as we have seen lately: "DEAR EDITOR :- Everything about here is so greasy and oily, it is with extreme difficulty that I can write at all .-My pen slips out of my fingers; there is an oily seum on the ink; the paper is fairly transparent, and I slosh around in my chair in a deuced unpleasant manner. Patience and perseverance (sweet oil is unnecessary here) will, however, overcome many obstacles. "I arrived here at a very late hour last night, on an oil train, and might as well have come on train oil, as we were 16 hours behind time. All trains are behind time here, I learn, owing to the accumulation of oil on the track at this end of the road. The oil fries out of the ground and lubricates the rails for a great distance. We shouldn't have arrived here at all if the passengers hadn't got out and sprinkled the track with eigar ashes.

"I slipped out of bed (nobody 'arises' here; we all slip into bed and slip out) at an early hour this morning, and began investigations. I found a section embracing fourteen thousand acres of land, chuck full of oil springs. "Drilling is unnecessary here, as the oil boils up in springs, sometimes to the height of twenty-five feet, and is caught in tin pails as it comes down. On a hot day, I am told, it is no unusual thing to see the women frying doughnuts in these jets of oil. The balls of dough are dropped into the jets, where they are allowed to toss about like corks in a fountain, until they are fried by the heat of the sun.

"The only species of tree which abounds here is the slippery elm. These trees are so slippery, a squirrel can't climb them without dipping his paws in Spaulding's Prepared Glue, a small bottle of which he always carries suspended about his neck. There are a few maple trees here, but no sugar is made, as nothing but oil runs out when they are tapped.

"There is one considerable sized creek running through Trumbull County, which is all oil. It was discovered a short time ago in a singular manner. Three boys went in bathing, and when they came out were so greasy they couldn't stay in their clothes. As fast as they slipped them on they would slip off again, and one of the lads, in a heedless moment, narrowly escaped slipping out of his skin. On reaching home, their parents, being exceedingthree boys! Fact. A company are erecting a factory on the banks of this river, preparing to dip candles in it.

"The principal amusements here are climbing greased poles and catching oiled pigs, the necessary appliances being constantly on hand. Sliding down hill is popular among all classes during the summer months. This is effected without sleds, on a hill of solid tallow, just back of the tavern.

"There was a thunder-storm this afternoon, and the electric fluid ran down one of those slippery elms I told you of; I was treated to my first view of 'greased lightning.' It is quite common here, they say. Thunder is divested of all its harsh intonations, by the minute particles of oil which fill the air and grease the wheels of Jove's noisy chariot.

"If any of your readers think I have 'cut it fat' in this letter, let them visit the Oil Springs and see for themselves."

MILWAURIE BRICKS .- One of the most singular wagers we ever heard of, says the Buffalo Courier, was made in Chicago on the day before the municipal election in that city. The bet was between a Water street merchant and Ned Obsorne of the Tremont House, the largest cigar and tobacco dealer in the city, and was to the effect that if Wentworth was not elected. Obsorne should have the chant aforesaid, from the Tremont House patch. to Springer street. The day after the election, the merchant having lost, came to Osborne's store, and presented his person to him for the contemplated kicks, and demanded that Osborne should take the stakes. Osborne had been training his right leg all the previous day, and had armed his foot with a heavy cowhide boot, with soles as thick as two clapboards. The merchant started up by the Tremont, Osborn delivering a heavy kick as he started, but drewback his foot with a spasmodic action and paroxysm of countenance absolutely pitiful. He tried another one, but the looser flinched not, and he kept on his way undisturbed by the volley he had received. The result of this was worse than the first, and he fairly curled up on the ground and howled for pain .-The merchant stoope I and calmly inquired: "Why don't you take the stakes?" "What have you got in the basement of min't within a mile of Springer street yet." Osborne subsided, paid the champagne, and has been wearing a list slipper ever since.
