

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

EBENSBURG AND CRESSON RAILROAD. On and after Monday, May 6, 1862, trains on this road will run as follows:

LEAVE EBENSBURG—At 5.30 A. M., connecting with East Mail East and Express West. At 6.25 P. M., connecting with East Mail West and Express East. ENOCH LEWIS, Gen. Supt.

AS REGARDS THE FOURTH OF JULY.—"Breathes there a man with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said—'This is my own, my native land!'" Kind friends: to-morrow is the "Glorious Fourth"—the natal day of American Independence.

In as much as it is meet, right and the bounden duty of every good American citizen to occasionally afford ventilation to his appreciation of the benign form of Government under which he lives, Or, in other words, to "show his colors,"

And, as this can in no wise be better or more properly done than by rendering due and sufficient observance to our National Birthday,

Therefore, here's hoping you—and every one of you—may have a "good old time" of it, all to yourselves, in accepting and carrying out the principles herein involved.

Fourth of July comes but once a year, and lasts, moreover, only a day. Which are our sentiments.

In the midst of your festivity and general O-be-joyfulness, however, good reader, do not fail to evince, in a suitable manner, your gratitude to the Great Sovereign of the Universe for the many "good and perfect gifts" He hath vouchsafed unto us:

For giving us unity of purpose—as a Nation—as regards the grappling of the great and vital issues of the day;

For introducing distractions and dissensions into the camps of Traitors;

For allowing our National Ensign—that "Flag of the free heart's hope and home, By angel hands to valor given"—to float triumphantly at the head of advancing and conquering armies;

For demonstrating that the "Stars and Bars"—fast colors, seeing they are always on the run—are a vile abortion, a counterfeit and a cheat; that the Stars are by no means fixed, and the Bars only the creature of a distempered and guilty imagination: the whole being strictly unconstituted for "tying on to" any great length of time;

For affording us bright hopes for the present, and fond anticipations for the future;

For withholding pestilence and sudden death from our domains—

Together with many other excellencies that we cannot think of just at present, or, thinking, haven't room to print.

But, by every certainty and without fail, friends, venerate "the Day we Celebrate."

Enjoy yourselves as you see fit—only, see fit to enjoy yourselves.

Go in lemons for the Union, Constitution and By-Laws.

Balmly: the breeze being kicked up in the Indiana papers concerning a treasonable letter alleged to have been written by one Sansom, brother of the editor of the Indiana Democrat, and employed in that office, to a friend in Fulton county.

Among other charitable observations and surmises, the writer says: "I do not despair of the Southern Confederacy. The Yankees will be cut up and routed as soon as they can not use their gunboats.

Old Abe's minions will yet be driven out of the South, and though Fort Donelson and Yorktown and Corinth, and even Richmond, be taken, I will not despair!"

It must be admitted, this is rather strong language. The Democrat undertakes to explain the matter, however, by stating that the obnoxious quotation was written in a mere spirit of badinage and fun, and with no intention of indicating the real sentiments of the author.

The Messenger and American can't see it in this light, and between them, they are having a "gay and happy" snarl over it.

Hope they may settle the matter to the satisfaction of all concerned, without recourse to the usual expedient in such cases of "pistols and coffee for two!"

"ZE AMENDE."—We owe Mr. James Shannon, of Johnstown, an apology. It appears, by the record, that this gentleman, through some auspicious combination of circumstances, succeeded in securing the nomination of Coroner at the late Loco-Foco County Convention—and we failed to so chronicle it in our brief but comprehensive summary of the doings and misdoings of that lamented body.

Mr. Shannon—or, to use a poetical and exceedingly pertinent expression, the "running Shannon"—will therefore please accept our regrets in the premises.

Re-recapitulation: Number candidates on Loco-Foco ticket from Johnstown, 4; Ditto from Ebensburg, 3; Scattering, 1. How are you, "rank and file" of the pa-arty?

POLITICAL.—The People's Convention of Indiana county have nominated Wm. M. Stewart for Congress, Harry White for Senate, and John W. Huston for Assembly.

In Blair county, the People's Convention have nominated R. A. M. Murrie for Assembly. Hon. S. S. Blair secured the Congressional conference.

STRAWBERRIES.—This delicious fruit, the supply of which is quite plentiful in this locality, is just now fully ripened.—They retail in the streets at the moderate swindle of a fig a quart. Strawberries smothered in cream—who would't indulge under the circumstances!

EDUCATIONAL.—On our first page today we print the "Report of the Superintendent of Common Schools of Cambria County for the year ending June 1, '62." It will be found to contain much valuable information.

FIRE!—A frame house, belonging to and occupied by a man named Lily, we are informed, in Munster township, was burned to the ground on Friday of last week. Loss unknown.

EXHIBITION AT LORETTO. To the Editor of The Alleghenian: The exhibition of the pupils in attendance at St. Francis College, Loretto, came off on Thursday last. For the benefit of such as had not the pleasure of being present on the occasion, I herewith give a brief report of the proceedings.

It would be encroaching on your space to enter into elaborate details concerning the different performances, and where credit is due to many it were hardly fair to name a few; yet the talent exhibited by several of the students deserves more than a mere passing notice.

Foremost among the exercises of this class was a recitation entitled "The Maniac," rendered by Charles Shevland.—His efforts in depicting the different passions and emotions which are supposed to actuate the "man gone mad," the contortions of the limbs and features, the different phases of woe, despair, entreaty and fear, won for him the well merited plaudits of a crowded and appreciative audience.

Mr. S. certainly deserves the palm. I was especially pleased with the character of the "Yankee Pedler," in a play bearing the same name.

The singing was excellent, particularly a Dutch song by Mr. M'Hugh, which brought down the house. The music was also very good.

Letter from Johnstown. JOHNSTOWN, June 30, 1862. To the Editor of The Alleghenian:

Another of those disgraceful occurrences which cast a foul blot on the name and fame of a town, transpired here one day last week. The circumstances are briefly these: Two men, named Philip Torpy and Edward Burns, became involved in a dispute, which resulted in a fight.

Burns knocked Torpy down, and kicked him in the abdomen, injuring him severely and rendering him entirely senseless. He lingered in this condition for two days, when he died. An inquest was held, and a verdict in accordance with the above facts returned.

Burns succeeded in making good his escape. These disgraceful street fights are becoming quite too common, and steps should be taken to put a stop to them forthwith.

A Welshman named Evan Evans was found drowned in the canal, near the weighlock, on Friday last. He was last seen leaving an ale-shop on Canal st. at about eleven o'clock on Monday night previous.

Search was instituted on Wednesday, but it was not until Friday that the missing man was found. The verdict of the inquest was "accidental drowning."

A man whose name I did not learn was killed in the mines, on Friday, by a mass of slate falling upon him. This is the second accident of the kind that has occurred lately.

The great managerie paid us a visit on Wednesday, and, as is usually the case with affairs of the kind, attracted an immense crowd to town, principally from the "rural" districts. Lager and gingerbread had to suffer correspondingly.

I am informed the number of tickets sold to the managerie alone reached 4,500. I would like to say a word about the new style of bonnets now being displayed along our streets, but fear of the fair owners almost deters me.

However, those who have not yet had the exquisite pleasure of seeing them can form a pretty good conception of what they look like by imagining the arched or gothic part of a church window set on the front of a small wooden pile.

This comes the nearest of anything I could suggest. Shouldn't wonder if the next agony were an imitation of a church steeple on top of the gothic part. It would look so nice—you know. E.

The Continental Monthly for July is an attractive number. It contains many able articles, a portion of which are devoted to the War and the great questions growing out of it.

It is distinctively American, and bold and progressive in thought and opinion. It deserves a large circulation.

Knickerbocker for July is on our table. It fully maintains the high character for excellence the magazine has always enjoyed, and is, all in all, a tip-top number.

Long may "Old Knick" flourish! DIED.—On Saturday, 28th ult., Mrs. LETITIA EVANS, wife of John Evans, (Carpenter,) of this place, aged about 60 years.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—By Virtue of a Writ of Venditioni Exponas issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Blair County, and to the Sheriff of said county directed, there will be exposed to Public Sale or outcry, at the Court House, in the Borough of Hollidaysburg, on MONDAY, the 25th day of JULY, A.
