THE BRANCH ROAD.—The newly elected Board of Directors of the Ebensburg and Cresson Railroad Company met on Monday last, effected an organization, and appointed the following officers:

- Treasurer, JOHN WILLIAMS, Esq.;
- Secretary, A. C. MULLIN.
- Committee on Finance, EDWARD ROBERTS, EDW. SHOEMAKER, JOHNSTON MOORE, JOHN WILLIAMS.
- Committee on the Road, MATTHEW M. ADAMS, A. A. BARKER, AUGUSTINE DURBIN, GEO. J. RODGERS.
- Committee on Accounts, ABEL LLOYD, RICHARD CLARK, ROBERT DAVIS, JAMES S. CLARK.
- Solicitors, R. L. JOHNSTON, WILLIAM KITTELL.

Through the kindness of Thomas Collins, Esq., the President of the Company, we have been permitted to publish the report made to the stockholders, at their annual meeting, on Monday, the 9th inst. We will remark, in connection, that the finances of the Company have greatly improved since the report was read:

Report of the President and Board of Directors of the Ebensburg and Cresson Railroad, submitted to the Stockholders at their annual meeting, held the second Monday of January, 1859:

The Ebensburg and Cresson Railroad Company was duly organized on the 30th day of May, 1859, in compliance with the provisions of the 3d section of the General Rail Road Act. Prior to the organization, the Commissioners named in the act of incorporation secured the services of George W. Leuffer, Esq., an engineer of eminent ability, who, assisted by Messrs. Barrett, Noon and Fenlon, made the necessary surveys for the road; reports of which were laid before your Board and approved.

Your Board of Directors, deeming it prudent that an interview should be had with J. Edgar Thomson, Esq., President of the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company, in regard to that Company putting on the superstructure of the Branch road, in the event of its being graded, therefore instructed the President to that effect; and he, in company with one of the stockholders, called upon Mr. Thomson for that purpose. A report of that interview was made to the Board, and it being satisfactory, they instructed the Engineer of the Company to advertise for a letting; and on the 29th June, 1859, the work from section One to section Ten, inclusive, was let to a responsible contractor.

The report of the Engineer, herewith submitted, will show the cost of grading the whole line, the amount of work done, and the amount yet to be accomplished. Thus:

Estimated cost of grading the whole line, &c.,	$41,648.00
" " work done,	20,830.00
Leaving to be done,	$20,818.00
It will be remembered that this estimate of the Engineer embraces the section passing through Ebensburg, and not yet under contract.
From the statement of the Treasurer, herewith submitted, it will be seen that the receipts from Stockholders, on 549 shares subscribed to the capital stock of the Company, was, on the 31st day of December, 1859: $11,355.46
Amount loan from Camden Bank, 2,953.00
Total,	$14,308.46
And that the Treasurer has made disbursements for the Company as follows:
Amount paid on construction,	$11,907.90
" Engineer Corps,	1,333.88
" Right of Way,	715.00
" Letters Patent & Charter,	104.00
" Books, Stationery, &c.,	134.00
" Damages and Appraisers,	67.98
" Incidentals,	79.74
" Treasurer's Commission,	143.42
Total,	$14,485.92

It will thus be seen, that, while the Contractor has only been paid about Twelve thousand dollars, there is work done to the amount of about Twenty thousand dollars; in fact, more than one half the entire line is graded. The work was let on most advantageous terms to the Company, the contractor agreeing that thirty per cent. of the whole amount should be retained in the hands of the Company until the completion of the work. By this arrangement, the Company has succeeded in having a much greater amount of work done than had been anticipated before the grading, under the most favorable view that could be taken of it.

The President and Board of Directors deem it a fitting occasion, to impress upon the Stockholders the importance of promptly meeting their instalments as they become due. It must be evident to all, that, if the proper effort be made on their part, there can be no doubt about the early completion of the road; while on the other hand, it is not to be concealed, that, through carelessness and neglect, the Stockholders may suffer the expense to become a failure, and still be liable for the amount due on their subscriptions. There will be an additional subscription of thirteen thousand dollars required to complete the grading of the road, and fit it for the superstructure. The Contractor has agreed with the Board to carry this sum himself, if the remaining unpaid subscription be paid to him as the instalments fall due. This consideration should, of itself, induce promptly on the part of every subscriber, and stimulate him to renewed exertions in behalf of an enterprise of such vital interest to this community. RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED.

THE SLEIGHING.—The sleighing during the past week has really been superb. The tintinnabulation of the bells heard incessantly, and the people seem to be bent on enjoying it while it lasts.

THE EVENT OF THE WEEK.—The Labans who have marriageable daughters had better reverse the paternal and sensible advice given by the venerable Tony Weller to his son Samivel, and never say, "beware of the vidders," but rather of that more dangerous class, namely, the widowers. In our last issue, we had the pleasure of announcing the union of the landlord of the "Logan House," to the amiable and accomplished Miss Thomas; but we were compelled to go to press before their return to Ebensburg. The advent of the happy couple was celebrated by the firing of guns, and other like demonstrations of congratulation; but all this was completely thrown in the shade by the performances of the evening, when the whole town seemed to devote itself to the reception of the hospilities of "mine host." By consent of all, the table was most richly laden with all the good things that town or city could supply; everything in the eating line was in profusion; nor did it seem less plenty when all the guests, numbering about one hundred and seventy-five, were filled to the full. The Ebensburg Brass Band, being present, played some of their choicest airs; when Isaac and his lovely bride appeared, and bid all welcome. After the banquet was disposed of, a meeting was organized by calling R. L. Johnston, Esq., to the Chair, and appointing Col. Hasson, Secretary. The President stated the object of the meeting in a few brief and appropriate remarks, and was followed by Col. Hasson, C. D. Murray, Esq., Dr. Geo. R. Lewis, and others.—The cheers which greeted the speakers as they respectively took their seats, showed plainly that their remarks were very pointed, and told with effect upon the assembled multitude. Mr. Thos. M'Brien now complied with the wishes of the party, by singing in his own inimitable, unapproachable style, "The Salier Boy, just nineteen years of old." Major Osterloh, of Hollidaysburg, followed in the beautiful song entitled "The Bivouac"—sung in a style in which only the Major can sing. Mr. Crawford and lady again made their appearance, when Mr. Barrett sang "The Pope," accompanying it with his guitar—almost excelling himself, and bringing down repeated applause from the guests. After several other songs, among which Richard Morgan, Esq., introduced his favorite—

"I told her I would marry her, But never told her when," the company separated, well pleased with the evening's entertainment, and fully impressed with the opinion that "Isaac" never does things by halves.

DEAD HEADS.—Several of our exchanges, we perceive, have expressed their determination to hereafter charge for all obituary notices exceeding five lines, at the rate of five cents per line. This will have the effect of considerably abridging the sometimes inconvenient length of such notices, besides giving everybody an equal chance of having his virtues blazoned forth after his demise—providing he's got the "spelter" to pay for such favor. "A man or woman," it has been observed, "must have lived to little purpose if some friend cannot be found who will invest a trifle in doing honor to departed worth." Yes; and if a man has no friends, he can easily make provisions in his will for a "puff." Would it not be a good idea for those editors to get up some kind of a printed agreement, binding themselves for and in consideration of the sum received, to give the holder a "complimentary notice" immediately on his exit from this vale of tears? They'd sell like hot cakes. With regard to the preparation of these obituary notices, an exchange says it will be taken for granted that this service is concluded in the foregoing charge of five cents per line, and presumes that an order for the insertion of such notice will be something like the following:

MR. EDITOR:—My wife Mary died very suddenly last night. Please make the announcement, and give her a puff to the amount of the enclosed dollar.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN SMITH.

BONNETS.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce writes that the winter bonnets are all much larger than those worn during the past year; the form is open at the side, and comes forward over the forehead; the curtain is moderately wide. A mixture of two colored velvets, or of velvets and satin, is the predominant style; there are two pairs of strings, one pair very wide of a narrow taffetas, of the same hue as the satin.—Black velvet bonnets are often edged with white silk, which is covered with a double row of blonde; the ornaments consist of a bouquet of black and white flowers, placed on the left side of the bonnet and with a plait of black velvet inside above the forehead, and a full blonde cap.

"WHAT I LOVE."—The following beautiful lines, from the pen of one of the accomplished daughters of Ebensburg, and written expressly for The Alleghenian, we publish with pleasure:—

I love the seasons of the year:
Oh, how I love the Spring!
When little birds, our hearts to cheer,
So musically sing.
When buds anew begin to swell
On every bush and tree;
As if each trying to excel—
More beautiful to be.
I love the bright clear summer days,
When the majestic sun
Shines forth with such effulgent rays—
I love them every one.
Autumn I love, though dismal, drear,
And leaves all fade and die;
Though birds and flowers disappear,
And gloomy is the sky.
Though winter follows closely on,
I dearly love them both:
They teach me that I'll soon be gone,
As leaves of human growth.
Thus heavenward my heart ascends,
Like spirits that have fled,
Of many dear and loving friends
Who slumber with the dead.
Though rigid, cold, yet most sublime,
Are winter's budding trees;
They point me onward to the time
My soul from hence shall flee.
EBENSBURG, Jan. 11, 1860. M. H. C.

SNOW SONG.—The following morceau, which we find floating about in the sea of exchanges, will, we are confident, be fully appreciated by those of our readers who are fond of a beautifully conceived, faultlessly versified, and reasonable bit of poetry. It is a gem of purest ray serene:—

'Tis Winter! and no more the bees,
Buzz among the budding trees;
And while the boy with ragged trowsers,
Shivering, homeward drives his cowse,
Nearly frost-bit are his toes,
And, bless my life, how cold his nose is!"

OUT AND IN.—On Thursday last, Geo. J. Rodgers, Esq., who for two years has faithfully served the people of Cambria county in the arduous and responsible office of County Treasurer, gave way to his successor, John A. Blair, Esq. It is admitted on all hands that Mr. Rodgers made an excellent officer, and we know Mr. Blair will show himself in every way worthy to wear the mantle of his "illustrious predecessor."

MARRIED.—On Thursday, the 12th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, in Allegheny county, Pa., by the Rev. Dr. Marshall, Rev. RICHARD J. EVANS, of Ebensburg, Pa., to Miss SARAH F. WOODS.

DIED.—In this place, on Friday, the 13th inst., Thomas, infant son of David and Ann Lewis, aged about 5 months.
