

How the Enrollment is Conducted—Who are Exempt from Drafting.

The act of Congress under which the President called for 300,000 militia, was passed July 16, 1862, and the provisions of the first section are as follows:

"That whenever the President of the United States shall call forth the militia of the States, to be employed in the service of the United States, he may specify in his call the period for which such service will be required, not exceeding nine months; and the militia so called shall be mustered in and continue to serve for and during the term so specified unless sooner discharged by command of the President. If by reason of defects in existing laws, or in the execution of them in the several States, or any of them, it shall be found necessary to provide for enrolling the militia, and otherwise putting this act into execution, the President is authorized in such cases to make all necessary rules and regulations; and the enrollment of the militia shall in all cases include all able-bodied male citizens, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, and shall be apportioned among the States according to representative population."

Each State has its own laws in regard to the enrollment of the militia force, and these laws generally embody the manner in which drafting shall be carried out, when called for by the National Government.

By the laws of the United States the persons exempted from military duty are the Vice President of the United States; the officers, judicial and executive, of the United States; the members of both Houses of Congress and their respective clerks; all custom house officers, with their clerks; all post officers and stage drivers who are employed in the care and conveyance of the mail of the post office of the United States; all ferrymen employed at any ferry on the post road; all inspectors of exports; all pilots; all mariners actually employed in the sea service of any citizen or merchant within the United States; all postmasters, post riders and drivers of mail stages, assistant postmasters and clerks regularly employed and engaged in post offices. Idiots, lunatics, paupers, habitual drunkards, and persons convicted of infamous crimes, are also exempt.

The enrollment of persons subject to military duty is conducted as follows: The Assessors chosen in each city shall make a return of persons in their districts between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years liable to be enrolled by the laws of the General Government. All those exempted from service shall pay annually the sum of fifty cents. Every person embraced in the military shall receive a notice that he is enrolled. As soon as the roll is completed, the Assessors shall cause notices to be put up in conspicuous public places, setting forth that they have made their roll of persons liable to draft, and that the roll is left with one of their number, where all interested can call and examine until the said Assessors meet to review the enrollment.

Any person claiming exemption on account of physical defect or bodily infirmity, or by the laws of this State or the United States, may, before the day specified in the notice, make an affidavit before some one qualified to take the same, of his exemption, which shall be filed in the office of the City or County Commissioner, and any person swearing falsely shall be liable to a prosecution for perjury. On the day the Commissioners shall meet to review the enrollments, they shall make a certified list of the persons they shall determine to be exempt, and shall file said list in their office for the future guidance of Assessors and Commissioners. The roll is then to be delivered to the County Commissioners at their next meeting, and a copy to the Brigade Inspector of the proper brigade.

After the rolls have been prepared of those liable to service, the requisite number of names are drawn by lot in presence of prescribed officers. The persons drawn are notified and given time to prove themselves exempt, or provide suitable substitutes; failing in which they are compelled to serve, or submit to heavy penalties, generally imprisonment.

A CARD.—
WINTER'S BRIDGE,
Lancaster Tp, July 30, 1860.
MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—
The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R.
Bar, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored.
This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from
me. Yours truly,

and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat
among the ruins, which was greatly increased
confined within the brick walls. After the
papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored.
This fact was, however, to many bystanders
a better recommendation of your safe than
could be expressed in any other words from
me. Yours truly,

Lancaster Tp, July 30, 1860.
MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—
The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R.
Bar, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858,
has been subjected to a very severe test,
which it withstood in a most satisfactory
manner. This safe, containing all my books
together with valuable papers belonging to
myself and some to my neighbors and friends,
and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal
unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat
