Letter from Our Soldiers. LEAVE FROM CAPT. LITZINGER'S COMPANY—"CHANGE OF BASE"—MILITIA IN LINE OF BATTLE—GRAND REVIEW AT BLOODY RUN—BEDFORD SPRINGS—THE FRUITS OF COPPERHEADISM, ETC., ETC.

BEDFORD, PENNA., July 3d, 1863. Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

Since your correspondent wrote you last, the militia have made a "move." On Thursday, 30th ultimo, Pierce's command—formerly Milroy's—evacuated Bloody Run, coming hither, infantry, cavalry, artillery, baggage and all, and encamping on the plains adjacent to town. What this move indicates your correspondent is at a loss to know, unless, indeed, Cumberland is to be the scene of future operations of the division. Yesterday and to-day, the men composing the various regiments put in the time pleasantly by drawing new clothing, so that they now present a neat as well as comfortable appearance. They are all, or soon will be, well clad and well shod.

Subsequent to the departure of Pierce from Bloody Run, the militia also took their line of march, bringing up the rear of the forces. From this fact, you may know that the retrogressive movement was well and ably covered. Our company, on arriving at their destination, took up their quarters in a neat and roomy barn, situated in the suburbs of Bedford, while Capt. Hughes' Wilmore company appropriated the Lutheran church, near the centre of town.

This morning we received orders from Col. Higgins, commanding the militia, to report forthwith at Pattonville, a small town in Morrison's Cove, Bedford county, some sixteen or twenty miles hence. Unless the order be countermanded, we leave for that point this afternoon. There are several hundred militia at Pattonville already, so the probabilities are we will be formed into a regiment upon our arrival there. This, at least, is a consummation devoutly to be wished.

On Monday evening, 29th ult., our and Capt. Hughes' companies were formed in line of battle, near Bloody Run, to support a battery which had been planted on the Bedford pike, to repel an anticipated attack by Rebel cavalry. After a weary wait of about an hour, during which time the Rebels failed to make their appearance, we were ordered back to our quarters. Maj. Titus, of the 12th Penna. Cavalry, complimented us in high terms of praise for the readiness exhibited to meet the enemy.

On Sunday, 28th ultimo, Pierce's forces had a grand review at Bloody Run, in which we—the militia—had the honor of participating. Although, as regards uniformity of apparel, we did not and could not be expected to cope with the volunteers, yet the various evolutions as performed by us, gave entire satisfaction to the Colonel commanding. To a civilian, uninterested in the performance except as a mere spectator, a review may assume the proportions of a "big thing," but the soldiers unanimously vote them an infernal bore. Your correspondent, and Capt. Litzinger's company in general, are no exceptions to the rule.

Several of our company paid a visit to Bedford Springs yesterday. They report the celebrated summer resort as being a rather pleasant sort of place—the water increased of medicinal virtue warranted to be anything from fits down, the woods abundant and shady, the natural surroundings romantic, and the bills reasonable. In short, judging from their description, it must be a sort of second edition of your Cresson Springs. Bedford Springs is one mile and a quarter north of town. There are but few visitors there at present. Your correspondent may be pardoned for mentioning as he passes along, that Bedford Springs have obtained their chief notoriety from their association with the name of James Buchanan, that immaculate name and tory being in the invariable habit of passing the dog-days at this place. Per sequence, the spot should be peculiar attractions for—the Rebels! Bedford county, apparently, is peopled chiefly by Copperheads—ferce, virulent Copperheads, who would rather see the Rebels obtain a firm foothold inside their limits than that any of the measures of the Administration for the squelching of the Rebellion should succeed. In proof of this assertion, your correspondent begs leave to say that, although a border county, Bedford has not a single company in the field for the "emergency!" Like base poltroons, or else traitors, they appear content to rest their hopes of safety upon the efforts of others. For his part, your correspondent is free to say he would have no particular objections to the enemy making a small raid in this direction, just to show the Bedfordites what they may expect should the Rebels obtain full sway in the North. In that event, Copperhead sentiments would fall below par, don't you think?

The quota of Bedford county under the last call for militia is 540—all of which, doubtless, will have to be drafted. Draft men to defend their very homes and firesides, their wives and children—that sounds nice!

We have heard, with pleasure, that another company to repel invasion is being formed in Ebsensburg. Send them down here—their lines will fall in pleasant places; that is to say, they will fall among friends.

Our boys are all well, and enjoying themselves much. They seem to take to "sojering" as naturally as a duck takes to water. When the "emergency" is over, and they return to their respective homes, the folks there are confidently expected not to know them, by reason of the great improvement in their personal appearance. Yours, etc., "JAY."

EDUCATIONAL.—As the time for opening the country schools throughout the county, for the winter term, is approaching we would call the attention of Directors to a matter which has long needed reform. We refer to the serious obstacles which a teacher has to surmount in properly classifying his school. In some districts, we are aware, regular series of books have been adopted, but in very few instances has their introduction been effected,—every pupil being permitted to use whatever books suit him, thereby subjecting the teacher to untold annoyance. Cannot some energetic Director in each district move in the matter, and have a uniform series of text books introduced into every school room in the county.

In this connection it may not be amiss to mention Mitchell's new School Geographies, comprising the Primary, Intermediate, and High School works.—We have examined these Geographies, and also Goodrich's History of the United States, and most cordially recommend them to Directors wishing to introduce good and reliable books into the schools under their care, while the merely nominal price charged, places them within reach of every one. For further particulars we refer our readers to the Agent, D. W. Proctor, Huntingdon, Pa.

PRESENTATION.—We are requested to announce that the presentation of the Bible purchased by the members of the 133d Regt. Pa. Vols., for their Chaplain, Rev. A. J. Hartsock, will take place in the Presbyterian church this (Thursday) evening. Rev. D. S. Harbison has been requested to represent the Regiment and present their gift, and will be responded to by the recipient, himself. The public are invited to be present.

The Bible, which is from the establishment of Wm. S. & Alfred Martien, 606 Chestnut st., Phila., presents a splendid appearance, reflecting great credit upon the firm from which it issues. The binding is of dark brown morocco, while the tablet, with an inscription portraying the high respect and esteem entertained by the 133d for their Chaplain, and also the fitting tribute to a worthy man.

Since the above was put in type, we have been informed that the selection of the Bible was entrusted to our fellow-townsmen, J. Patton Thompson, and who displayed even more than his usual taste in purchasing the book.

A Card. EBENSBURG, Pa., July 9, 1863. TO MY FRIENDS.—

Having for the past two weeks been confined to my room, or account of illness, and, during that time, having received many tokens of care and attention, I wish to return my thanks to the loyal citizens of Ebsensburg,—more especially to the ladies and the members of Company F—for their uniform kindness and consideration. Mere words cannot express my gratitude, but, dear friends, your courtesy and generosity shall never be forgotten. ELLIS B. WILLIAMS.

PERSONAL.—It is with unfeigned pleasure that we announce the convalescence of our friend, Ellis R. Williams, who, as we noticed some time since, was injured by being thrown from a horse. When he again becomes a votary of "the blind god," and starts in pursuit of "pleasure under difficulties," we hope he may meet with a more agreeable end to his visit.

—On last Friday afternoon during the continuance of the heavy thunder shower that visited this vicinity, the barn of Mr. Thomas James, about two miles west of town, was struck by lightning. Mr. J., and two of his sons, who were within the building at the time, were stunned by the electric fluid, but, providentially sustained no further injury.

—We are very sorry to learn that the small-pox has made its appearance and is prevailing to a great extent in Carrolltown and vicinity. Thus far, however, we are cognizant of but one death resulting from that disease.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE. ---1863---

The New York Tribune first issued in 1841, now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America. Though it has suffered, in comparison with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th day of December, 1862, is as follows: Daily, 60,125; Semi-Weekly, 17,250; Weekly, 148,000; Aggregate, 215,375.

Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, The Tribune has political convictions which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICANISM. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"; Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"; Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the aristocratic and despotic of the Old World, who fondly hail in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall forever be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever. The Tribune devotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Invention, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigoration and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust is soon to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that no other work can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation. TERMS.—The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compel us to increase the price of The Tribune. Our new terms are: DAILY TRIBUNE. Single Copy, 3 cents. Mail Subscribers, one year, (311 issues,) $8 SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
