

ODDS & ENDS.

A SOLDIER'S OPINION.—We are permitted to take the following extract from a letter received by Mr. Enoch Wilson, from a soldier in Rosecrank's army. It is another evidence of the high opinion entertained by our soldiers for copperheads: "You spoke of sending the copperheads all south. I second the motion. If the soldiers had a chance at them they would riddle them with minie balls. My opinion of them is that they are too big cowards to face the rebels, and they merely express that kind of sentiment to hide their cowardice. After the soldiers get home the copperheads had better fly to the hills for refuge. For my part I would pay no respect to them."

A very erroneous idea is indulged by many people in relation to the largest city in the world—many confidently asserting that London, or, as it is frequently termed, the Great Metropolis, is far superior both in size and number of its inhabitants. But such is not the case. Jeddo, the capital of Japan, is without any exception, the largest and most populous city in the world. It contains the vast number of one million of dwellings and five millions of human souls. Many of the streets are nineteen Japan seris in length which is equivalent to twenty-two English miles.

There was once a negro very ill, and about to die. His minister called to see him, and told him he must forgive all his enemies before he died. The negro hated one of his brethren heartily, and he would not consent to forgive him for his many acts of meanness toward him; whereupon the sick negro compromised as follows: "If I dies, I forgive dat nigga; but if I gits well, dat nigga must take care."

"Slavery is a divine institution," said George Francis Train, while delivering a speech, in New York. "So is hell," shouted an old man in the audience, and the house came down with terrific cheers.

A Joint Resolution proposing certain Amendments to the Constitution.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendments be proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the tenth article thereof: There shall be an additional section to the third article of the Constitution, to be designated as section four, as follows: Section 4. Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in any actual military service, under a requisition from the President of the United States, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are, or shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election.

There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution to be designated sections eight and nine, as follows: Section 8. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature, containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title, except appropriation bills.

Section 9. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature granting any powers or privileges, in any case, where the authority to grant such powers or privileges, has been or may hereafter be, conferred upon the courts of this Commonwealth.

JOHN CHESNA, Speaker of the House of Representatives
JOHN P. PENNEY, Speaker of the Senate.

OFFICE OF SEC'Y OF THE COMMONWEALTH, HARRISBURG, July 1, 1863.
PENNSYLVANIA, SS:

I do hereby certify that the foregoing and appended is a full, true and correct copy of the original Joint Resolution of the General Assembly entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing certain Amendments to the Constitution," as the same remains on file in this office.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the Secretary's office to be affixed, the day and year above written.

ELI SMIFER, Secretary of Commonwealth.
