EBENSBURG.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15.

Governor's Proclamation.

FELLOW CITIZENS.—The revolutions of the year have again brought us to our annual festival of Thanksgiving to Almighty God. In no preceding year have we had more abundant cause for gratitude and praise. The revolving seasons have brought with them health and plenty. The summer fruits and the autumn harvests have been gathered and garnered in unwarmed exuberance.

Under this conviction, I, WILLIAM F. PACKER, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby appoint THURSDAY, the TWENTY-SIXTH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, to be observed as a day of public Thanksgiving and prayer.

By the Governor, WM. M. HEISTLER, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CAMBRIA COUNTY REDEEMED! Official Returns.

Below we publish the vote of Cambria County at the late Presidential election.—The number of votes given to the Lincoln Ticket was received by every electoral candidate on it; so with the Bell and the straight Douglas Tickets. The vote given to the Reading (Loco-Foco or "Fusion") Ticket, is that received by Richard Vaux:

Table with columns: Name, Reading, Bell, Douglas Straight. Lists names of various regions and their respective vote counts.

The "cutting" was confined entirely to the Reading Ticket, one of its candidates (George M. Keim) running as low as 1643 votes; and a few others in a similar ratio.

The Republicans, therefore, have the following majorities over the Reading Ticket:

Table showing vote differences: Over the highest, 491; lowest, 624; average, 269.

—This is glory enough!—so we stop calculations. If any of our Loco-Foco friends wish to pursue the subject, they can do so. They will find it a most delightful task—a work profitable as well as interesting.

Old Abe has a 'large and respectable' majority over the whole kit and caboodle of them! Sound for Old Cambria! Three cheers for Little Cambria! Three cheers for Republican Cambria! Hoor-aa-a! Glory! Hallelujah-ram-m-m-m!

The Overthrow of Loco-Foco-ism.

Well! the great struggle is over. The battle has been fought. A glorious victory has been won. The sixth of November will be a day long to be remembered. It is true, we gave the enemy such a terrible thrashing on the ninth of October that we had almost forgotten that we had another duty to perform. We have fought but little since the October election, because we could find nothing to fight; at any rate, nothing sufficient to make fighting interesting. Yet, notwithstanding all this, the Republicans of Pennsylvania turned out en masse and buried up what little pro-slavery bunkum had been left in the old Keystone State.

The thing is settled. Republicans are to rule for the next four years. Honest and good men, fresh from the people, are to be substituted for the tools of the slave power.

No doubt South Carolina will remember the days of Old Hickory, when her chivalric sons were marching the streets of Charleston swearing vengeance upon the whole country, and threatening to immediately secede from the Union unless their demands were acceded to.

Let South Carolina now cry nullification; let Virginia raise her twenty-five thousand minute men and send them to Washington to hinder the inauguration of Lincoln, as she has threatened to do; let Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi cry secession and disunion; let the New York Herald and other Democratic papers of the free States join in the cry; let the Loco-Foco friends of the slave power in this and other States join in the crusade against the rule of the Republican party if they please; let them marshal their forces in battle array—but they will soon hear in thunder tones the voice of Old Abe breathing out threatenings and slaughter against every one that dares raise his hand against the government; and when his verdict has gone forth, the clamor of disunion and discord will be as easily quelled as in the days of Nullification.

Republicans of Pennsylvania! there is a good time coming. The Augean stables are to be cleansed all over the country.—Peace and prosperity are again to shine upon our nation, and the people will again enjoy a season of repose from the storms of slavery agitation which have been thrust upon us by the Slave Oligarchy.

Republicans! let us maintain our proud position on the right of the great army of freemen, and march with a steady tread, keeping step with the music of the Union. Let the cheerful notes of victory, which come floating upon every passing breeze, cheer us on, remembering that unborn millions will rise up to bless us, and rehearse the long, long contest which finally gave victory to freedom.

gravely pretends to tell his readers (as well as "the rest of mankind") the reason of the defeat of the Democratic party, and very earnestly calls upon Democrats to leave off fighting and commence loving each other as they used to do.

But since the election has passed and Abraham Lincoln has been elected, a slight change comes over the spirit of their dreams. They have ascertained that the North is not to be bullied or frightened into the support of measures which they may deem antagonistical to the welfare of the country.

But, in the midst of all this folly, we are glad to see that there are still some men and a few newspapers in that section of country that raise their voices against the almost universal shriek for disunion.

At the meeting of our convention, a gentleman from this end of the county presented himself as a candidate for Register and Recorder, and it was then charged openly against him that he was not a member of our party, but a Democrat.

The following are the reported majorities at the late election as far as heard from. We will publish the official returns as soon as they come to hand.

Table titled 'The Result.' listing majorities for various states: Maine (25,000), New Hampshire (10,000), Vermont (25,000), Rhode Island (5,000), Connecticut (10,000), New York (40,000), New Jersey (3,000), Pennsylvania (75,000), Ohio (40,000), Indiana (25,000), Illinois (15,000), Michigan (25,000), Wisconsin (15,000), Iowa (15,000), Minnesota and Oregon (probably Republican).

The following table shows the vote that will be received by Lincoln and Hamlin in the Electoral College:

Table titled 'The Electoral Vote.' showing electoral college votes for Maine (8), New Hampshire (5), Vermont (5), Massachusetts (13), Rhode Island (4), Connecticut (6), New York (35), Wisconsin (5), Total (163).

The richest man in Great Britain is the Marquis of Westminster, whose annual income is about $7,000,000—about as much as the whole estate probably of Mr. Astor, the New York millionaire.

Save the Pieces!

As our readers well know, ever since the campaign which is just over was inaugurated, loud threats have been heard coming up from the Slave States—threats that if the freemen of these United States dared choose Abraham Lincoln to be their Chief Ruler, they would march an army of Southern chivalric spirits to the National Capitol and prevent his inauguration.

But if they can't do one thing, they can do another, however. They can secede—they think. That would not be so much trouble as the other, besides being less risky.

NEGRO VOTE IN OHIO.

Among the many false stories circulated by the Loco-Foco press is the one that the Republicans carried Ohio at the October Election by means of the Negro vote.

The Cincinnati Gazette states that the colored population of Ohio numbers all told 23,257 of these, 12,691 are males, and of the males there are only 5,827 over 21 years of age, and goes on to say:

By the Constitution of Ohio, no male white males over twenty-one can vote for the supreme court decided that a negro has but half blood, was white; consequently, if the judges of elections should decide that a light-colored negro was less than half, they might admit him to vote.

Now the number of this class is not one-third of the whole amount, and of the 5,827 colored males over 21, no more than 2,000 could possibly vote.

It is a legal right to vote. Judge Bracken's clear majority of the entire vote was 13,004. If, then, every colored voter in Ohio had voted the Republican ticket, the Judge would still have had a white majority beyond that; and if every one voted for him who had a right, he would have 14,000 maj. But, so far from this, we challenge all the impression of elections in Ohio to show that there had colored men actually voted, or that two hundred voted the Republican ticket.

When we state that half the colored population of Ohio are in the counties of Hamilton, Ross, Franklin, Pike, Fairfield and Gallia, and one or two others, where a negro voting would subject him to being mobbed it will be seen what an incredible amount of calumny, ignorance or lying is involved in Mr. J. J. S. S. S. S. S. S. S.

DELAWARE.—Slavery is very near its end in the little State of Delaware, and the nearer it approaches complete extinction, the greater is the prosperity of the State. The aggregate population has increased, between 1850 and 1855, from 91,882 to 212,347.

But the state population has decreased, during the same period, from 2290 to 1895. The population of Delaware is but little over one-third that of Philadelphia, and there are several counties of the interior that contain as many, or nearly as many inhabitants as she does.

She has her representative in Congress, who, in a Presidential election in the House, would have a much weight as the whole delegation of Pennsylvania; and she has her own senators, who have as much weight as those of any other State.

It is not the influence of Delaware, in the national councils, has been on the side of Slavery. In the gradual extinction of the institution her own borders, and in the steady growth of the Republican party there, we see the signs of the coming time when Delaware will be working heart and hand with the neighboring States of the North.—The Alleghenian Bulletin.
