THURSDAY.....DECEMBER 18.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

EBENSBURG AND CRESSON RAILROAD.—On and after Monday, November 17, 1862, trains on this road will run as follows:

LEAVE EBENSBURG—
At 7.15 A. M., connecting with Mail East and Phila. and Balt. Express West.
At 1.10 P. M., connecting with Emigrant Train West.

LEAVE CRESSON—
At 10.35 A. M., or on departure of Mail Train East.
At 2.45 P. M., or on departure of Emigrant Train West.

ENOCH LEWIS, Gen. Sup't.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!—Bright hopes are gleaming in the eyes of the "little ones"—the rosy cheeks are becoming rosier day by day! There are signs about—gathering and increasing—that the season of gifts and evergreen garlands is at hand. Santa Claus—patron saint of mirth and contentedness—is preparing his stores, and the shop-windows bear the burden of his reckless extravagance. Here and there a precocious youth anticipates the "good time coming" by suddenly appearing in the streets with a tin trumpet, and he who has tried to forget that the great Holiday annually occurreth, is reminded of its approach by the sharp, cricketing noise of a diminutive rattle. Groups gather about whatever Christmas wares are displayed, and in quiet homes are busy thoughts on what is to be done, what is to be got, and what is to be given, when the joyous occasion comes round. Little Mary and Tommy are wonderfully anxious to know whether the mysterious "Kriss" visits good boys and girls every Christmas eve, and Pa and Ma are persistently questioned as to the habits and pursuits of that venerable and venerated chimney descender. Pleasurable deception—pardonable Kriss!

Christmas is coming! Click! click! goes the pendulum of the clock, and as the moments fly onward, bright festive scenes arise in the distance, and the happy forms in their midst cheer the wintry breast as "anticipation forward points the view." The summer flowers are dead, and cold is the wind that whistles about the cot-gates; yet there's bloom and beauty in the heart, and Love sheds a warmth over the outward dreariness. Youth intakes upon Age the joy of the hour, and to the latter there comes up through memories of Christmases which have gone—never to return. But we sadness can linger, for the coming mirth is pressing onward, and will soon claim dominion over the time, and lo! there's a golden glow about the sunset of life illumining the fondest recollections of the past. "Live as you will, you can," is the reply of Age to Youth; but the young need no such kind encouragement, for they are merry, busy and romping. They feel that joy's own time is approaching, and they revel in the prospect.

Christmas is coming! Good things pretty, bright and pleasant, and too numerous to mention, are coming! The genius of joy and hilariously is coming! Mirth, that wrinkled Care derides, and Laughter holding both his sides, will follow in the train. Christmas is coming!—and glee-ringing voices will hail its advent.

E. & C. RR.—Still another schedule went into effect on our Branch Railroad on Monday. By the new arrangement, the evening train is thrown off altogether—only two trains being now run per diem, the one connecting with the Baltimore and Philadelphia Express trains west and the Mail Train east in the morning, and the other with the Emigrant Train west after dinner. The arrangement is a decided drawback to our traveling community and meets with but little favor at their hands. As will be noticed, one is afforded three chances to go westward and only one to go eastward—a disparity which will fail to be appreciated by those going the latter direction, as well by those coming the former. In case a man goes westward—be the distance great or small—he cannot return the same day, but is obliged to lie over till the next day. The after dinner train, connecting with the Emigrant Train, is but slimly patronized. Had it been thrown off, instead of the evening train—which train, by the way, generally carries more passengers than the other two put together—the arrangement would have afforded better accommodation to our citizens, for whose benefit the schedule is supposed to be constructed, and more general satisfaction. We hope the gentlemanly officials of the road at Altoona may look into the matter, when they will undoubtedly see it in the light we have here indicated.

INFORTANT TO TRAVELERS IN RAILROAD CARS.—A case of considerable interest to the traveling community was tried in our county Court two weeks since. The facts of the case are these: A passenger who wished to ride from Johnstown to Huntingdon, attempted to purchase a ticket at the office, offering a five dollar bill therefor, which the agent could not change. The passenger got on the train, without a ticket, and offered the same note, which the Conductor received, for the purpose of examining into its genuineness. After a time, the Conductor returned the note, stating that he believed it to be a counterfeit. The passenger insisted that the note which the Conductor returned to him was not the same he had offered in payment of his fare, and refused to receive it. It was established on the trial, however, that the note which the Conductor offered him back was the same he had received from him, and, moreover, that the Conductor was mistaken in supposing it a bad note, it being a genuine bill of the Delaware City Bank. The Conductor then told the passenger that unless he could pay with other money he would be obliged to put him off the train at the next station. He manifested unwillingness to go, and there was some difference among the witnesses as to whether the Conductor did or did not use force to eject him. At all events, he was required to leave the cars, and was left off at Wilmore station. The next day, the passenger returned to Johnstown and instituted suit against the Conductor for assault and battery.

The Judge held that if Conductors require it, a passenger who has not furnished himself with a ticket is bound to make the change required; that the Conductor is not bound to take the fare out of a note larger in amount than the fare itself, and furnish change to a passenger; that what occurred in this case in reference to the five dollar note was not a payment of the fare, and that if the passenger did not either produce a ticket or pay his fare, the Conductor had a lawful right to put him off the cars. The only question was, had the Conductor transcended his authority in the use of force in ejecting him?

The jury, after a short absence, returned with a verdict acquitting the defendant. The costs of prosecution were divided equally between the parties.

JOURNEYMEN ITEMS.—Mr. James S. Ramsey, connected with the Army of the Potomac as a Packer, was captured recently during the advance of our forces, and carried to Richmond, where he has since been confined in Libby Prison. His stock in trade also fell into the hands of the Rebels at the same time.——Albert Rose, son of David R. Rose, Esq., of Perkiomenville, a private in Co. E, Capt Dotland, 128th Penna Vols., died in hospital in Philadelphia on the 5th inst., of typhoid fever. He was aged 21 years.——Five boys, neither of whom was over 12 years of age, were arrested a few days since on the charge of abstracting money to the amount of fifty to sixty dollars from the counter drawer of Storekeeper Wolin.—One of the youthful offenders acknowledged his participation in the theft, and implicated some half dozen others, all of whom were subsequently arrested and held to bail for their appearance at the next term of our county Court.——The above items are condensed from the Johnstown Tribune.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—Collector Boyer, of this district, has received the following opinion from Commissioner Boutwell in answer to an interrogatory concerning the liability of Stock makers under the Revenue Law:

TREASURY DEPT., OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, Dec. 2, 1862.

SIR: Your letter of the 28th ult., relative to the liability to taxation of stocks, has been received.

Shanks, being merely staves, hoops and headings, all of which are exempt from tax, are not to be taxed as a manufacture, nor are the makers of them required to take licenses as manufacturers.

The makers may require licenses as dealers for selling their own shanks, whether wholesale or retail, of course at all, must be determined by the assistant assessor by the business done in each case.

GEO. S. BOUTWELL, Commissioner.

WOOD AND COAL.—The Commissioners of Cambria county advertise that proposals will be received, at the Court House, until the 13th inst., for the delivery at the public buildings of 1,000 bushels of coal and 20 cords of wood. The Commissioners, with rare administrative parsimoniousness, never advertise in any of the county papers, so we give this notice the benefit of our circulation "free, gratis, for nothing."

☞ It is rumored here that Adjt. Jas. C. Noon, of the 133d Pa. Vols., was killed at Fredericksburg, during the recent battle.

NEW OFFICIALS.—Joseph M'Donald, Prothonotary, Philip S. Noon, District Attorney, John Campbell, County Commissioner, Irvin Rutledge, Poor House Director, and Henry Scanlan, County Surveyor—all of them newly elected county officers, and all of them of the Democratic persuasion—have been "sworn in" and entered upon the duties of their respective offices. May they, individually and severally, flourish luxuriantly!

THE LAST CHANCE.—Kratzer, the picture-man, requests us to say that he leaves for Loretto during the present week.—Those of our readers, therefore, who desire to secure excellent likenesses of themselves or friends, should drop in on him forthwith. While at Loretto, he will stop at Myers' Hotel, where the people of that section desiring an unapproachable picture will please call.

HO! FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—For the especial edification of our juvenile friends, we would say that Harry Devine has just received, at his store, on High street, a magnificent assortment of Holiday knick-knackeria, all of which will be put at prices to suit the purses of the most inveterate "jewer-down." Give him a call, ye who desire something neat and chaste for the Holidays.

MARRIED—On the 9th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, in Rowlesburg, Preston county, Va., by the Rev. Dr. Dell, Mr. HENRY H. DUNCAN, of Cambria county, Pa., to Miss REBECCA ANN HOOTON, second daughter of Col Charles Hooton, of the former place.
