LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE CAMBRIA COUNTY COURT WILL CONVENE ON MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1861.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF OUR COUN-TY .- A correspondent of the Sunday Atlas, writing under the nom de plume of "Our Own," furnishes that paper with a rambling sketch of the towns along the Pennsylvania Railroad between Pittsburg and Harrisburg. We copy that portion of it referring to the eastern part of Cambria county. "Our Own" is evidently a gentleman of taste and discernment, besides having a keen appreciation of the jeantiful in Nature. Read what he says: sCresson, a distance of 103 miles from insburg, is one of the most delightful places or a country residence I ever saw. It is named after one of the numerous family of that name, who have so long honored our A large, well-built and commodious hotel is situated here, which is under the fosring care of William S. Campbell, Esq., of St. Lawrence Hotel, Chestnut street, of our city, a sure guarantee that it is a well ordered and kept house. The springs here are more that 2000 feet above tidewater, and, am told, their medicinal virtues are highly commended by physicians who have been mentted. To the general tourist in search health and pleasure, I would specially recmmend this situation. While gazing upon circuitous and romantic walks in this vinity, I could not but envy those who have enfortunate enough to breathe the vows love amid so much that is lovely and pic-

It took over two ans to complete it, and is considered one of greatest of human achievements. The ry hereabouts is beyond description, and aras or Byron would have weaved sonnets is praise that Italy and Switzerland would veted. O, that some of our citizens seek Europa's shores could gaze on this of loveliness. O, that the pent up deniof our narrow lanes and courts could haglimpse of these magnificent surroundand breathe one hour in that cool, braand invigorating atmosphere is all the a I would wish them for the many ills gs are engendered at this pinnacle, and insignificant uppears man as we gaze on the slopes lined with fir, pine and ice, streams supplied from the gurgling igs that gush forth in lanumerable numfrom this fountain-head of nature. OUR SOLDIERY .- Annexed is a list of e several military companies that have me from this county, together with their aptains, the Regiments to which they ong and the Colonels thereof, the letof the companies, and the Camps at hich they are at present stationed. Our maty subscribers should preserve it :

SHOCKING OCCURRENCE: A MAN CUTS Own THROAT .- On last Friday, a named Andrew Stuby, who resided Varroll township, about two miles from village of Carrolltown, committed suiby cutting his throat with a razor. huse assigned for the rash act is said 6 pecuniary losses growing out of the angement of business affairs. The eased was about 50 years of age, was bried, and had several children. He merly resided at Number Six, this any, and prior to that time, we believe, dollidaysburg.

A volunteer company has been organhin Philadelphia, of which George W. di is Captain and Richard M. Jones at Lieutenant. These gentlemen were he formerly residents of this place. The Scott Legion.

"Be Brave!" the patriot mother said, When direful war's alarms Across Columbia's valleys spread, And called her sons to arms. "Be Brave!" no more heroic word The Spartan mother gave, When at Thermopylæ was heard The din of war-"Be Brave!"

Go forth, ye gallant Volunteers, Though dangers may be rife, To fight for all that man reveres, For 'tis your country's strife. And Heaven propitious smiles on all That die their land to save; A nation mourns you, if you fall-

Then forward, and-"Be Brave!" And whether near your mountain home Your serried hosts shall tread, Or by the wild Potomac roam, Near Vernon's mighty dead :

Or where the saltry Southern sand The sweet Santee shall lave: At home-abroad-on sea, or land, Press forward, and-"Be Brave!" When mothers thus their jewels give Upon their country's shrine, That country cannot cease to live-Her mission is divine. And, Cambria, such thy matrons are!

And where the coward slave Would falter when her virtuous Fair Bids all her sons-"Be Brave !" Ebensburg, May 6, 1861.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN !- It will ! remembered that two months ago o thereabout, Maj. John Thompson received notice that he had been designated as Post Master for Ebensburg borough under the new Administration. Although his commission did not come to hand, it was generally supposed that the appointment was a fixed fact, and that the Major was to be "the man." But-as we have here tofore noticed-about three weeks age, Mr. M. S. Harr, another applicant, received officia! notice from the Post Office Department that he had been assigned the position. Mr. H. immediately filled out the necessary bonds and returned them to the Department. And we thought, of course, that this settled the matter, and that the coveted commission would soon arrive .-But there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip! and we may add, to suit this particular case, that-

You ain't sure of your posish, Until you get your commish. For, last week, Mr. Harr received another P. O. document notifying him that his appointment was revoked.

It may be pertinent to the occasion to state that Mr. Thompson has not yet received his commission.

The question now is, not "Who struck Billy Patterson?" but "Who is to be our Postmaster?"

WELSH POETRY .- "AR RUFEL."-Mr. David M. Davis, of the township and county of Cambria, (in whose integrity we do much confide,) doth herewith expose to publication one Welsh poem, composed by himself expressly for The Alleghanian. The title of the poem is contained in the quotation marks above. Read:

MOB LAW !- AWFUL DOINGS !- We are informed of a decidedly ludicrous circumstance that occurred in a village in this county a few days since, the recital of which may serve to show that the comic is not altogether lost sight of in the matters of vast and serious import that now absorb public attention. A strolling negro minstrel, with banjo in hand, happened to drop into the village before noticed about If you want nice gaiters, go to C R Jones', dusk, intending to put up there for the night. Some b'hoys, however, got hold of him and decoyed him into a shop, where he was requested to cut loose and sing a few, under pain of receiving no drinks .-Of course the son of Ham was agreeable, and melody in torrents soon flowed from his dusky throat. In fact, just such singing and trumming, and such an amount of it, and at such low price per hour, is seldom got outside of the ranks of the organ grinding profession. The performance proceeded swimmingly, until the audience became gorged with a concord of sweet sounds; whereupon they manifested a disposition to bring the re-union to a close. So, at or about the stage when the minstrel, who was singing "Dixie," expressed a wish to be-

"Way down South in the land of Cotton," -the same being a treasonable and unpatriotic sentiment-some of them procured a rope, proceeded up stairs, and by the aid of a convenient knot-hole, succeeded in slipping a noose over the negro's head. One pull was sufficient to convince the victim that suthin was wrong; pull the second brought him up all of a heap; while pull the third caused his eyes to fairly start from their sockets thro' tright. He was now told that he was being punished for affording "aid and comfort" to the rebels-in short, for being a Secessionist-and that he must be hung by the neck until he was dead. But he declared, on the word of a "hon'rble culled gemmen," that he "warn't no Secessionerndeed um warn't." "Fact," said he, "I'd an old unele, as once lived down Souf, who died licking me the other day because I wouldn't say that Jeff Davis was a bigber man nor the irrepressib'l konflict .--Lem'me go!" The appeal was irresistible; his loyalty was fully proven; so he was cut down forthwith. It is rumored however, that he went on to the next tav ern in the next town that same night.

Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN-The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Bar, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, containing all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and represeting a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from
