Sons of Temperance.

The 29th day of September last was the nineteenth anniversary of the birth of this flourishing Order. No other organization in this country has ever equalled it in magnitude, in the extent of its jurisdiction, in the number of its members, or the large amount of funds disbursed for the accomplishment of its objects. No other organization has ever existed which has produced so much real good to community, which has carried more joy and comfort to distressed and heart-broken wives and worse than orphan children, which has built up so many happy homes, and has restored to society so many of God's fallen creatures, as the Order of Sons of Temperance. Many thousands of drunkards, who were once wallowing in the filth of intemperance, degrading themselves and beggaring their families, have been reclaimed through its instrumentality.

The Order of the Sons of Temperance is purely American in its origin. In the latter part of September, 1842, John W. Oliver and his brother Isaac, who had taken active interest in the Washingtonian reform in the city of New York, while at work in their printing office, got into conversation about the difficulties which existed in the societies at that time. The Washingtonian societies were all independent of each other, and many of them in time fell asunder for want of some attraction of cohesion. They afforded much charitable assistance to reclaimed drunkards, but adopted no systematic mode of raising and disbursing funds for the promotion of their object. They wanted something in time to secure co-operation, extension and perpetuity; and when these organizations had reached their zenith, if they had not already begun to decline, the Order of the Sons of Temperance was conceived.

During the conversation of the brothers Oliver, several active Washingtonians entered the office. The propriety of forming an organization which would more effectually shield its members from the evils of intemperance, afford mutual assistance in seasons of distress, and elevate their characters as men, was fully discussed and agreed upon by those present.

John W. Oliver drew up a circular, which, after receiving the sanction of the Washingtonian leaders, was circulated, calling a meeting on the 29th of September, 1842. At this meeting, composed of sixteen Washingtonians, they resolved to form, and did form a society, to be called "New York Division, No. 1, of the Sons of Temperance."

From this very small beginning, the Order increased with a rapidity truly astonishing, and it appears, at present, to be a more perfect and efficient organization for the promotion of total abstinence than was ever presented to the American people or to the world. At the present time the Order exists in every State in the Union, and in every territory; also in the Cherokee nation and in Mexico; in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward's Island, Newfoundland, and in Upper and Lower Canada. It has crossed the Atlantic, and the standard of the Order is now raised in the United Kingdoms of England, Ireland and Scotland.

The Saloon Keeper and his Son.

"Pa, what makes these men act so bad here every night?"
"They drink too much whiskey, I suppose, Sammy."
"Pa, don't you think that Tim Brown will die drunk some day?"
"Shouldn't wonder; he is a miserable fellow, almost dead now."
"Well, pa, I have been thinking about Tim all day. When he first came here, last spring, he was well dressed and looked like a gentleman, and his little boy was the best dressed boy in town; they used to have such nice parties for us children, but now, pa, Tim is ragged and his boy almost naked, and Mrs. Brown goes out to wash, and they look so poor that it makes me feel badly to go there."
"Well my son, I don't want you to go there; you had better not associate with such people."
"Father, Mrs. Brown said to me this morning that she wished I could persuade you to sell no more whiskey. She says that a good many men have learned to drink whiskey here. Now, pa, won't you promise me that you will break all those bottles, pour out the whiskey, and sell no more liquor to Mr. Brown or anybody else, for it makes them so poor, and their folks grow so miserable and unhappy?"
This innocent appeal made a deep impression, for the rum-seller loved his child, and his conscience was not altogether dead. He soon after "shut up shop," and both he and Tim Brown are now useful members of society. To vendors of the "distilled damnation" we would say, Do thou likewise.

THE WEEKLY PRESS.

THE WEEKLY PRESS has been established on a secure and permanent foundation; but it is, in reality, a marvellous example of the degree of favor which a rightly-conducted LITERARY, POLITICAL AND NEWS JOURNAL can receive at the hands of a liberal and enlightened Public. The general features of the Paper, in addition to its POLITICAL AND NEWS DEPARTMENTS, will be POETRY, SKETCHES, BIOGRAPHY and Original and Selected TALES, chosen for their lessons of Life, illustrations of History, depiction of Manners, and general merit, and adapted, in their variety, to the tastes of both sexes and all ages. THE LITERARY CHARACTER OF THE WEEKLY PRESS, now universally acknowledged to be of an elevated stamp, shall not only maintain its present high standing, but shall be enhanced by important and valuable contributions from able Writers. THE POLITICAL COURSE OF THE WEEKLY PRESS need not be enlarged upon here. Independent, steady and fearless, it has battled unwaveringly and zealously in defence of THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE against Executive Usurpation and Unfair and Tyrannical Legislation; ever declaring and adhering to the doctrine that POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY constitutes the fundamental basis of our free institutions, and that the intelligence and patriotism of our Citizens will always be preservative of a just, wise and salutary Government. These are the principles to which THE WEEKLY PRESS has been committed, and to these it will adhere.

A CARD.

WITMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN— The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam K. Baer, in Lancaster City on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK. A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 304 Chestnut st., Philadelphia.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE!!

We trust that those who do not now receive THE TRIBUNE will subscribe for it without delay. The club price of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE is so low that there are but few in any community unable to take it. Henceforth, THE TRIBUNE, as the principal paper supporting the new Administration, will be peculiarly interesting, while outside of politics its reliable Foreign and Domestic News, its Commercial and Agricultural Intelligence, and its Literary Department, give to it interest and value which no other paper on this Continent can boast of. How ably and successfully THE TRIBUNE has conducted the campaign now so gloriously ended, the result in New York fully attests, and to the untiring exertions, signal capacity and foresight of HORACE GREELEY is due much of the glory of the victory over which a nation of Freemen are now rejoicing. It is, therefore, the duty of every true Republican to aid in giving THE TRIBUNE a still larger circulation. As evidence of its popularity and reliability, we may state that last week over Six Hundred Thousand copies were sold—a circumstance unprecedented in the annals of journalism.—Guardian and Gazette.
