NEAR SCONEMAN'S SWITCH, VA., April 7, 1863. Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

To day came off one of those events that by you at home are considered brilliant, gorgeous affairs, but which to the common soldier wear a quite different sipect-I mean a review. By a review you understand the managerering of imposing columns led by gay, and of course brave officers in the presence of the reviewers. To the soldier, the common soldier, alas, how different! .Take as an instance the present review. Being sent on picket on Saturday, and expecting to return to-day, (Tuesday,) we were yesterday hurriedly brought in from our posts where we had after severe labor arrangedright comfortable quarters-to propare for the event of the day. To-day comes. the morning passes, equipments are eleaned, shoes cleared of mud and blacked, clothes brushed, faces washed and all things ready, and the "soger" about to sit down to his dinner when the orderly's call, "fall in for review!" sounds through the camp. So we put on our equipments, shoulder our gun, leave the much beloved dinner, and fall into line. In line we are, and for a long time we stay waiting for the appearance of Father Abraham .-The wind blows keenly, the tous get cold, the body chilled, and the dinnerless stomach hungry-but no Abraham appears in view. About this time we are ordered to stack arms and be ready to form in line at a moment's notice. By toking advantage of this relief, the dinperless soldier gets his dinner, but scarceby is it swallowed till he is again called luto line, to ostensibly see good old Abraham, but, as the signal proves, only to unstack arms, re-stack them, and be off again, ready to fall in at a moment's varuing. After a considerable portion of the afternoon had passed, we were for the third time formed in line, and this time parched to some tree open field, to await the arrival of President Lincoln, Gen. Hooker and others. The day was fine, though a cold, piercing wind prevailed, going to the very marrow. Finally, the President, Gen. Hooker and others, followed by a large and brillians staff, appeared on the ground. President Lincoln was escorted in review of our brigade by Gen. Humphreys, Gen. Hooker following in the rear. The President as he rode past our lines appeared pale and haggard, as though the cares of state weighed heavily upon him. He seems to have lost that fresh, ruddy look he bore when he reviewed the army at Sharpsburg. The paleness may, however, have been partly caused by the coldness of the prevailing wind. As Honest Aoc was passing the centre of each regiment, the colors were dipped and three hearty ebeers, loud and long, rose from the ranks. They were such cheers as could leave no doubt in the breast of the Nation's Chief that the hearts of the soldiers are a unit in support of his endeavors to crush out valley until reaching our own dear State, they would fittingly tell those who can falling tree. He was aged 22 years. and delight only in assailing the Admin-army of which any general should be Hugh E. Evans and Peter Malhorn, who were wounded at Fredericksburg, have returned to the company, and are thee more on duty. Levi Keith, Thomas Deveraux and Sergt. J. Orlando Brockbank arrived here from the hospital last week, they having been left sick at Sharpsburg, Md. The general health of the company is good.

by the soldiers. Gen. Hooker looks well and much pleased with his army. No

UNION LEAGUE-MASS MEETING !-Union League was organized in Wilmore last week, on the basis that the interests of our country are paramount to a high but deserved compliment to an to all other considerations. We have not institution which numbers among its a report of the proceedings, but understand that the meeting was well attended and successful business men in the counand that much enthusiasm prevailed. On | try : next Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, a mass meeting of the members of the League and all good Union men will be held in Wilmore, to give public expression to their sentiments as to the great topics of the day. Judge Shannon, of Pittsburg, and other distinguished and eloquent speakers, will be present and address them. A general invitation is extended to Unionists of other sections to be present. We confidently hope to see a large delegation go down from

DIED: In Ebensburg, 5th inst., CLARA AM ANDA GARMAN, aged 9 years and 16 days; and on 7th inst., MAGGIE BELL 11 days.

Two sweet, kind and amiable creatures have thus passed away. Two jewelsshall I say ?- are buried beneath the sod. Ah, no! but two precious jewels are token from their encasement on earth, and placed in the bright-crown of our Redeemer's rejoicing. Whilst called to part with our dear ones on earth, it is bliss to know that we shall greet them again in a better world if we be only true to ourselves and true to our God. W. F. B.

THE BADGE OF DISLOYALTY .- We observe sundry gentleman just now sporting "copperhead" and "butternut" breastpins as an evidence of the bravery with which they can confront the loyal sentiment of the community. We beg leave to remind all such that there were those in this country who once wore the black cockaie, but whose children have never found their memory any the more savory on that account. The day will come, too, when the children of the present race of copperhead traitors will curse the memory of their progenitors and turn with loathing from the record of their traitorous crimes.

DROWNED .- A Weishman, named David Davis, of Danville, Montour county, this State, while returning from the Rolling Mill on Saturday pight, 4th inst., walked into the canal above the lock and was drowned. His body was recovered from the lock the next day. Davis was a stranger in town, and it is supposed he walked into the canal through ignorance of the way he was traveling. His remains were sent back to Danville, where he leaves a large family. So we learn from the Johnstown Trabune.

DIED: In Washington township, this county, on the 8th ultimo, RICHARD SHARP, aged about 43 years.

The deceased leaves a wife and nine children to mourn his loss. He was a kind father and good citizen, and well liked by all who knew him. He served his country with honor during the Mexican War in the capacity of private in the "American Highlanders." Peace to his

"Professors Jenkins & Smith-Gentlemen: I have long felt it my duty to express to you the high opinion I entertain of the Iron City College as an institution fit in every respect to prepare young men for active business.

"I can most unhesitatingly say, that I can conceive of no way by which to make the course of study more thorough and practical than that so long pursued by you, and which has been so fully attested by the unvarying success of your students. What I regard as one of the most admirable, important, and never to be forgotten features of the school is the constant and watchful care bestowed by the various Professors in behalf of their pupils, and I feel as though I could never repay the Faculty for their efforts in my behalf while a student there. These feelings. GARMAN, aged 5 years, 7 months and together with a deep sense of duty, have prompted me to pen this note, and I shall never fail to say to young men contemplating a commercial course, 'Go to the Iron City College, if you wish to acquire a perfect knowledge of the science, and become successful practical book-keepers.2 "Truly, yours, B. H. BENER.

> By Request .- The following lines are to the memory of a young soldier, who, during last summer, fell in battle in Missouri. Of a truth, he was one of nature's noblemen.

In Memoriam. BY SAMUEL SINGERTON, CO. A. 1330 P. V. Soldier, so true and brave, Rest in thy quiet grave ; From strife and turmoil free, Sweet may thy slumbers be. Fresh may the roses bloom Over thy lowly tomb. Soft may the zephyrs blow, And gently fall the snow. It is too hard that you, So noble, brave, and true, Should die by Treason's hand-Treason to our own dear land. But then what other strife Was worthy of thy life, Than that which seeks to quell Dark Treason, born of hell? Thy past thou didst so well, And met thy fate so calm, That of thy life to tell Were to my soul a balm. Worthy the flag that shrouds you, Worthy the praise I give thee; May God's angels keep thee. May their brightness clothe thee. 'Tis by such lives as thine. Giv'n at our country's shrine, Our native land must be Kept for posterity.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE. ---1863.---

The New York Tribune first issued in 1841. now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th day of December, 1862, is as follows:

Daily, Semi Weekly, 17,250 Weekly, 148,000

Aggregate, 215,375 Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, The Tribune has political convictions which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"-Republican in its assertion of the equal and inclienable rights of all men to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement-Republican in its antagonism to the aristocrats and despots of the C's World, who fondly hail in the perils and cal mities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and rain of the Model Republic-Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever.

The Tribune levotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture; Invention, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of man-kind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigora-tion and success of the Wer for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust is soon to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that no otherwise can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and canneter of this momentous conflict be o. sined than through the regular perusal of our columns, And we earnestly solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation. TERMS :- The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of The Tribune. Our new terma are:
