MISCELLANY.

ADVICE TO THE FINANCIERS.—There is no question of a doubt but that the recent election in Pennsylvania settles the Presidential question and places Abraham Lincoln in the Presidential chair.—Our New York mercchants and financiers may as well look this fact fairly and squarely in the face, for no other version can be placed upon the result in the Keystone State. The best thing that they can now do is to lock their money up in their vaults and keep it out of the hands of the politicians. The Republicans need no funds or speakers, and their opponents cannot change the result with the fortunes of a Rothschild. The fact is up, gentlemen, look at it as you will,—N. Y. Herald.

THE PRINTER.—Although the printer may be standing at his case all day, yet in his own way he is a great traveller, or at least his hand is, as will be seen by the following calculation:—A good printer will set 8,000 ems a day, or about 24,000 letters. The distance traveled by his hand will average one foot per letter, going to the boxes in which they are contained, and of course returning, making two feet for every letter he sets. This would make a distance each day of 48,000 feet, or nine miles, and in a year the hand would travel about three thousand miles!

☞ A young lady who was rebuked by her mother for kissing her lover, justified the act by quoting the passage: "Whatsoever ye would that men do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

I do not desire to sell any of my territory on this, but will furnish Carriages, Buggies, Sulkies, &c. &c. I propose to accommodate Carriage-makers with Wheels (or hubs and spokes) on reasonable terms. These Wheels are fast superseding all others.

FOR SALE—One good new light double sett of WAGON HARNESS by

Aug 25,1859.-tf G. HUNTLEY.

AN APERIENT and stomachic preparation of Iron purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice. The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions, indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innocuous in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Leucorrhœa, Torpid Circulation, Scrofulous Tuberculous, Pale Rheum, Mucous Secretions, Whites, Chlorosis, Lower Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Tongue on the Face, etc.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute diseases, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, on trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bedridden as to have become burdensome to their own neighborhoods, have unexpectedly reappeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are recorded of female sufferers, execution victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, nautical changes, and the complications of nervous and dyspeptic avergate to starve and exercise to kill the physician has no answer.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old Chalybeates, it is not astringent, without being exciting, nor overheating and costly, regularly aperient effects often the most obstinate cases of constipation without ever failing a gentle purgative, or inducing a sanguineous congestion.

It is this latter property among others, which makes it so remarkably effective and permanent a remedy for Piles upon which it also appears to exert a controul and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, but unattended with severe nervous complaints, a single bottle is often sufficient to set the most inveterate cases, restoring the appetite and digestion.

Recent hectic fever, even when advanced to Pulmonary consumption, is frequently checked in the first stage, and cases that have been regarded as hopeless, have been equally successfully treated.

In the final gradations of flesh and strength, debilitating cough and night sweats, which generally indicate Pulmonary Consumption, this remedy has always the effect of relieving and palliating, in several very gratifying and interesting first steps.

In Scrofulous Affections this medicated Iron has been found of the most essential service in the most confirmed and inveterate cases of scrofula, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to the virtues of this preparation, in the various peculiarly afflicting forms.

In Rheumatism, in its chronic and muscular forms—in the latter, it seems to operate—it has been found to act like a charm, both as alleviating and curing in the most inveterate cases.

In Jaundice and other diseases of the liver, it has been found to act with great efficacy, and in the various Eruptions of the skin, as Tetters, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Carbuncles, Scurvy, Itch, Scald Head, Ulcers, Sore Eyes, Sore Legs, Fever Sores, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, &c., &c., it has been found to act like a charm, both as alleviating and curing in the most inveterate cases.

In Intermittent Fevers, or Fever and Ague, it has been found a great remedy, and in the treatment of this class of diseases, so prevalent in the Western States, it will be found a valuable remedy, as it has been in the hands of many practitioners of the West, with great success, and in many cases where the Fever and Ague has become complicated with Liver Complaint, Dropsy, &c., it has been found to act like a charm.
