

ODDS & ENDS.

THE COPPERHEAD PLATFORM.—By dint of much exertion and great enterprise, one of Our Young Men has succeeded in compiling the following true and reliable statement of the principles professed by the new party.

I.—The Constitution as it is, and the Union as it might, could, would, should or shouldn't have been.

II.—An armistice of twelve years for deliberation.

III.—The Union, at all hazards.

IV.—A new Confederation of States, comprising all but New-England.

V.—A vigorous persecution of the War.

VI.—The peaceful departure of our wayward sisters.

VII.—A military dictatorship for some man who is "coming."

VIII.—An armistice and alliance of one year, to enable the belligerents to capture Canada.

IX.—Unconditional restoration of the Union.

X.—A request for mediation from England and France.

XI.—A commission appointed from North and South, without cessation of hostilities.

XII.—Resignation of the present Administration, and appointment of a provisional Assembly instead.

XIII.—The Union forever.

XIV.—Abolition of Anti-slavery.

XV.—Vigorous procrastination of the War.

XVI.—Repeal of the Sunday liquor law.

XVII.—The integrity of the Habeas Corpus.

XVIII.—The Union before the Nigger.

XIX.—Speedy recognition of the Southern Confederacy.

XX.—The Union.

A BRIGHT ONE.—The brightest little chap for his size and age, that we ever saw, was one whom we lately came across, torturing tadpoles in a spring upon a roadside, altogether out of "sight and hearing" of human habitation.

"Where do you live, my son?" inquired we, just as he stirred a big bull frog from the mud with a large mullen stalk.

"I don't live nowhere, only home."

"Where is your house?"

"Over the hill, next house to Mr. Wagner's."

"Have you parents living?"

"What's them?"

"I mean have you a father or mother?"

"Yes, sir, but pap's went dead a good while, and mother says she won't stand it, cause it's too hard work."

"What does your mother do?"

"Milk the cow, and all sorts o' things."

"Is your mother a pious woman—a good Christian?"

"No, sir, she's a Dutchman."

Here the little genius went to stirring up the frogs.

An amusing incident transpired a few evenings since, at Manchester, New Hampshire, in the Huntingdon Street Baptist Church, on the occasion of the magic lantern exhibition. The scene of the children of Israel crossing the Red Sea was exhibited, and the small children were asked if they could tell what it represented. One little fellow immediately sang out, "Burrside crossing the Rappahannock!"

"Don't be bashful, young man.—Don't be like the person who rode ten miles in a sleigh with a pretty girl one bright moonlight night, with the intention of popping the question, but all he said was:

"It's quite moony to-night."

"Yes," she replied, "munchly."

And there was not another word spoken.

"Papa, didn't you whip me once for biting Tommy?"

"Yes, my child; you hurt him much."

"Well, then, Papa, you ought to whip sister's music master, too, he bit sister yesterday, right on the mouth; and I knew it hurt her, because she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him."

Man creeps into childhood, bounds into youth, soars into manhood, softens into age, totters into childhood, and stumbles into the cradle prepared for us all.

A CARD.—WITMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN.—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK.

[Sd.] A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia.
