AN AWFUL MURDER.—A correspondent of the Columbus (S. C.) Times gives the following melancholy illustration of the uncertainty of types. A young gentleman by the name of Conkey having been united by the holy bonds of wedlock, sent the marriage notice, with a verse of his own composition, to the printer for publication, as follows:
"MARIED.—At Gosham, July 28, A. Conkey, Esq., Attorney at Law, to Miss Euphonia Wiggins, both of Gosham.
"Love is the union of two hearts
That beat in softest melody;
Time, with its ravages, imparts
No bitter fusion to its ecstasy."
Mr. Conkey looked with much anxiety for the issue of the Gosham Sentinel, in order to see his name in print. The compositor into whose charge the notice was placed happened to be on a spree at the time, and made some wonderful blunders in setting it up—thus:
"MARIED.—At Gosham, July 28, A. Donkey, Esq., Attorney at Law, to Mr. Euphonia Wiggins, both of Gosham.
"Love is an union of two hearts
That beats in softest melody
Time with its ravages imparts
No better food to a starry deity."
Phancy Mr. Alexander Conkey's phee-jux!

A DARING LAWYER.—Van Arman, the leading counsel for Mr. Burch, in the great Illinois divorce case, is a man of rare ability. He is the gentleman who, a few years ago, cleared, at Detroit, a woman on trial for the murder of her husband.—It was charged that she administered poison in small cakes, three of which he ate during his speech before the jury. It is said that the jurists were not fairly in their room before he rushed out of the building and threw from his stomach the poison. He knew that while a small dose would kill, a large dose would act as an emetic. Mr. Van Arman was counsel in the case of Jumpertz, for the murder of his mistress, at Chicago, a year or two ago. That Jumpertz was poor and without friends, Van Arman devoted himself to the defence with untiring energy at a cost to himself of many hundred dollars. Jumpertz was condemned. Van Arman moved for a new trial, which was ordered after the gallows had been constructed for the execution and in sight of the condemned man, and on the new trial Arman succeeded in making the jury believe he was innocent, and they accordingly acquitted him.

SECESSION BONNET.—The Charleston Mercury gives the following description of a bonnet worn by a South Carolina lady:
"The bonnet is composed of white and black Georgia cotton, covered with a row work of black cotton, the streamers ornamented with Palmetto trees and Lone Star, embroidered in gold thread, while the feathers are formed of white and black worsted."

What would our Lincoln ladies think of a distinctive bonnet of Connecticut corn cobs, trimmed with pumpkin vines, and ornamented with wooden nutmeats?

The Western Penitentiary contains 227 inmates.

D. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS & IRON

AN APERIENT and stomachic preparation of Iron purified by Hydrogen, Saturated by the highest medical authorities, and in Europe and the United States, and prescribed by their practice. The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions, indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Impurities in all fluids, in which it has been tried, it has proved to be a powerful and curative in each of the following complaints, viz: In Debility, Nervous Affections, Excitation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoea, Dropsy, Inflammation, Catarrhus, Scrophulous Tuberulous, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Typhoid in the Third Age.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute diseases, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, on trial of this Restorative has proved successful to an extent which is scarcely credible. Invalids so long bedridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very singular instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of appetent nervous, sanguineous exhaustion, and in many cases, the result of long continued and disordered menstruation, and in cases for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the iron salts, it is equally tonic and aperient, and its action is both heating and purifying, regularly exerting its effect in the most obstinate cases of constipation, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disagreeable sensation.

In this latter property, among others, which makes it so particularly efficient and powerful in the treatment of the above mentioned complaints, it is especially adapted to the treatment of the female sex, by its power to excite and regulate the menstrual system, and to induce a healthy and regular course of menstruation, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disagreeable sensation.

In Dyspepsia, particularly in its chronic form, a single box of these Pills, taken after meals, has been found to be the most efficient remedy. In the case of the female sex, it is especially adapted to the treatment of the menstrual system, and to induce a healthy and regular course of menstruation, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disagreeable sensation.
