

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A Home Guard has been formed at Johnstown. Patriotic—red, white and blue aprons, as worn by the ladies in some sections. The Star Spangled Banner has been thrown to the breeze from the cupola of the Catholic Church. The growing peach crop in this neighborhood is said to be completely nipped in the bud. The laying of the iron on the Eb. and Cresson Railroad will be commenced in a few days. The erection of Ben F. Williams' plating-mill is progressing finely. It will be under roof in a few days. The citizens of Indiana county are endeavoring to organize a regiment, to take part in the approaching struggle. The members of the Blair County Medical Society have tendered their professional services, gratis, to the families of volunteers. That's the talk. The dwelling-house of Mr. Pat. Bracken, in Conemaugh township, together with its contents, was destroyed by fire on Saturday week. Those in need of boots and shoes, hats and caps, ready-made clothing, etc., should go to C. R. Jones' immediately, and secure bargains. The publication of the Johnstown Echo has been suspended for the present, owing to the disturbance in our national affairs. Sorry to hear it. A. J. Rhey, a clerk in one of the departments in Washington, has returned to his home in this place. He reports Washington City as being quiet when he left it. We have received, but too late for publication this week, a communication from the County Superintendent, James M. Swank, relative to the "Common Schools." It will appear in our next issue. S. W. Ambiser, a member of one of the Blair county military companies, was severely injured by the accidental discharge of a musket while the troops were lying at Cokeysville. He was brought home. The "gentleman with the handcuffs," whom we noticed last week as having been committed to jail, was removed to Huntingdon county on Friday last, to answer a charge there preferred against him of forgery. Since making some few observations on "Spring" in another column, the weather has taken a sudden veer; and now sleet and snow have the field. Snow on the first day of May!—that will do; no more, thank you. We are informed that the agents of the "Mutual Oil Company" of this place, who are boring for the carboniferous compound in Western Virginia, recently tapped a five-barrel jugular. We are glad—and so doubtless are the members of the company—to hear this. Our contemporary, the Blairsville Journal, classes our much esteemed neighbor, the Democrat, as a "Secession Journal," and says that it still hangs out the "Rattlesnake Flag" and encourages rebellion. Although the course of our friend is oftentimes exceedingly scaly, we think that in the matter of Union vs. Disunion he is eminently sound. But speak for yourself, Johnny—set yourself right on the journal. It is reported that while a number of persons were raising the Stars and Stripes at Camp Curtin, a few days since, a large eagle came from no one knew where and hovered over the flag and sailed majestically over the encampment while the flag was being run up! We are informed that on Friday night three small belts or circles, of a Red-White-and-Bluish tint, were plainly discernible around the moon. And on Monday night a brilliant meteor arose in the heavens in the north, took its way southwardly, and exploded. If we had lived in the days of 'lang syne,' these incidents would be regarded as glorious omens. It appears that we were slightly premature in saying last week that the Cambria troops had got through to Washington. They took the cars for that point at Harrisburg, in company with several other regiments, on Saturday night, 20th ult., but proceeded only as far as Cokeysville, fourteen miles east of Baltimore. Here they found the railroad bridges destroyed, and further progress impeded. They were preparing to force their way through the city, when they received further orders from headquarters. They encamped at Cokeysville until Monday night, when they returned to York, where a permanent camp has been established. They are yet at that place, in good health and spirits, and "spiling for a fight."

WAR MOVEMENTS.—Since our last issue, the war excitement, but not the enthusiasm, has materially lessened in our midst. The irrepressible outburst of patriotism has had its utterance, and in its stead now reigns a determination and a desire to maintain the Union and Constitution at all hazards and to punish Treason as it deserves. Our citizens are deeply imbued with a spirit of patriotism—of love for country. They are for the Union, the whole Union, and nothing but the Union, and they are unalterably opposed to all attempts to annul the Federal compact under which we have all lived and prospered so many years. To protect the one, and prevent the other, they will offer their lives on the shrine of their Country's Good. Our military company, the "Cambria Guards," now number some 90 men.—They are a noble, good-looking body of men, and will do honor to Little Cambria in the "tented field." They drill daily, and are already become quite expert in the exercises. The company expect marching orders in a day or two. WILMORE.—The Wilmore company has received its full complement, and is now ready to march. Wm. H. Gardner is elected Captain, and George Rushaberger First Lieutenant. The following are the military companies from Cambria county that have been accepted and sworn into service: Washington Rifles, (Hemlock.) Capt. White. Johnstown Infantry, Captain Lapsley. Zouave Cadets, Capt. Power. Citizens' Guards, Capt. Linton. Allegheny Guards, Capt. Easty. —A second company is being formed in Ebensburg, to be called the "Mountaineers." SPRING!—So Spring is here at last—ain't it? We have actually had a week's fine weather! Weather that smacks of chip hats, no coats, and wilted shirt collars; weather that brings right to one's mind anticipation of a good time coming, for instance, trout-fishing, ice-creaming, buggy-driving, moonlight-promenading, serenading, and all such nonsense. In short, weather when you can make garden, or walk abroad without danger of catching that inevitable "cold in the head." And with it cometh hosts of blue-birds, myriads of robins, and armies of frogs. Likewise, blue-bottle flies, crickets and grasshoppers. We may add that Winter is demised. He is gone—for a few days—and we are all agreeable. His was a long, stern reign: Summer's rain will be pleasant and agreeable—perhaps. Spring is here! And the tiny blades of grass shoot vigorously upward, and the delicate cabbage-plants can almost remain out at night without being covered. The peach-trees put forth their fragrant blossoms, and other trees prepare to get ready to commence to do ditto. "The flowers appear on the earth, the time for the singing of birds is at hand," but "the voice of the turtle is not heard in our land," for the reason that turtles don't grow here. Lastly and finally—Spring is here! the delicate-footed May, With its slight fringes full of buds and flowers; And with it comes a wish to be away, Wasting in wood-paths the voluptuous hours. JOHNSTOWN.—A correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch, writing from Johnstown, says; "Four companies of volunteers have gone from this place. There are four more enrolled. The talk at present is that there will be an encampment located here. It is only about thirty-six hours' march from the Virginia line to this place." OUR BOYS ABROAD.—Lieut. James C. Noon, of the Citizens' Guards, has been appointed aid to Col. Minier. Wm. Linton has been elected First Lieutenant of a company formed from the overplus of other companies, at Camp Curtin. G. W. Brown is serving as corporal in Dick White's Rifles. The Johnstown Zouaves, Infantry and Guards belong to the Third Regiment, composed as follows: Six companies from Blair, three from Cambria, and one from Allegheny—of which Minier, of Blair, is Colonel, and Power, of Cambria, Lt. Colonel. DIED.—At her residence, in Altoona, on Sunday, the 21st ult., CORNELIA HARLAN, wife of E. E. Cruiger, Esq., and daughter of E. A. and Cornelia H. Vickroy, of Ferndale, near Johnstown, in the 22d year of her age. MARRIED.—At Mersey, Madison county, Illinois, on the 9th ult., by the Rev. E. M. West, Dr. J. C. MARTIN to Miss JENNIE GADD, both formerly of Johnstown. —Reading matter on every page.

CHEST SPRINGS, April 23. To the Editor of The Alleghanian: In pursuance of a call of many citizens of the borough of Chest Springs and vicinity, a meeting was held in Green's Hall, in this place, on the evening of the 22d inst., for the purpose of raising a volunteer corps for Home Protection, and also to assist in maintaining the families of those who have volunteered in the service of the Federal Government from this place. The meeting was called to order by appointing Henry Nutter Chairman, and T. J. Nelson and Wm. Allen Secretaries. On motion a Committee of three to draft resolutions was appointed. M. D. Wagner, Esq., Dr. B. F. Tomb and T. A. Durbin were appointed said committee. Whilst they were absent, the meeting was addressed by Wm. Allen, Frank M. Pike, T. J. Nelson, A. W. Green, Jos. Mann, Jas. Longwell. A stranger by the name of White, who was suspected of being a secessionist, was called upon, and willingly addressed the meeting in a most beautiful and patriotic speech, fully vindicating himself from the foul stigma of being a traitor. John E. McKenzie next addressed the meeting in a strong Union speech.—The committee on resolutions having returned reported the following: Whereas, Our country has been involved in civil war, our flag trampled upon, our laws set at defiance by traitors, and our fellow countrymen murdered in the discharge of their duties in defence of the Stars and Stripes of our country, therefore, Resolved, That we do hereby form ourselves into a Home Company to protect the flag of our country, and maintain our rights against all usurpers. Resolved, That we do also see that all families and persons that may need any help in consequence of our citizens going to defend their country in the time of need, shall be supplied with the necessities of life during their absence. Resolved, That we do hereby form ourselves into a company, and bind ourselves one to another, in all emergencies of life, liberty and property, to stand by our country's rights. The foregoing resolutions were unanimously adopted. On motion of M. D. Wagner, the meeting adjourned to meet on Thursday, the 24th inst., at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing. HENRY NUTTER, Chairman. THOS. J. NELSON, Sec'y. WM. ALLEN, Sec'y. [A correspondent informs us that the citizens of Chest Springs are enthusiastically in favor of upholding the honor of our flag, and that some thirty of them have volunteered their services to do battle for the Union. The Town Council at a recent meeting requested all loyal citizens to throw out their colors, and the glorious "Stars and Stripes" now float from every dwelling house in the village—save one. Our correspondent adds: "It looks quite patriotic to see the Stars and Stripes floating in the breeze from every available point in town—save and excepting the aforementioned solitary shanty.—The surrounding country is also beginning to respond to our country's call.—Chest Springs will give a good account of herself." CARROLLTOWN, April 29, 1861. To the Editor of The Alleghanian: I had the pleasure of attending quite a large and patriotic meeting at Cherrytree on Saturday last, and as your readers may feel an interest as to how the cause of the Union is progressing in the "Pines," I send you a brief outline of what they have done and are doing. About four o'clock in the afternoon (of the 27th ult.) a model pole, one hundred feet in height, was firmly planted, and from it was thrown the proud Flag of our Country—one of the most beautiful of the many banners I have yet seen. It was presented by the noble and ever-patriotic ladies of the village.—A meeting was then organized, over which Mr. John Huston presided, assisted by numerous Vice Presidents. It was addressed by almost all of the prominent men of the place, who uttered only the unmistakable voice of the people—"A free and undivided Union," and to secure that blessing—"The laws must be enforced." But not here did they stop. They determined that they too would share the glory of maintaining the honor of our Government, and about forty noble young men walked up and signed their names, promising to respond in person to the call of their country. They were ably addressed by the Presbyterian minister. Another meeting was to be held in the evening, at which more would probably join the ranks. Had the citizens who have gone down the river with rafts been at home, the requisite seventy-seven would doubtless have been easily secured. I noticed several members of the Ebensburg company present, one of whom delivered a brief address. A "Home Guard" was also formed, embracing the entire male population of the village and vicinity. CALEB SMITH ON THE UNION. OILIANA, April 30, 1861. To the Editor of The Alleghanian: So they've goaded us into this squabble, have the South. They've gasconaded, and taunted, and worried us into action. They've struck, and the heavy tramp of a half million of armed men plainly indicate that we will strike back: that the blow will be returned with interest. At last—the lion of the North has been aroused. Years upon years of wrong and injury have done the work. A day of reckoning is coming. The issue is made up: Liberty and Union against Anarchy and Slavery. And wo unto him who is found arrayed on the side of the Wrong! Treason's head must be lopped off effectually and close to the roots. Then will Reason remain. And God will be with us. Out here we have cut loose from everything savoring, even, of Treason. We have tabooed "Dixie," indeed the man who would put on record his desire to be "Away down South in the fields of cotton," would be astonished at the gratuitous imputes he would receive toward assisting to that point. That somewhat ancient and tolerably worn-out Southern melody concerning one "Dandy Jim ob Karoline" is likewise enthusiastically refrained from being sung. These, I believe, are about all the songs ever written in or concerning the "South." We have organized a Home Guard: to take care of Home Secessionists—Traitors we call them. When a man is proven guilty of affording "aid or comfort" to the enemies of the Government, we immediately give him six hours to put several miles between himself and loyalty: if his memory is treacherous and he forgets his hour of grace, he receives a gentle reminder in the shape of a coating of tar laid on after the old-fashioned manner of dipping candles—to which is affixed a quantity of feathers by way of variety. And then— Oh!—Lor-dill! but it's fun!! To see the rascals run!!!! "Desperate diseases require desperate remedies;" and this remedy is very effectual—it don't have to be tried on twice. But I must go and drill my company. We would have been off to the scene of action last week, only we had to brighten up our muskets: and they were very rusty. Ever, &c., CALEB SMITH. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor, and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK. A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 304 Chestnut st., Philadelphia.
