

ODDS & ENDS.

Talking to boys in public meetings is getting to be an art and science.

"Now, boys, when I ask you a question you mustn't be afraid to speak right out and answer me."

"Well, where will your fathers be twenty years from now?"

"That's right. And who will own all this property then?"

"Us boys!" shouted the urchins.

"Right. Now tell me did you ever, in going along the streets, notice the drunkards lounging around the saloon doors waiting for somebody to treat them?"

"Yes sir; lots of them!"

"Well, where will they be in twenty years from now?"

"Dead!" exclaimed the boys.

"And who will be the drunkards then?"

"Us boys!"

Billy was thunder-struck for a moment; but recovering himself, tried to tell the boys how to escape such a fate.

A good story and a true one, is told of Gen. Duryea, while he was stationed at Baltimore, as the brigadier commanding.

He addressed a note to a person who had ordered a petty farmer upon his land, some nine miles from town, to haul down the national flag.

The father-in-law of this man, a president of one of the banks, waited on the General to know whether he had written the note.

"No, I am his father-in-law."

"I give you thirty minutes to produce your son-in-law in this office!"

"But General—"

"Thirty minutes, sir, thirty minutes!"

The two came at the appointed time, and the offender confessed that he had committed the offense against the flag.

"You must, both of you, take the oath," said the General, "and I give you, sir, two hours to hoist that flag upon the same spot where it was pulled down."

"But General—"

"Two hours, sir, two hours, or you both go to Fort McHenry!"

The flag went up at the appointed time, and there it floated ever since, and the two are now sworn Union men.

The following beautiful thoughts are from the pen of George D. Prentice:

"There is but a breath of air and a beat of the heart, betwixt this world and the next. And in the brief interval of painful and awful suspense, while we feel that death is present with us, and that we are powerless and he all powerful, and the last pulsation here is but the prelude of endless life hereafter; we feel in the midst of the stunning calamity about to befall us, that earth has no compensating good to mitigate the severity of our loss.

But there is no grief without some beneficent provision to soften its intensity. When the good and the lovely die, the memory of their deeds, like the moonbeams on the stormy sea, light our darkened hearts, and lend to the surrounding gloom, a beauty so sad, so sweet, that we would not if we could, dispel the darkness that envelops it."

A crowd collected around a dilapidated specimen of humanity near the corner of Fifth and Sycamore streets, to ascertain what he had lost.

"O, darn it, I've lost some money," was the reply.

One of the party immediately got a light, and after searching for a long time, he turned to the lookers on and assistants and remarked:

"I don't care a darn for the cent; I just wanted to see where it would roll to."

Yankee escaped a thrashing by using his legs.

"I would I were a buoy again," as the old cask said when they were tarring it preparatory to pitching it into the bonfire.

A CARD.— WITMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN— The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Bar, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK.

A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia.

THE WEEKLY PRESS. THE WEEKLY PRESS has been established on a secure and permanent foundation; but it is, in reality, a marvelous example of the degree of favor which a rightly-conducted LIBRARY, POLITICAL AND NEWS JOURNAL can receive at the hands of a liberal and enlightened Public.

The general features of the Paper, in addition to its POLITICAL AND NEWS DEPARTMENTS, will be POETRY, SKETCHES, BIOG. RAFFAY and Original and Selected TALES, chosen for their lessons of Life, and general merit, and adapted, in their variety, to the tastes of both sexes and all ages.

THE LITERARY CHARACTER. OF THE WEEKLY PRESS, now universally acknowledged to be of an elevated stamp, shall not only maintain its present high standing, but shall be enhanced by important and valuable contributions from able Writers.

THE POLITICAL COURSE OF THE WEEKLY PRESS need not be enlarged upon here. Independent, steady and fearless, it has battled unwaveringly and zealously in defence of THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE against Executive Usurpation and Unfair and Tyrannical Legislation; ever declaring and adhering to the doctrine of POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY; constituting the fundamental basis of our free institutions, and that the intelligence and patriotism of our Citizens will always be preservative of a just, wise and salutary Government. These are the principles to which THE WEEKLY PRESS has been committed, and to these it will adhere.
