that you get "thrown into the bargain;" not an ordinary green mud pipe, fashioned after a faun's head; nor yet a big dutch pipe, illustrated with "pieters," and hung with tassels, and all that sort of thing;—but a real, genuine, unadulterated, simon pure Meerschaum; such a Meerschaum indeed as will most likely excite considerable envy in meerschaumic circles. Yes, we have a Meerschaum; and we have more. We have a supply of Tobacco; not of the Vuelta de Abajo, or the Colorado Pintado, or the Havelock brands; not grown upon the soil of famous Virginia even; but Tobacco hailing directly from the dominions of His Oriental Highness, the Sultan. It is the Turkish Tobacco we have,—the incomparable, unapproachable Turkish Golden Leaf Tobacco,—done up in membranaceous bags without seams, and so carefully sealed, stamped and labelled as to leave every thing like doubt about its genuineness quite out of the question.—But it may be asked, how came we by this Meerschaum and this Tobacco?—for it is generally known that editors cannot of themselves attain such luxuries. We answer we came by them fairly and honestly. Our Meerschaum and Tobacco were presented to us by a friend—and that friend, gentle reader, is no less a personage than that prince of good fellows, J. Patton Thompson, Esq., of the Quaker city. Oft as we indulge in our Meerschaum and Tobacco, will we think of the munificent donor from whom we received them. May his life be useful, and may he live to a serene old age! And, finally, when he comes to bid adieu to the scenes of this troublesome world, may his spirit soar upward—even as the smoke of our genuine Turkish Tobacco ascendeth from our much-prized Meerschaum—upward, ever upward!

And now, O Meerschaum! what remaineth for thee but thy coloring? TEMPERANCE PROCESSION.—The Sons and Daughters of Temperance, of this place and vicinity, on Saturday afternoon last, celebrated the birth of the New Year, by a public demonstration. They met at their hall, and from thence proceeded, in full regalia, to the Welch Independent Church, where able and impressive addresses were delivered by Messrs. Nickelson and Williams. In the evening, the members of the Order, together with a large number of our citizens, again met at the church, and listened to addresses from Messrs. Barker and Litzinger, all of which were appropriate, and delivered with ability and effect. The exercises of the occasion were enlivened by the music of the choir belonging to the Church—a choir which has become proverbial for its good singing. The procession in the afternoon was highly imposing, and numbered seventy Sons and Daughters. We are informed, that the Order is now in a most prosperous condition, and its members are determined to press onward in their work of Benevolence and Reform.

IMPORTANT TO POSTMASTERS.—Postmasters are reminded that the sending of notices to parties having letters detained for non-payment of postage, is at all times a mere matter of courtesy, and that this courtesy is not to be shown where the failure to prepay, in whole or in part, is clearly intentionable upon the part of the writer. Such an intention may be fairly presumed where large numbers of unpaid letters are deposited by the same person, especially if that person be a lottery dealer; or where a letter, intended to go by mail, bears but a single one-cent stamp.—In cases of the latter kind, the letter is neither to be forwarded as postpaid, nor is any notice to be given to the party addressed.

The attention of the Post Office Department has been called to this subject by various persons, who, through the well-intended courtesy of postmasters, have been induced to pay the postage upon certain "grand schemes" and extensive circulars, addressed to them by cunning operators in the lottery business.

NO PAPER LAST WEEK.—Many of our cotemporaries did not publish a paper last week. It was our intention, however, to publish one; but owing to the illness of one of our Publishers, it was impossible for us to do so. Our friends will, we know excuse us under the circumstances—especially when they call to remembrance the fact, that last week was the week between Christmas and New Year's. Editors and Printers will generally have a good time to themselves during the holidays, even though they shouldn't ask the permission of their patrons.

RAIL ROAD ELECTION.—As the annual election for a President and Board of Directors of the Ebensburg and Cresson Rail Road Company is almost at hand, we have been requested, by the present officers, to call attention to the following provision in the 8th section of the General Rail Road Act of this Commonwealth: No stockholder shall be entitled to vote at any election, nor at any general or special meeting of the company, on whose share or shares any instalment or arrearages may be due more than thirty days next preceding said election or meeting. We are requested also to remark, that subscribers of stock, who have failed to meet their instalments in accordance with the above provision, will be prohibited from voting at the approaching election. And we volunteer the remark, that this is a capital time for delinquents to call upon John Williams, Esq., the Treasurer of the Company, and "sock up."

LIFE OF JOHN BROWN.—A biography of this remarkable man is to be published at once, for the benefit of his family. The author is James Redpath, so prominent in Kansas annals, an intimate personal friend of Capt. Brown, and a spirited and graphic writer. He is probably better adapted for the task than any other person in the country. The work will contain an autobiographical account of Capt. Brown's early life. It will be published by Thayer & Eldredge, of Boston, Mass., and will be an elegant 12mo. volume of 400 pages, with engravings, and will also contain a fine steel portrait of Brown. 20,000 copies are already subscribed for. Its sale will surpass that of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."—We understand that the publishers are in want of agents to circulate it in this section.

AGRICULTURAL ADDRESS.—The address delivered by the Hon. George Taylor, before the Agricultural Societies of Blair and Cambria counties, is, we understand, being printed in pamphlet form.—Unless it be very thoroughly circulated amongst our farmers in that shape, we will, so soon as we have the opportunity, publish it in these columns. It is a document which may be perused with pleasure and profit by all our citizens; but especially should it find its way to the home and the fireside of every one who has a farm or a garden.

PERSONAL.—On Tuesday last, the editor of this paper, on invitation, partook of a Venison Dinner, served up at Thompson's Mountain House. The whole affair was gotten up in the best style, and did credit even to the Major and his estimable lady, whose reputation as successful caterers to the appetite, is universal. We need only add, that all present did ample justice to the many "good things of this world" with which the table was filled.

MORE TESTIMONY.—Rev. Alexander Clark, editor of the "School Visitor," says:—"We have had ample opportunities to know that the entire faculty of the Iron City College is composed of competent and faithful instructors, that every inducement announced in the widely diffused advertisements of this institution, is promptly carried out, in the course of study and discipline by which this college has won its present reputation."

COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR.—We have received Peterson's well known and reliable Detector for January. It well and truly describes one hundred and sixteen new counterfeits, besides descriptions of all spurious bank notes now in circulation over the country. A copy of "Peterson's complete Coin-Book" will be given gratis to all subscribers for 1860.

DICKENS' NOVELS.—Buy the whole series of these excellent works—now that it can be purchased so cheap. By sending five dollars to T. B. Peterson & Bros., 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, you will receive the twenty-eight volumes composing it—post-paid.

"OUR CARRIER" requests us to return his sincere and unadulterated thanks to the public for the liberal manner in which his demand for "change" on last Saturday was met. With the hope that time may rest lightly on their brows, he once more retires to private life.

MARRIED.—At the Baptist Church, in Johnstown, on Thursday evening, Dec. 22, 1859, by Rev. G. W. Young, Rev. A. H. SEMBOWER, of Altoona, and Miss HELENE KNOWLTON, of Johnstown.

DIED.—On Friday, 30th ult., at his residence, near Portage, in this county, Mr. John M'Kenzie, aged 88 years.

DIED.—In Johnstown, on Friday night, 30th ult., George W. Munson, aged about 40 years.

1860. THE GREAT REPUBLIC MONTHLY. "It is the duty of every citizen of this Great Republic to foster and encourage native genius and American enterprise."—WYSTRAM. THE "GREAT REPUBLIC" MONTHLY: A Magazine devoted entirely to the elevation of American authorship, wholly national, in no wise sectional or sectarian; having for its motto the words of the great statesman: "No North, No South, No East, No West;" having nothing to do with politics, aiming only at the highest in ART, LITERATURE and SCIENCE, and employing the best writers in every branch, is again before the American public seeking their support. This Magazine is now finishing the first year and drawing near the close of the SECOND VOLUME, and has met with unparalleled success. THE THIRD VOLUME Will commence with the number for January, 1860, which will be issued early in December, 1859. Every number will be splendidly illustrated in the highest style of art. Among the numerous contributors engaged for the coming year are the following well known distinguished authors: Fitz Green Halleck, Orestes A. Brownson, Geo. P. Morris, Wm. Gillmore Simms, Park Benjamin, John G. Saxe, Hannah F. Gould, Calhoun Ayer, M. F. Moon, Henry Smith, Jack Downing, J. T. Headley, Geo. D. Prentice, Alice Cary, Mrs. Kirkland, Mrs. Oakes Smith, Phebe Cary, Mrs. Ellet, &c., &c. In the January number will be commenced the most strikingly original novel of the day, entitled THE PROPHET; OR, SCENES OF BORDER LIFE. BY ELIZABETH OAKES SMITH. There will also be commenced in an early number of the coming volume a MOST STARTLING AND INTENSELY INTERESTING ORIGINAL NOVEL, entitled THE SLAVER OF THE COAST; OR, THE AFRICAN TRADER. By Calhoun M'Kenzie. THE GREAT REPUBLIC MONTHLY is the largest Magazine published in this country.—Over $40,000 has been already expended to bring it to its present high degree of merit.—The publishers are determined to give it the LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE WORLD. With this view they make the following Magnificent Offers. And they refer to every subscriber now on their books as to the fidelity with which they fulfil their obligations. TERMS: Single Copies, - - - - $0 25 Subscription, per year, - - - 3 00 Clubs, of three or more, each - 2 00 Any one sending a Club of FIVE subscribers, with the money, shall receive, by mail, his choice of either of the following magnificent Steel Engravings, viz: THE LAST SUPPER. Any one sending a Club of FIFTEEN subscribers shall receive his choice of any four of above engravings. Any one sending a club of TWENTY subscribers shall receive ALL of the above engravings, and a copy of the Magazine for one year, gratis. This splendid offer will enable any one, by a very trifling exertion, in getting subscribers, to obtain as FINE a COLLECTION of RARE WORKS OF ART TO ADORN HIS PARLOR, as can be obtained anywhere for TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS, cash. Young gentlemen and young ladies, all over the country, are invited to get up clubs on above terms. Postmasters, and other respectable persons who may desire to act as Agents, and to receive a CASH COMMISSION instead of the above liberal offer, are authorized to forward us subscribers at the above named prices, deducting twenty per cent. for their trouble.—The engravings will be sent in rotation, in the order in which the Clubs are sent in. FIRST COME FIRST SERVED. In addition to the above unparalleled offer we now announce that where parties do not form clubs and that where their names are not sent in clubs, that SINGLE SUBSCRIBERS SENDING THE AMOUNT SET opposite to each of the above Engravings, shall receive by mail the Engraving chosen and one copy of the Magazine for one year. Some of these engravings are of THREE times the value of those offered by the old ART UNION, and all of them are better and of more intrinsic worth than any engraving ever offered by any "Gift Enterprise" or "Art Association." "The Last Supper," and "The City of the Great King," should adorn the walls of every Clergyman and scholar in the country. No such offers as these were ever made before—there is no "chance," in the matter no "LOTTERY," no gift enterprise, no humbug. We call upon Clergymen, Postmaster travelers, scholars, and all who are interested in the success of American Literature and Art, to avail themselves of these generously liberal offers. In addition to all of the above, any one sending a dollar and a half extra ($1.50), shall receive the twelve back numbers of the Magazine from January, 1859, forming a PERFECT SET of the "GREAT REPUBLIC" MONTHLY from its commencement. All subscriptions invariably in advance, and no deviation from above terms. No further instructions necessary to those coming clubs or to Agents. Give name and Post Office address in full. All sums over three dollars should be sent by draft, if convenient. Money by mail, properly authenticated at our risk. Postage stamps and all current bills received at par. The Magazine is for sale by all news dealers in the United States and Canada. The trade supplied at Publishers' prices, by BOSS & TOUSEY, H. FEXTER & CO., R. M. DEWITT, HENDRICKSON BLAKE & LONG, in New York, and by all the large dealers in the principal cities. SEND IN YOUR CLUBS. Specimen copies sent upon the receipt of 25 cents. The engraving will be sent on rollers, prepaid, or by express. OAKSMITH & CO., Publishers, 112 & 114 William St., New York, and JOB WORK of all kinds a and not shortest notice and in pressed females me, have come a which pains you so
