THE GREAT STRUGGLE ON THE PENIN-SULA-Pennsylvania Reserves .- Since our last issue, a series of the most terrible conflicts this continent, or, perhaps, any other section of the world, ever saw have been fought. For seven long summer days, the flower of two grand and powerful armies contended together in deadly grapple before the avenues leading directly to the Rebel stronghold, Richmond; for seven days the contest waxed fierce and unequal; but the going down of the sun of the last day of blood illuminated the banners of our successful if not victorious soldiery. Right was pitted against Might, and-thank God !- with the inwas saved, and, in its temporary reverses itself with glory.

of blood ran high, and thousands went forth to their long account. It is admitted on all hands, however, that the mortality in the ranks of the Rebels far exceeded ours, their loss having been set down at as high a figure as seventy-five about thirty thousand.

The main features of this Week of Battles are no doubt familiar to our readers. They all know why we fought, how we fought, and against how many. Suffice it to say, then, that the result is considered in military circles to be a brilliant and entire success for our arms.

Without attempting to detract from the blood-bought laurels of other heroes, we would say a word as to the Pennsylvania Reserves. When their history comes to be written, will it not be said of this splendid corps that their courage and fortitude went far to throw the trembling fortunes of the day in the right direction -that they really saved the Army of the Potomac from destruction? They were in the very front, and for five consecutive days fought with a bravery and tenacity never surpassed by any army in the world. The evidence of the war correspondent of the New York Tribune on this point is briefly as follows: "At intervals, as some point in the line seemed weak, they went sternly into the wooded valley and shalow of death. Not a regiment behaved unsecolly." Even when reduced to half their original numbers, they showed no signs of flinching.

Every Pennsylvanian has just reason to be proud of these chivalrous sons of the Old Keystone. They have fulfilled the hopes and expectations of their leaders and friends, and compelled the admiration of all. Their measure of fame is

The loss of the Reserves was terrible. Gen. M'Call was wounded and taken pris-Gen. Meade was wounded; and it is estimated that from three to four thousand officers and men are either killed, wounded or missing.

-Sorrow and gloom have been cast over this community by the apparently well authenticated report of disaster to Company A, 11th Reserves, Col. Gallagher. This company was organized in Ebensburg and vicinity, and contains within its ranks the hope and pride of the Mountain County. The first rumer in this connection was to the effect that the company had been cut completely to piescribing the incidents falling under his observation that day, writes as follows: "The last we saw of the 11th Reserves, Col. Gallagher, they were fighting, completely surrounded by rebel troops. Of this regiiment, only one company escaped.'

from Indiana county, which, owing to their the fight.

From another source we have the following intelligence:

"Nine companies of the 11th Pennsylvania Reserves were surrounded and taken prisoners in the fight near Gaines' Hill."

Add to this the fact that in a partial list of prisoners captured by the Rebels and now held at Richmond, as published in the Richmond papers, appear the the names of Col. Gallagher, Lieut. Col Jackson, Maj. Johns, Adjt. Robert A M'Coy, (of Ebensburg,) together with eighteen other commissioned officers-all of the 11th regiment-and the presumption becomes violent that the fortunes of war have thrown a large proportion of our brave boys upon the tender mercies of the the rounds as to the probable fate of the company. As no letters have been received here from the soldiers since the battle, these must necessarily be mere speculation, to which but slight importance should be attached. Although the suspense is terrible, let us exercise patience, and hope for the best.

PIC NIC AT CARROLLTOWN .- A Very pleasant pic nic came off at Carrolltown, this county, on the "Fourth," at which | fifteen. > THROUGH PER RAILROAD .- It affords us intense pleasure to be able to state that the Post Office Department has perfected an arrangement with the Ebensburg & Cresson Railroad Company by which the mails to and from this place are now transported over the above road. This is a deeided improvement, inasmuch as our Eastern mail arrives here two hours and a half and our Western mail two hours earlier than by the old dispensation of hacks to Wilmore.

> Postmaster Thompson has issued the following schedule for the government of the Ebensburg Post Office:

Mails Eastward close every day (Sundays (cepted) at 41 P. M. Mails Westward close at 8 P. M. Letters thrown in the Office after these ours will lie over till the next mail.

-The contract for carrying the mails from and between the Post Office and the Railroad was awarded on Monday to Mr. John W. Roberts, at $60 per aunum.

No Paper .- Owing to divers and sundry good and sufficient reasons, all of which it were useless to here refer to in detail, no paper was issued from this office last week. Our patrons, we know, -they being all good fellow-sinners,will readily pardon the shortcoming, and, oner; Gen. Reynolds was taken prisoner; when we say that we-that is to say, the establishment in general and each and every one belonging to it in particularfeel all the better and balmier and business-like-er for a week's holiday, we are also sure they would commend us to a like rejuvenator once every three months at least. Thank you, patrons kind-may you live a thousand years, and grow younger as you grow older!

ROBBED IN HARRISBURG .- A man named Richard Ashcraft, of Susquehanna township, this county, was so unfortunate as to allow himself to be robbed in Harces, commissioned and non-commissioned risburg a couple of weeks since of the officers, privates and all, with the excep- neat little sum of $400. PITTSBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.-We copy the following notice of this excellent institution from the Pittsburg Gazette of the 3d inst:

The Seventh Annual Catalogue of the Pittsburgh Female College has just been PITTSBURGH, PA., laid upon our table by the President, Rev. I. C. Pershing. We confess that we have examined its contents with a degree of satisfaction amounting almost to pride, as our midst one of the most vigorous, well branches, viz: managed and successful institutions in the land. We question much whether one in ten, even of our own citizens, has any real conception of the status the college has reached, or the grand and glorious work it is to day accomplishing. The recent commencement, at which nineteen young ladies received their degrees, gave evi-Various conflicting rumors are going dence not only of woman's capabilities, but also of the superior facilities afforded by the college for their development.— The entire commencement was a brilliant success and reflected the highest honor on all concerned.

In order to accommodate the constantly increasing number of pupils, an addition has been made to the Faculty, which now numbers Among the new ones are Miss Martha C. Dole, a lady of large experience, and for some time a teacher in the celebrated school at Mount Holyoke, Mass., and Miss Fannie A. Fish, who has earned such an enviable reputation in our community .-The utmost care is taken in the selection of teachers, and the present Faculty will compare favorably with any in the country.

We are pleased to learn from President Pershing that an effort is now making to put up an addition to the building. The design is to add 40 feet to the Chapel, divide the second story into a Library and Reading-room, and also a Hall for the Browning association, and devote the enextent of his abilities, and the occasion | tire third story to the purpose of an Art Gallery and Cabinet. If fine buildings, thorough equipment, a very large and able Faculty, and earnest devotion to the work of christian education, can give claims to patronage, then has the college claims which are second to none. We advise our readers to send for a catalogue.
