EDITORIAL ETCHINGS .- The question of the election of Superintendent of Common Schools seems to have created a general interest, and much rivalry for the State. The following are the names and Rex. silaries of a few of the lucky ones who Byme Tully were elected to fill the post in adjoining Forsy ounties: John Mitchell, Esq., of Holli-Kyth aysburg, Superintendent for Blair coun-M Go y, with a salary of $600 per annum; Jesse Same Same Broomal, Esq., Superintendent for Clear-Same field county, with a salary of $578; Rev. Same S. P. Bollman, Superintendent for Indiana Jones county, with a salary of $500; Robert Mc- Forsy Divitt, Esq., Superintendent for Hunting-Arue don county, with a salary of $600. The Paul Superintendent elected in this county is Ager Maj. Thomas A. Maguire, with a salary of $800 ---- A man named Jacob Wagner, a resident of Chest Springs, met with a severe accident at that place, one day last week. He was engaged at work in a steam saw-mill, and by some means, his hand coming in contact with the saw, two of his forefingers were torn off. The wounded members were dressed by Dr. Strohecker, and the sufferer is doing as well as possible.---Our friends the "Calthumpians," individually and collectively, ake umbrage at the statement recently made in a neighboring journal, to the effect that they were laboring under the inspiration of large quantities of small beer during the occasion of making their debut as musicians. Under the imputation of eting as gentlemen they are content to ie, but the beer they can't stand. Come lown, neighbor, ----- Our friends over the way, D. J. Evans & Son, have recently intend setting out trees : If people, when ad their store building repainted and transplanting trees, would mark the north therwise rejuvenated, so that it looks as side of the trees before they are taken up, good as new, if not a little better. A | and when set out to have the tree put in udicious application of paint well laid on, with its north side to the north, in its nawould, as a general thing, improve the tural position, a larger proportion would appearance of our houses, and also add live. Ignoring this law of nature is the much to the beauty of our town.----Chapter XII of the History of Cambria county gives a true and authentic list of the various officers who have served in a public upacity from the time of its erection up 1854. It will be useful as a matter of reference.----On our outside this week will be found an original poem, entitled "Time's Footsteps." All lovers of the cautiful should read it .-----Clark Wilson, Esq., editor of the Indiana Messenger, and James F. Campbell, Esq., editor of the Blairsville Record, have been appointed deputy marshals to take the census of Inliana county .---- A little boy named Tucker, living in Indiana, was recently so injured by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of another boy, as to cause his death in a short time. Another warning to those who are accustomed to suffer loaded fire-arms to lie around loose. -About the only good thing that is Faid to have resulted from the pugilistic encounter between John Bull and Young America, is the impetus it has given to all kinds of athletic sports and exercises .--Look along the street, anywhere, and you Will see boys, and sometimes men, engaged an innocent bout at sparring, or in running, jumping, hopping on one leg, standng head downwards, and sometimes varyg the bill with a neat little skrimmage, -all calculated in an eminent degree, to expand the chest and develop the muscle. Where's the Mountain Cricket Club?----See advertisement in another column of D. McClees & Co. Persons sending orders to the city will probably do well I recollecting that they are in the ring. -Nothing has yet been heard of Daniel Jones, the man we mentioned last week ^{s having so mysteriously disappeared. It} has been ascertained that he was last seen eading to Wilmore, and that he was coniderably under the influence of liquor at he time, but nothing further definite has ranspired. It is to be hoped that the systery that surrounds the affair may soon e penetrated. ---- The card of J. M. Jones, 1. A BOQUET .- We are fond of flowers, and when we state that we were made the recipient, on Tuesday, of a magnificent boquet of early wildwood flowers-fresh and beautiful flowers, and arranged with an eye single to taste and artistic merit,we wish to be understood as having been agreeably surprised.

"Wildings of nature, or cultured with care, Ye are beautiful, beautiful-everywhere," but more beautiful than ever did ye seem in this particular instance. Their intrinsic value is also greatly enhanced from the fact that the donor is a fair and blooming young lassie-more fair and beautiful, even, than the flowrets. Many thanks.

VARIETY HALL .- The other day, we made an examining tour through the extensive establishment of Davis & Jones, and were really astonished at the large stock of saleable goods on hand. Every variety of dry goods, groceries, readymade clothing, hardware, queensware, hats and caps, boots and shoes, iron and nails, and in fact anything and everything you could name, can there be bought at the very lowest figure. The enchanting and I suppose no other class of men are politeness with which goods are exhibited, and the prompt attention given to all orders, are sufficient to draw a crowded house, while their low price-list is a standing theme of admiration. Give them a call, and secure bargains.

WORTH KNOWING .- The following hints, which we take from an exchange, may be of advantage to those who may Local Correspondence.

WILMORE, MAY 18, 1860. TO THE EDITOR OF THE ALLEGHANIAN :---If you will give me a small space in your columns, I will tell you where we live, and some of the particulars about our quiet little village. Geographically, we are situated about nine miles south of your place, and somewhat lower horizontally; otherwise we claim equality-the most that can be asked in America. Not being an old inhabitant of this place, I cannot decide the question of morality; but consider the charge as generally brought against us at least very uncharitable, and will at present contend LIST OF CAUSES .- We have heretofore that we compare favorably with our sister towns. Therefore, considering ourselves O. K. on that point, I will to another side of the prism. We have but few young ladies, and, fortunately, no fast young men; but we have some good and steady vocations, which, of course, are not very diversified, yet sufficient to occupy our junior members. Our business men are of the first stamp, and thoroughly prepared to dispense any business. The principal trade, however, is that of lumbering, which is carried on to a considerable extent. All kinds of said article-but principally that termed "hard wood," such as ash, cherry, poplar, &c.,-are shipped > from this station. The shipments are generally made to the eastern cities, but some occasionally go westward. The shook trade is extensive, and the amount made, sold and shipped from this place form a large item in the money arrangement of the country. We have a few of the real old Yankees amongst us, who are enterprising men, and have the chief control of the stave and shook business, so well qualified for it. The mercantile department is large and diversified, and I fear too much so for the good of our community, as so many inducements are held out to buyers, that in many cases, extravagance is the result, although those who are the actors in the matters should know better than myself, and to their consideration I leave the matter. Our agriculturalists I cannot commend very highly, though they promise better in the future. Their farms have, until a late

A NEW IDEA .- "Walking parties"gatherings of young ladies and gentlemen who, instead of meeting in-doors to pass an evening, take a promenade in the open air-are said to be becoming the rage .-Wouldn't the plank-road be just the thing for such pedestrians! We can hardly imagine a more delightful spectacle than it would be to see every marriageable young lady in town with each a gallant in tow and a pair of C. R. Jones' unequalled walking-shoes on foot, making the initiatory move for this purpose. It would be the concentrated essence of sublimity.

NEW GAME LAW .-- A new game law was passed by the late Legislature, imposing a fine of five dollars on any one killing a quail, pheasant, or woodcock, between January and October, and in case of non-payment, the offender goes to jail three days for every offence.

THE WEATHER, since our last issue, has been extremely wet, damp, and unpleasant. Rain fell almost incessantly bout four miles down the plank-road from Wednesday of last week up to Monday, and the streams are very high.

getting on small "kegs," and not unfrequently large ones, and also establishing a peculiar propensity for lying under shadetrees, (but whether this latter dodge was natural or acquired, or was according to the administration, I am not prepared to say.) Such, heretofore, was the character given them. But those habits are undergoing a change, and the farms in every direction are being renovated, and it will tell in our markets shortly.

Leaving the above individuals to pursue their respective occupations, I will turn for a while to a few local items. We have had very high water here for a few again in the morning, and found everything safe after the ablution.

Gardens and gardening form the principle topic; and as far as heard from, their yield, together with that of the orchards, promise to be abundant, providing always that A. J. Frost does not too soon visit us with his withering hand. We pray and hope for the best, which, together with the great amount of faith we possess, we think will keep him away. Some little improvements are going on. Two new store-rooms had been erected within the last month, and fully stocked with the necessaries of life. Good health is generally prevalent throughout the vi-
