In Mrr. Hall's book on Ireland, occurs the following passage, which a person will hardly read without emotion : We entered one day a cottage in the enburbe of Cork; a young woman was knitting stockings at the door. It was as neat and comfortable as any in the most prosperous district of England. We tell her brief story in her own words as nearly as we can recall them : "My husband is a wheelwright, and always carned his guinea a week ; he was a good workman, but the love of the drink was strong in him, and it wasn't often he brought me home more than five shillings out of his one pound on a Saturday night, and it broke my heart to see the children too ragged to send to school, to say nothing of the starved look they had out of the little I could give them. Well, God be praised, he took the pledge, and the next Saturday he laid twenty-one shillings upon the chair you sit upon. Oh ! didn't I give thanks upon my bended knees that night; still, I was fourful it wouldn't last, and I spent no more than the five shillings I used to, saying to myself, maybe the money will be more wanted than it is now. Well, the next week he brought me the same, and the next and the next, until eight weeks had passed, and, glory to God ! there was no change for bad in my husband; and all the while he never asked me why there was nothing better for him out of his earnings ; so I felt there was no fear for him, and the ninth week, when he came these six chairs, four for the children and opposite Thompson's Hotel. one for himself; and I was dressed in a new gown, and the children all had new clothes and shoes and stockings, and upon his chair I put a bran new suit, and upon his plate I put the bill and receipt for all of them. just the eight sixteen shillings, the cost that I'd saved out of his wages. not knowing what might happen, and that always went for drink. And he cried, good lady and good gentleman, he cried like a baby, but 'twas with thanks to God; add now where's the healthier man than my husband in the whole county of Cork, or a happier wife than myself, or decenter or better fed children than my own ?"

few days of being due. One morning, the man of whose place the mortgage was held, called and inquired if the payment could not be put off for a short time.

He was a man somewhat advanced in life, and very intemperate. He pleaded for a time, but to no purpose. Overcome with emotion the old mar sank into a chair, and there sat for two hours, apparently unconscious of anything that was passing around him, when a carriage drove up to the door, and a lady stepped from it. She entered the office. After standing a few moments eyeing the old man with interest and emotion, she spoke-the old gentleman looked up.

"Father, how do you do?

"Oh ! Sarah, I am well, but sad. I am glad to see you, but sorry for your aged mother, and invalid sister. I cannot return to them, for it will be to tell them | Tobacco, Segars, Snuffs, and other articles they have no home, and this I cannot do. It will kill your mother."

"Father ! father !" eried the daughter, "could you live a temperate life if this FULE WEEKLY PRESS. were paid? Would you join the Sons of Temperance ?"

"Yes, O yes, I would, but this cannot be, for I have nothing to pay it with."

"Now sign the pledge, and here is the money."

The old man with trembling hand affix. ed his name to the redeeming, the saving pledge, and departed to his home with a happy heart.

That daughter had saved the eleven hundred dollars by working in a factory.

DEATH FROM DRUNKEDNESS .- A lad, about 11 years of age, was recently taken to the 5th precinct station house in Brook-Iva, New York, by a citizen who had found him in a vacant lot stupidly drunk. WITMER'S BRIDGE. Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS, EVANS AND WATSON : GENTLEMEN-The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I jurchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. ' This Safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and represeting a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of Juiy, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the rules, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. ding, but shall be enhanced by important and This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK.
