

LOCAL ETCHINGS.—A company has been formed to bore for oil in the neighborhood of Blairsville. Miss Louise E. Wickroy is to deliver her lecture on the "Poetry and Poets of America" at Hollidaysburg, this evening. The Johnsburg "Ingleside Circle" has been revived for the winter. The Standard, in noticing our remarks about the paucity of the newspaper practice we mentioned couldn't have prevailed for any length of time, or that the trees haven't inclined as the twigs were bent! Which means that our growth of hanks have become considerably warped from the original juvenile intention. If that editor should ever chance to visit the "mountain village," we would suggest that he come incog. after that.—The season for buckwheat flippers is upon us. The principal ingredient of this truly delicious compound, we are sorry to say, is rather scarce and very high-priced in this country.—Judge Jones, of the Register, says that he is not an applicant for the post-office at Hollidaysburg.—A large bear was captured on the Penna. railroad recently under most singular circumstances. The animal attempted to cross the track directly in front of an advancing train, but the cow-catcher struck him and several wheels of the cars passed over him, separating his left fore-leg at the shoulder. The unlucky brute was afterwards despatched by the engineer.—We learn that Mr. John A. Blair has disposed of his right, title and interest in the line of hanks to Mr. David Brawley. In the hands of Messrs. Palmer & Brawley, the hanking community will yet be safe.—M. M. Jones, of the Quaker city, has returned to the mountain to put in the holidays amid the friends and associations of his early years.—A sufficiency of snow will enable strangers to come and go on runners during the entire week of Court.—Whissel, the up-town baker, has opened out an oyster saloon, where those who desire can have the bivalves dished up in metropolitan style. Go and see.—If it would not be asking too much, we would greatly desire to see the continuation of the series of interesting papers known as "Pencilings at Sea." The few chapters which were published in the early stage of the existence of our paper attracted much attention. Can't the "Citizen of Cambria County" continue his narrative, and let the readers who journeyed with him as far as he went know what became of him after his adventure in the Lockport, Chokey, Jug, Calaboose, &c., of the city of Gibraltar? By all means, yes.—"A penny saved is a penny gained," and those who purchase goods from C. R. Jones save from twenty to fifty per cent. It is now reduced to a dead certainty that the aforesaid C. R. J. sells boots and shoes, hats and caps, ready-made clothing, &c., that stand the test of competition. Therefore, look to No. 1 and patronize him.—We were made the unwilling recipients on Monday last of a tremendous storm of rain that lasted throughout the entire day.—The shoes were the go, pro tem.—The snowing is still magnificent in this neck of woods, and all manner of horse-flesh are now in for it from the word "go!" Some are to roam o'er the dark sea's foam—we prefer sleigh-riding.—The late census has developed the fact—the grand fact—that our Mountain County, in point of population, now outstrips her neighbors. Blair, Bedford, Clearfield, Huntingdon, and Somerset are in the background when compared with us, but Indiana and Westmoreland still lead us a few. Hurrah for Alleghania—Little Cambria no longer—but one of the top bricks of the column.—We hear it rumored that quite a romantic wedding was perpetrated in our jail last week. We have no authentic particulars.—The attendance at Court this (second) week is not large—indeed it is extremely thin. Quite a number of cases have been disposed of.

KANSAS JUSTICE.—The Hollidaysburg Register states that one William E. Thompson, who murdered Andrew J. Rodrigue in Kansas in the spring of 1858, has at length been arrested, and is now confined in the jail at Lawrence to await his trial. The circumstances of the case are familiar to our citizens. This is certainly tardy justice, as Thompson has been lurking around Leecompton ever since the commission of the crime. Young Rodrigue was a son of Dr. Rodrigue, who at one time resided in our town, and we trust that his murderer will receive his deserts.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—We have received the January number of Peterson's unrivalled Magazine. It is, indeed, as the editor says in his prospectus, "better than ever"—and everybody knows that it was good enough before. For splendid fashion plates, interesting reading matter, good receipts for the table, toilette, and sick-room, music, miscellany, &c., Peterson is unrivalled. Terms, $2.00 per annum for single subscribers. We will furnish Peterson's Magazine and The Alleghanian to those who so desire at the extremely low figure of $2.75 per annum. Send to Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut st., Philada., and get (gratis) a specimen copy. GET THE BEST DETECTOR.—It is very essential that business men should get a Counterfeit Detector they can rely on. We have no hesitation in saying that the publication of this kind is Peterson's Counterfeit Detector and Bank Note List. It is corrected by Drexel & Co., and contains much valuable information regarding bank notes. In fact, a man who handles paper money should never be without it. It is published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, 306 Chestnut st., Philadelphia, to whom all letters should be addressed. Terms, $1.00 for the monthly or $2.00 for the semi-monthly issue. FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS.—We have received from the Cosmopolitan Art Association, per Geo. W. Oatman, Esq., agent for this place, the superb engraving entitled "Falstaff Mustering his Recruits." It is a magnificent production of art, and is alone worth all that a subscriber pays to become a member of the Association. The public can rest satisfied that by sending three dollars to the Secretary, C. L. Derby, they will receive a full equivalent. For particulars, consult the agent and see advertisement elsewhere. THE AMERICAN DOLLAR MONTHLY.—Almost every person has heard of "Emerson Bennett's Dollar Monthly," published by Messrs. Bennett & Hamelin. Well, Mr. Bennett has withdrawn from the concern, and Mr. Hamelin, who has slightly altered the name of the magazine, is now sole publisher. This is one of the best and cheapest publications of the kind in the country. Terms, $1.00 per annum.—Address John L. Hamelin, 144 South Third street, Philadelphia.

VANITY FAIR.—This is the name of the great, original, unapproachable, high old comic paper of America—the progressive Pamphlet of Western civilization—the thing, and no mistake. Price, (weekly) $3.00 per annum. Louis H. Stevens, 113 Nassau st., New York, Publisher. FARMER AND GARDENER.—If any of our readers are interested in agricultural matters, and like to read sound, practical, common sense remarks on the same, they should subscribe for the "Farmer and Gardener." Terms, one dollar a year.—No. 19 North Sixth st., Philadelphia. THE ALLEGHANIAN.—$1.50 in advance—$2.00 at the end of the year. THE WIDE AWAKES.—Several of our Loco-Foco exchanges are bothering themselves exceedingly about what is to become of the Wide Awakes, with their oilcloth capes and caps and tin lanterns, now that the election is over. We can enlighten our cotemporaries. After having achieved one of the greatest political victories on record and created an entire revolution in our national affairs as did Garibaldi in the affairs of Italy, like that great hero they will return from whence they came for the present with their blushing honors thick about them. The caps, capes and lanterns will remain as mementos of the rock upon which the Democracy founded. We would likewise add that at least one of Abe Lincoln's original rails will be carefully cherished as being eminently suggestive of the condition in which the Loco-Foco party now finds itself—in a split stick.

COURT.—We are compelled for want of room to omit the publication of the proceedings of Court last week. The cases were principally of a trivial nature, and would hardly interest the reader.—We may or may not publish an abstract of them next week. John Lee, charged with the murder of Charles Watkins, in Johnstown, in last September, was acquitted. ENIGMA.—I am composed of 3 letters: Erase my 1, and you have a preposition. Place my 2 before my 1, and you have the opposite of nature. Transpose me, and you have a black, oily substance. Take me as I am, and you have an animal of the genus Mus. [Answer to last week's enigma.—"The Ebensburg and Cresson Railroad."] FOR SALE.—A fine double-barrelled English shot-gun. Inquire of C. R. Jones.

EBENSBURG, Dec. 8, 1860. To the Editor of The Alleghanian: In your last paper, your correspondent, ANNETTE, endeavors to disparage the time-honored institution known as Leap Year, and says that it was manufactured expressly for the benefit of "faint hearts" of the masculine gender. In this I think she is mistaken. Leap Year, as I take it, is a great and enlightened improvement on the O. S.—one step, at least, for the bettering of the social condition of our sex. I will give you an instance as to how Leap Year is emphatically and unmistakably the thing. Suppose the subscriber were to be made the object of special attention by two admirers, one of whom would be execrably forward in his devoirs and the other sensitively diffident. Imagine, likewise, if you please, the forward one to be positively insufferable to me, and the timid one vice versa. The one is too self-important to discern my sentiments in his case, and the other will never give me an opportunity to unburden my heart. Now, am I to allow the former to hug the delusive fancy to his breast that I care for him, and must I consent to see the latter retire from a field he has already won?—Forbid it, Cupid! Shades of Hymen, no! Leap Year gives me the undoubted privilege of walking right up to him and saying: "I love you—lovest thou me?" If he faints, it is likewise my privilege to bring him to, fierce moustache and all. This is one particular in which the Bissexile is superior to the common Civil year. Very truly, &c., LULU.

EBENSBURG, Dec. 10, 1860. To the Editor of The Alleghanian: In your last issue you make mention of a few of the benefits that result from a right improvement of time, and also give a hint with regard to attending literary associations. As Ebensburg is signally deficient in societies of this kind, I would suggest that our young folks organize a reading circle similar to the "Ingleside" of Johnstown. By so doing they might find useful and agreeable employment for many a weary hour during the long winter months. Q.

It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars. The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America. A CARD.—WITNESS THE BRIDGE, LANCASTER Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON, GENTLEMEN.—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Burt, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. The fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK. A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 304 Chestnut st., Philadelphia.
