

ODDS & ENDS.

The new conscription bill proposes in two drafts to take the able-bodied men between twenty and forty-five years old. They are to be two classes—first, those married between twenty and thirty-five—second, the married between thirty-five and forty-five—but the second class is not to be called out till the first is exhausted. This sets the bachelors between thirty-five and forty-five all ago for getting married. We agree with a contemporary that this is a wise provision of the law, if there is any wisdom in it. We wish it had taken all the bachelors between twenty and thirty, before it touched married men. What are those old bachelors good for but to die for their country? If they will not raise soldiers to fight battles, let them go and fight themselves; and die, if so be, without wife or child to mourn them when they fall. However, if any of those who would fall into the second class if married, will repent of their singularity, the war has already made widows enough who will not refuse to assist them in shirking the cartridge box, if they will only buckle on the harness of matrimony. Let them walk up and show themselves men at once. Fight or marry! Take your choice quick!

The following interesting scene took place in the Army of the Potomac not long since—A chaplain wanted a horse, and without much ceremony took one belonging to a Virginia farmer, but his possession of the property was very brief, as the following conversation shows. The chaplain rode into the presence of his superior officer and was asked, "where he got that horse?" The chaplain said, "Down the road there." The officer remarked—"You had better take him back again." The chaplain retorted—"Why, Jesus Christ, when He was on earth, took an ass from his owner whereon to ride to Jerusalem." The officer replied—"You are not Jesus Christ; that is not an ass, you are not on your way to Jerusalem, and the sooner you restore that horse to his owner the better it will be for you."

How to select flour.—First, look at the color. If it is white, with a slight yellowish or straw color tint, buy it. If it is very white, with a bluish cast, or with black specks in it, refuse it.—Second, examine its adhesiveness; wet and knead a little bit of it between your fingers; if it works sticky, it is poor.—Third, throw a little lump against a perpendicular surface; if it falls like powder, it is bad. Fourth, squeeze some of the flour in your hand; if it retains the shape given by the pressure, that, too, is a good sign. Flour that will stand all these tests is safe to buy. These modes are given by old flour dealers, and they pertain to a matter that concerns everybody, namely, the staff of life.

Willie, who is just entering upon his fourth winter, had very attentively watched one of his aunts dressing for an evening party; and as it was summer time, and fashionable, the dress did not come as far on the neck as Willie's ideas of propriety suggested. He went to her wardrobe, and in a moment came back pulling a close fitting busque after him; when the following conversation ensued: Aunt—"What is that for?" Willie—"For you to put on." Aunt—"But I am all dressed now—I look pretty, don't I?" Willie—"Yes," giving a modest glance at her shoulders; "but somebody might see you!"

The New York Tribune tells a story of a stout, athletic Zouave, who, running away from the battle of Fredericksburg, was checked by a Lieutenant with a drawn sword. Said the latter, "Stop sir! Go back to your regiment, you infernal coward, you are not wounded." "For Heaven's sake let me pass," implored the fugitive, "I know I am not wounded, but I am fearfully demoralized."

Bad wine is the guest's horror and the host's disgrace; so with segars. Bad wine is never worth good water. Counsel in wine seldom prosper. Drink your enemy's wine, it is as good as your friend's. Drunkenness is the canker worm of health and the midwife of the mind.

Annie Carter Lee, the daughter and only child of General Lee, of the rebel army, died recently at Jones Spring, North Carolina, an outcast from her home, because she remained true to the flag under which her ancestors won their laurels, and to the government to which her father and kindred proved recent.

A CARD.—WINTER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON, GENTLEMEN:—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agency, Mr. Adam R. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 25th of July, 1859, and passed through the fire unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain, confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK. [Seal] A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 18 South Fourth st., Philadelphia.
