

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—All those indebted to The Alleghanian for either Subscription, Advertising or Job Work, are respectfully requested to "walk up to the Captain's office" forthwith and settle. The books of the Establishment prior to this date must be closed up. Our Patrons will confer a favor by attending to this matter without further notice. J. TODD HUTCHINSON. 26 Sept., 1861.

From Our Volunteers. CAMP TENNALLY, October 4, 1861. Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

We returned to this place on Wednesday evening from "The Great Falls of the Potomac," where we had been ten days on picket duty. The 11th regiment guarded about seven miles along the bank of the river, connecting with the pickets thrown out by Gen. Banks' division near Edward's Ferry. The river, which in many places is less than a hundred yards wide, alone separated us from the Rebel outposts. The 20th regiment Virginia Cavalry, who were guarding the opposite side, made us a proposition that "they wouldn't shoot at us if we wouldn't shoot at them," which proposition, after consultation, was agreed to by our officers. We soon became quite sociable with our "Southern brethren," and had a gay and happy time of it for a season. But on Monday morning the F. V. S. were relieved by a South Carolina regiment, who immediately changed the order of the day and commenced firing across at us, seriously wounding one of our men.

While the excitement which this occasioned was at its height, a Rebel battery of some six or eight pieces, which was crossing up the river, sent a volley of shell right into our midst, and kept up a brisk and well-directed fire of some fifteen minutes' duration, firing over a hundred pounds of shot and shell. Fortunately, the greater part of the regiment were out of the line of picket and no one was hurt, although many sustained hair-breadth escapes.

We could not reach the enemy with our muskets, and having no artillery at hand were unable to give them as good as they sent. Two pieces of rifled cannon arrived after the Rebels had retired with their battery into the woods, and we fired a few random shots in the direction they had taken, but probably without much effect.

Col. Baker's California regiment (raised in Pennsylvania) encamped near us on Monday night, on their way to Gen. Banks' Division. They are a fine looking body of men, but not so well armed nor uniformed as the P. R. C. They were at the capture of Munson's Hill on last Saturday.

We do not expect to stay in our present quarters much longer. There is some talk of sending us to Missouri, to help fix matters in that region. Should we not go there, we will probably be sent into Virginia shortly.

I think there will be a "forward move" on the part of Gen. McClellan within a few days. We are all tired of inaction, and anxious to be doing something for the great Cause in which we are engaged. Truly, &c., J.

A CAMBRIA SHOOT A SECESSIONIST.—During the stay of the 11th regiment at Great Falls, a member of the Cambria Guards shot a supposed Secessionist under the following circumstances: Our picket guard, who were posted on one side the Potomac, were strictly forbidden to fire on the Rebel pickets, who were on the other side, unless in self-defence or in case of an attempt being made to cross the river.—The first night the 11th was on duty, one of the outpost pickets (Thomas Dumm), of the Cambria Guards, and from this vicinity saw a skiff containing four persons off from the Rebel shore. He immediately commanded them to "Halt!" but attention whatever was paid to the summons. Again he ordered them to "Halt!" with the same result as before. On the third day, the occupants of the skiff, probably feeling themselves called on to say something, gruffly told him to "go to the d—!" As the boat was rap-nearing the shore, Mr. D. felt him-compelled by a sense of duty to fire; and he did with such precision and effect that one of the Rebels, with a groan, heavily from his seat. The boat was immediately put about, and in a few minutes disappeared from view. It was subsequently ascertained, however, that the man to whom this act of stern justice meted out died during the same night. He was a Marylander, and belonged to the Rebel army.

THE CAMBRIA COUNTY FAIR—A COMPLETE SUCCESS.—The Seventh Annual Exhibition of the Cambria County Agricultural Society came off at this place on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, and notwithstanding the many predictions to the contrary, was a success. As many visitors were present as at the preceding Fairs, and the gross receipts were altogether as large as could have been expected. The weather was propitious during the entire three days, and nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the occasion. The attendance during the two first days was not very large, but on Thursday the number present at one time was estimated at something over one thousand. This is almost equal to the palmy days when Peace and Prosperity smiled on our land, and when the Fair was a novelty in our local history. The exhibition in the Stock Department was exceedingly good. Cambria county is famous for her superior horses and cattle, and these she contributed in goodly numbers. The exhibition of sheep, swine, poultry, &c., was also large. The Fruit Department was represented by as magnificent an assortment of mammoth apples, peaches, grapes, etc., as ever regaled the eyes of mortal. The opinion has become prevalent that our climate is too cold for fruit-growing. This is a mistake—no better apples are raised in the State than in Cambria. The list of articles in the Ladies' Department comprised a little of everything, and it would be useless for us to attempt a description thereof. Suffice it to say that all—from elaborate needlework and embroidery down to such matter-of-fact articles as candles and soft soap—were excellent, and reflected credit on the exhibitors. The various other departments were also all well represented. On Thursday, at 3 p. m., the Annual Address was delivered by R. L. Johnston, Esq. Mr. J. gave an interesting and instructive account of the progress of Agriculture in Cambria county, and was attentively listened to by those present.—At the conclusion of his remarks, he was complimented by three cheers from the audience. At 4 p. m., the Female Equestrianism came off. There were but two contestants for the honors, to wit, Mrs. I. Crawford and Mrs. Morris Evans. Both ladies acquitted themselves admirably, and the easy grace with which they kept their seats on their saddles and the skill they displayed in handling the reins showed them to be adepts in the difficult art of horsemanship. The judges were unable to make any distinction between the merits of the equestriennes, and divided the premiums, amounting in the aggregate to fifteen dollars, between them. Two interesting episodes of the day were the Sack Race, gotten up under the auspices of Mr. Griffith Jones, and the Foot Race. In the former some extensive ground and lofty tumbling was performed, to the extreme edification of all who could appreciate such matters. Thus passed the Seventh Fair, and notwithstanding the fact that the Managers had many difficulties to contend with, it was brought to a favorable termination.—Enough money was realized to liquidate all premiums and other indebtedness, and it will be honestly and faithfully applied to that purpose. We can only hope that, should the Society determine to hold another Exhibition, its affairs may be conducted with as much energy and precision as was this one. —In this connection we should add that the thanks of all who attended the Fair are due the "Glosser Band," for the superior music they discoursed for the occasion. They are, individually and collectively, gentlemen and scholars, as well as musicians the superiors of whom cannot be found. JOHNSTOWN ITEMS.—Our Own Correspondent sends us the following jottings:—"The recruiting business still goes on finely in Johnstown. Last week a number of squads were sent on to fill up companies in Col. Campbell's regiment. Quite a number have joined the 19th U. S. Infantry, Capt. Williams. Some twelve young men have also joined a company intended to compose part of Gen. Anderson's body-guard. These latter expect to depart for Kentucky this week."

FIVE DOLLARS REWARD—LOST!—On Saturday, Sept. 28, a Gold Ring, having an Eagle for the device. Said ring is of pure gold, and is worth about $4.25. Supposed to have been lost or the Clay Pike, between Ebensburg and J. Mack's Hotel. The above reward will be paid for its return to the subscriber, in Ebensburg. PETER L. LINTON.

A LAUDABLE UNDERTAKING.—The Ladies of Ebensburg and vicinity, with a patriotism and liberality worthy of all commendation, are now making arrangements to form themselves into an association to furnish our gallant soldiers with good and sufficient articles of wear for the coming Winter. This is a move as well-timed as patriotic, inasmuch as the Government has given notice that the supply of woolen blankets and stockings is not equal to the demand therefor. All honor to the "Maids and Matrons of the Mountain!"—and may they feel doubly rewarded for their pains in the gratification of knowing that they have cast their vote to assist in upholding the Honor of Our Common Country. The attention of our Lady readers is particularly directed to the following bulletin, with the suggestion that they respond favorably thereto: To the Editor of The Alleghanian: Please announce that a meeting of all Ladies of Ebensburg and Vicinity, favorable to the organization of an Association having for its object the manufacture of Blankets and Stockings for the use of our brave volunteers now in the field, will be held at the Union School-House, in Ebensburg, on FRIDAY EVE, 11th inst., at the hour of 7 P. M. Although we may not fight, we can conduce to the comfort and convenience of those who do. Every lady—be she old or young—is respectfully requested to attend. MANY LADIES. CAMBRIA THE BANNER COUNTY.—It is estimated that Cambria county, with a voting population of about 4700, has now some twelve hundred men in the field doing battle for the Union—over one hundred of this number being in the regular service. This is something over one-fourth of all her voters. There are few counties in the State, taking size and population into account, that can come up to the above figures, and we incline to the belief that not a single one can go ahead thereof. In addition, recruiting is rapidly being carried on throughout the county, and the foregoing aggregate will be swelled considerably during the coming months. In view of this flattering state of affairs, we suggest that, in matters pertaining to Loyalty and Devotion to Country, Cambria county is entitled to the credit of being known hereafter as the "Banner County." Does anybody second the motion? Speaking on this topic, the Harrisburg Telegraph says: "Cambria county, tho' not much 'punkins' geographically, is 'some' when it comes to rallying in defence of the Stars and Stripes. No less than eleven hundred of her hardy sons are already in the field, and the cry is 'still they come.'"

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.—We are informed by a friend that on Wednesday night of last week, some malicious scoundrels, with worse than secession principles, committed a series of deprecations on the premises of Mr. George Settemoyer, a respectable farmer in Summerhill township, which for cool premeditation and villainy, almost induces us to believe that we have an organized band of border ruffians in our county. Among other wanton acts, they threw down and destroyed a large amount of fence, laying open Mr. S.'s fields and grain to destruction; tore up the bridges on the plank road near Wilmore, so as to dash to pieces any wagons that might pass in the night; and to crown all, set fire to the school-house on Mr. S.'s land, which, with its contents, was totally consumed! This is not the first time that acts of a similar nature have been perpetrated in that section, and we hope the guilty scoundrels may be discovered and a punishment meted out to them that will effectually deter them from participating in such devilish pastimes hereafter. SOME OF THE FRUITS.—A couple of weeks since, in speaking of the probable completion at an early date of the Ebensburg and Cresson Railroad, we remarked: "And then—hooray!—won't Ebensburg shake herself and spread herself, and take long and rapid strides forward!" To which the Altoona Tribune appends:—"And The Alleghanian might have added—won't her women grow prettier and marry earlier—her babies cry less and grow faster—her 'fast men' drink more and get drunker—and her editors have fewer conscientious scruples about speaking the truth in reference to political opponents!" Hoo-ray again! And won't that be joyful! But as to our women becoming prettier than they are now, or our fast men getting drunker than they do now—the thing can't be did! What a great and wonderful agent Our Railroad will be, to be sure! For good or evil as the case may be!

WHAT IS THE MATTER?—Little Blair, the noble little county which, upon the first intimation of danger to the Federal Capital after the fall of Sumter, threw her citizen soldiery into the field by hundreds and hundreds, and even proposed to take the whole war by contract, with a voting population of 5200 has only five hundred men now in the field! So says the Altoona Tribune. What is wrong? Our sister county, of whom we have long had reason to be proud, can do better than this. We have strong faith that she will ultimately make up for lost time by gallantly coming to the rescue in numbers sufficient to re-entitle her to the high position she occupied at the outbreak of the rebellion. MILITARY.—Capt. Thomas Williams, who is recruiting a company of infantry in this county for the regular army, will leave with his men for Indianapolis on Friday next. This company is destined for service on the famous flotilla that is to descend the Mississippi river during the coming winter. Capt. W. has had excellent success recruiting, and will probably take with him a full company of Cambria county men. TO CORRESPONDENTS.—"Rinaldini": Mr. Lafitte, the far-famed Pirate of the Gulf, was the author of the popular saying that "A thing of booty is a joy forever." Mr. L., although an outlaw and a vagabond upon the face of the earth, is said to have been a gentleman of taste and well-timed liberality. He was a freebooter, but he was also the freest boater of whom we have any definite information. Go thou and do likewise. READERS OF THE ALLEGHANIAN, GO TO C. R. JONES' FOR BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, READY-MADE CLOTHING, NOTIONS, &c., &c. HIS MOTTO IS—"CHEAPER THAN THE CHEAPEST."
