his last in hospital near Falmouth the beginning of last week. Lieut. D. had been in service during the Rebellion about nine months. He went out as Second Sergeant in his company, but so highly were his sterling qualities as a soldier appreciated that upon the first vacancy occurring he was promoted to a commissioned office. He met his deathwound while bravely rallying his men to the charge. Military life had been nothing new to Licut. D. Prior to the Rebellion, he had served his country for the term of fifteen years-ten years as a private in the regular army and five years as a marine in the naval service-always with honor to himself and credit to his native county. He was greatly beloved by his companions in arms, and esteemed and respected at home. After a chequered career of 33 years, his life has been cheerfully laid down for his country, and he gone to that distant home where wars and rumors of war affright the weary soul no more forever. The deceased leaves a a wife and one child to mourn his loss, while a mother, brothers and sisters refuse to be comforted because he is not. "To the Hero, when his sword

THE CROPS .- Unless all indications are at fault, the coming harvest will prove a most bountiful one in this county. We are informed by farmers that never before within their recollection has the earth promised such an abundant yield. The wheat crop, especially, looks unusually promising, while the other cereals, to say nothing of fruit, which will undoubtedly tura out well, foreshadow a plenteous harvest. Fortunately, we have thus far escaped the spring frosts, and should the residue of the season prove as auspicious as the past, the garners of our husbandmen, like the cup of the righteous, will surely overflow with abundance next fall. Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement-Republican in its antagonism to the aristocrats and despots of the C'd World, who fondly hall in the perils and cal, mities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic-Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever. The Tribune levotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Invention, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind ; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigoration and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust is soon to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted bleeding country. We believe that no otherwise can a faller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be o., ained than through the regular perusal of our columns, And we earnestly - SHOW ACTION solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation.
