

ODDS & ENDS.

THE DUTCH MILLER.—Mynheer Van Slouden owned a grist-mill, and Peter Snyder owned one also, near by. Old Mynheer Van Slouden was subject to fits of insanity, and when in one of these moods, would assume that he was God Almighty, and would get upon his throne and call such persons as he might have in his mind to judgment, and would ask and answer the questions himself. The questions would be put with a sharp, strong speech, and the answers very whining and mock. Having one of his crazy fits one day, he mounted his throne, and as there had been a little competition in the grist-mill business, he took occasion to call Peter Snyder to judgment; so he calls out: "Peter Snyder!" No answer. Again, very sharp: "Peter Snyder."

"Ah, Lord, here I ish! Vat you vant, Lord?"
"Do you own a grist-mill?"
"Ah, yes Lord, I does!"
"Vell, Peter Snyder, do you ever take too much toll?"
"Ah, yes, Lord, ven my vater vas very low, and mine stones vas very dull, I has taken a liddle too much toll!"
"Vell, den, you may go to de left hand mit de goats."
As he had passed judgment upon his neighbor, he thought he would try himself.

"Mynheer Van Slouden." No answer. Very sharp—"Mynheer Van Slouden!"
"Ah, Lord, here I ish—vat you vant?"
"Do you own a grist mill?"
"Ah, yes, Lord, I does own a grist-mill."

"Does you ever take too much toll, Mynheer Van Slouden?"
"Yes, Lord, sometimes I has taken too much toll!"

"Vell, Mynheer Van Slouden, vat did you do mit dat toll?"
"Ah, Lord, I has given it to the poor." (After a slight pause.)

"Vell, den, you may go to de right hand, mit de sheep, but it is a dam dight squeeze!"

JAPANESE ODDITIES.—One great peculiarity of the people is their mania for squatting; they seem to do everything in this position, and even when a man is ploughing in the field he looks as if he wanted to squat. Their habits in many things seem to be so often exactly the opposite of ours, that it almost resolves itself into a rule of contraries. When they cook a goose instead of putting the goose on the fire, they put the fire on the goose, thus economizing fuel. In planing or sawing a board, they plane or saw toward themselves instead of from themselves. When you get into a house, you take off your shoes instead of your hat. Instead of saying John Smith, you would say Smith John. The country is rich in flowers and vegetable productions. They have carried the art of making paper to great perfection. Dr. McGowan showed an overcoat made of paper, perfectly strong and serviceable. In this country we have paper collars, but in Japan they go further, and have paper handkerchiefs, which are very beautiful and soft. After they have used a handkerchief, they throw it away, and are thus saved the trouble of a washerwoman. They even weave their paper, and make what may be called paper cloth of it.

HOW TO READ SHOULDER STRAPS.—The ranks and arm of the military officers are designated as follows: The shoulder straps of a Major General bear two silver embroidered stars, one on each end of the strap. A Brigadier General has one silver star only. A Colonel has a silver embroidered spread eagle; a Lieutenant Colonel has two silver embroidered leaves, one at each end of the strap; a Major has two embroidered gold leaves similarly placed. A captain has two gold bars at each end of the strap; a First Lieutenant one gold bar at each end; and a Second Lieutenant no bar at all.

The cloth of the strap, by its color, distinguishes the arm of the service.—For general and staff officers it is dark blue; for artillery, scarlet; for infantry, sky blue; for riflemen, green; and for cavalry, orange color.

Non-commissioned officers are indicated by "chevrons," or stripes on the coat sleeve, in the form of a letter V. Corporals wear two stripes; Sergeants three; Orderly Sergeants have a lozenge, or diamond shaped figure within the angle of the chevrons. Sergeant Majors have the three stripes of a sergeant completed into a triangle, base uppermost.

Many a preacher complains of empty pews, when they are in reality not much emptier than the pulpit.

NOTICE.
Having associated with Hugh Jones in the Grocery business, I hereby give notice to all those having standing accounts with me,
I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R.
Baird, in Lancaster City, on July 29th, 1888,
has been subjected to a very severe test,
which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1890, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored.
This fact was, however, to many bystanders
a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully,
