

RIGHT OR WRONG.

WHEN RIGHT, TO BE KEPT RIGHT, WHEN WRONG, TO BE PUT RIGHT.

EBENSBURG:

THURSDAY, JULY 30. Day of National Thanksgiving.

President Lincoln has just issued the following proclamation, requesting that Thursday, August 6th, be set apart as a day of National Thanksgiving...

Now, therefore, be it known, that I do set apart THURSDAY, the sixth day of AUGUST next, to be observed as a day for National Thanksgiving, praise and prayer, and I invite the people of the United States to assemble on that occasion in their customary places of worship...

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 15th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three...

By the President: WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Sec'y of State.

Treason.

The traitor to his country is the most despicable of creatures. He who has been nourished under the fostering influence of her free institutions, and proves false to his allegiance—adhering to her enemies, "giving them aid and comfort," deserves the execration of all loyal citizens...

Prate on, thou son of Belial, and accomplice of treason! None will heed your ravings but those who are lost to all sense of patriotism, and who are as deeply dyed with the stains of disloyalty as yourself...

In spite of protestations, the political status of the leaders of the self-styled Democracy will soon become defined beyond all mistake. Every day is developing the rank, deep-seated treason, that lurks within the pale of this political organization...

"The great human lottery, under the late conscription act, is about to take place. The act in itself is revolutionary. Having discarded the Constitution, where is the political policy of the Administration to end? The bond of this Union being broken and consigned to the shades of oblivion, the argument against secession falls to the ground...

We want no better evidence of the treasonable feeling of any man, whether he live in the North or the South, than that expressed by our secession sympathizing friend of the Tory organ in our midst. It is a most deplorable and humiliating fact, that armed treason of the South which seeks to ruin and destroy our nationality, is daily receiving encouragement and support from persons in the North...

When FITZ JOHN PORTER was convicted of treason by a court martial composed of the most distinguished officers in the army, one of the first acts of the New York Democracy was to tender him a public dinner. The same party in New Jersey elected a man to the United States Senate, when his traitorous acts and words had sent him to Fort Warren...

With what renovated energy, with what moral power, with what hallowed consistency and honorable courage will the whole nation then be able to rise to their highest destiny. Then will the work of righteousness, peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance reign forever; and the people shall dwell in a peaceful habitation, in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places...

Tod—a weak tipular, popularly supposed to be compounded of whiskey, sugar and water.—D. & S. Todd, Ed. D. & S.—whiskey, without the other ingredients.

the nomination, and Democratic speakers even in the loyal Borough of Ebensburg, propose three cheers for the vile traitor, which are always given with a hearty good will. The great trouble all the way through the war, has been the deep seated treason of the leaders of the Copperhead Democracy, covered up by a show of loyalty...

What circumstances? And why must we remain ignorant of them for a generation? Could Northern traitors throw any light on the suggestions of their Southern ally? Can Gov. Seymour say why so much secrecy is necessary? Can Fernando Wood, or James Brooks or Vallandigham? It would seem as if this period of mystery were meant to expire with the death of men now on the stage...

We have received a copy of a Manchester paper, containing two extraordinary documents which are full of interest at the present time. The first of these is an appeal from certain French pastors, asking the English clergy to urge the country to declare itself openly for the holy cause of liberating the slave in the terrible struggle which is at present convulsing the United States...

"No more revolting spectacle has ever been set before the civilized world than a Confederacy consisting mainly of Protestants, forming itself, and demanding independence in the nineteenth century of the Christian era, with a professed design, of maintaining and propagating slavery; a Confederacy which lays down, as the corner-stone of its constitution, the system of slavery as it exists at present in the Southern States—a system which may be defined briefly as the right to treat men like cattle and to commit adultery and murder with impunity...

A reply, signed by 3,000 English clergymen, headed by Baptist W. Noel, was made; and it was resolved to transmit the whole with an address to the Christian ministers of the United States. This address, which is quite a lengthy recapitulation of facts concerning the institution,—setting forth the effort of the confederacy to have slavery for its corner stone, which if successful, would corrupt and debase not only the slave, but also the whites, the government and all who had anything to do with it...

"With what renovated energy, with what moral power, with what hallowed consistency and honorable courage will the whole nation then be able to rise to their highest destiny. Then will the work of righteousness, peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance reign forever; and the people shall dwell in a peaceful habitation, in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places...

The following dispatch from Col. J. M. Shackelford, was received at headquarters in Cincinnati yesterday:—"Headquarters on the Field, three miles south of New Lisbon O., July 26.—To Col. Lewis Richmond, A. O. G.—By the blessing of Almighty God I have succeeded in capturing Gen. John A. Morgan, Col. Clarke, and the balance of the command, amounting to about 400 prisoners. I will start with Morgan and staff on the first train for Cincinnati, and await the General's order for transportation for the balance."

Whilst the U. S. steamer Adela was proceeding up the Hudson river, for the purpose of assisting the authorities in enforcing the draft, her officers captured a Scotch flag, but its owner escaped.

Who are the Traitors?

The Richmond Dispatch, in an editorial article on Lee's retreat, has the following remarkable paragraph: "There are persons who think, and have thought from the first, that the invasion of Pennsylvania was a rash and dangerous experiment, which there was no justification for having undertaken. We are not one of these."

On the contrary, we believe when the secret history of this war shall have been published, the conduct of the General will be amply justified by circumstances of which we are now, and must for a generation remain ignorant, completely ignorant.

Why Gov. Seymour exhibited such extraordinary alacrity in stripping the city of its militia just before the riots came on; why those riots did not break out, as was at first intended, on the Fourth of July; why Vice-President Stephens undertook his embassy to Washington at the same moment; why the rioters, whom Gov. Seymour called his "noble-hearted friends," cheered for Jeff. Davis as well as for his mouth-piece at that occasion; why the Governor, on the Saturday before the mob rose, sent a messenger to the President to induce him to stop the draft; and finally, if Lee had been at Harrisburg and victorious, as was expected, on the Fourth of July, instead of being defeated at Gettysburg, whether that would have made any difference in the execution of the Copperhead programme—all these questions History will ask, and will, in one fashion or another, answer...

The first fruits of the investigation into frauds on the Government which have been made by the War Department through Special Commissioner Oleott, were gathered in Utica on Thursday. Francis Mattuschek, late Lieutenant 3d New York Artillery, and Wm. H. Knapp, late lieutenant 9th New York Cavalry, collected at the United States Disbursing office here and in Albany various sums of money on forged subsistence bills. One of Mattuschek's swindles was perpetrated through Solomon Kohnstamm, the notorious broker, against whom the Grand Jury recently found forty-eight true bills of indictment. The cases of these two officers were investigated by Commissioner Oleott and Major G. W. Wallace, 6th Infantry U. S. A., the Disbursing Officer at Albany and the full extent of the frauds discovered. The result was the indictment of Knapp and Mattuschek by the Grand Jury of the Northern District of New York and their trial at Utica on the 16th instant. The guilt of the prisoners was so clearly proven that the jury after being out only ten minutes came into Court with a verdict of "Guilty." The sentence of imprisonment at hard labor in the State Prison was pronounced the following day. The community has reason to be thankful that such swift and thorough punishment has overtaken these two dishonest officers. It is a satisfactory beginning of a work the importance of which cannot be overestimated. There is now some hope that the Government will be enabled to recover some portion of the millions which have been stolen by dishonest contractors and officers. Certainly these harpies will not so freely present forged bills to our different Government disbursing officers as heretofore. The great case of Kohnstamm is set down for the Fall term of the U. S. Circuit Court, in this city, and in such hands as those of Mr. John Sedgwick are likely to be well protected.

Joint Resolution proposing certain Amendments to the Constitution.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendments be proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the tenth article thereof: There shall be an additional section to the third article of the Constitution, to be designated as section four, as follows: Section 4. Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in any actual military service, under a requisition from the President of the United States, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are, or shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election. There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution to be designated sections eight and nine, as follows: Section 8. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature, containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title, except appropriation bills. Section 9. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature granting any powers or privileges, in any case, where the authority to grant such powers or privileges, has been or may hereafter be, conferred upon the courts of this Commonwealth. JOHN CESSNA, Speaker of the House of Representatives. JOHN P. PENNEY, Speaker of the Senate. OFFICE OF SEC'Y OF THE COMMONWEALTH, HARRISBURG, July 1, 1863. PENNSYLVANIA, SS: I do hereby certify that the foregoing and annexed is a full, true and correct copy of the original Joint Resolution of the General Assembly entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing certain Amendments to the Constitution," as the same remains on file in this office. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the Secretary's office to be affixed, the day and year above written. ELI SLIFER, Secretary of Commonwealth.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hooffland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. In use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to use them. J. NEWTON BROWN. PHILAD'A., June 23, 1861.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS!

Will build up the constitution, and give health and strength to an overtaken and diseased system. PHILADELPHIA, August 12, 1862. Dr. C. M. JACKSON—Dear Sir: While in Virginia, owing to the change of water, I was taken with a severe diarrhoea, which acted incurable, and which greatly weakened me. When we reached Martinsburg, I feared that I should have to come home; but noticing some of your Bitters in the store of Mr. H. B. Price, in that town, I purchased a supply, and on taking it was speedily restored to health. The diarrhoea was quickly checked, and I experienced no return of it. A number of my comrades who suffered in the same manner and from the same cause, with whom I shared the Bitters, join me in this certificate. I expect to return to the seat of war with the Legion, and I shall certainly take a supply of the Bitters in my knapsack. I would not be without it for its weight in gold, particularly on going into a limestone region. Yours, truly, A. E. ALMEUS, Company H, Scott Legion.
