Letter from Our Soldiers.

FROM CO. A, EMERGENCY BATTALION—HOPEWELL TO HARRISBURG—VARIOUS ITEMS—COMPANY MUSTERED OUT, PAID OFF, AND SENT HOME. "CAMP CURTIN," HARRISBURG, August 8, 1863.

Correspondence of the Alleghanian.

In his last letter, your correspondent left the "emergency" men sticking in the woods at Hopewell, Bedford county. On Saturday, 1st inst., to our great relief, our battalion received orders to report forthwith at Huntingdon. Owing to the non-arrival of transportation, however, we were unable to do as required until Tuesday following. At 8 A. M. of that morning, we vacated "Camp Mullin," arriving at Hopewell at 9, where we were joined by Maj. Crozier's battalion of "three months men." In an hour or so thereafter, we all took the rail, and, after a journey of four hours, arrived at Huntingdon. Here we were met by orders to the effect that the "emergency" men should proceed, without change of cars, to Harrisburg, to be mustered out, while the "three months" men were to go into their old quarters at "Camp Juniata," near Huntingdon.

It was here given out that our train would start eastward at 5 P. M., thus allowing the soldiers an hour and a half to canvass the town and procure something to eat. In spite of this assurance, however, the train moved off within thirty minutes after our arrival at Huntingdon, taking with it about half of the battalion, the other half being busily engaged at that particular juncture in circulating through all and singular the streets of "ye ancient village." Here was a dilemma, to be sure! The fugitive train was immediately telegraphed to tie up at Mill Creek Station, four miles below town, which reasonable request it saw fit to comply with, remaining in statu quo until the arrival of another train, bringing the residue of the battalion, at 7 P. M. Here the two parties were consolidated into a whole, and the battalion proceeded en route.

Not to weary your readers with details, your correspondent would simply say that, after a long and tiresome journey of thirteen hours, we arrived in Harrisburg next (Wednesday) morning, at 8 o'clock. We immediately marched into Camp Curtin, where we pitched our tents upon almost the identical ground occupied by Captain Flanagan's Ebensburg company—Co. F, 18th Penna. Vols.—one year ago.

Thursday being the President's day of general thanksgiving, our company in a body attended public services at the big tent of the Christian Commission, in camp. The sermon was a powerful effort, and no doubt productive of much good. Honor to those followers of the meek and lowly Jesus, who, leaving friends and the comforts of home, make the dreary camp the scene of their labors. Public service is held in the tent twice every day.

Camp Curtin presents a reasonably busy appearance. Some three thousand soldiers are here, the majority of whom are State militia being discharged. Our battalion comprises all the "emergency" men here. The 17th Penna. Drafted Militia were discharged and paid off a few days ago. A large number of Cambrians were attached to this regiment, who have doubtless ere this arrived home.

Although the services of our battalion have never been puffed to any remarkable degree, still your correspondent has semi-official assurance for saying that the labor performed by us in the tented field is duly appreciated by the proper authorities. The Governor himself says, that, although not called upon to engage in actual battle, we did all that was required of us, the will being equivalent to the deed. With such recognition of our services, it is with pride we doff our martial trappings, and subside into peaceful citizens.

Since our arrival here, it has been decided by Adjutant General Russell that our battalion (of five companies) is entitled to a Lieutenant Colonel, instead of Major. Accordingly Maj. Litzinger has been promoted to the Lieutenant Colonelcy. Justice, though tardy, is always sure.

It has been definitely determined that the order removing Col. McKean's command, ourselves among the number, from Huntingdon to Hopewell, was a forgery, gotten up as a "goak," by some telegraph operator. It is said the latter individual has been arrested by order of Gen. Couch. If so, your correspondent would respectfully suggest that he be hung to the highest telegraph pole in his immediate neighborhood—as a retaliatory "goak."—What think you?

A grand ratification of Gov. Curtin's re-nomination was had in town on Thursday night. The first thing in order was a torchlight procession, after which several speeches were delivered,—among them one by the Governor. It was a splendid effort, was the latter,—eloquent, patriotic, convincing—but, inasmuch as it has been published in full in the daily papers, your correspondent will not attempt even an abstract thereof. Several thousand persons were present in the Capitol grounds, during the exercises, and the most intense enthusiasm prevailed. The Governor is a universal favorite, especially among the soldiers, who will vote for him to a man.

Your correspondent must not forget to mention that, on Thursday morning, on the reception of the news of his re-nomination, three rousing cheers were given for Gov. Curtin by Co. A.

Writing in the midst of the confusion necessarily arising from the mustering out process, your correspondent must be pardoned for the many imperfections manifest in this scried. With a soldier, you know, the matter of mustering out is of paramount importance—corresponding, a secondary consideration.

Yours, etc., "JAY."

—Since the above was written, Co. A has returned. It was paid off Saturday evening, and arrived here Monday evening. The members composing it, without a single exception, are in the best of health, and express themselves unqualifiedly satisfied with their sojourn experience. The heroes of a two-months campaign—of an "emergency" the darkest our beloved State has ever known, during the existence of which the bloodiest battle of the war was fought and won, and upon our own soil—they are welcome home. May their laurels, bloodless but dear-bought, always remain green, and the willingness with which they confronted a desperate foe be long remembered to their honor.—Ed. Alleghanian.

PRESENTATION EXTRAORDINARY.—On last Friday our "City Fathers" were the recipients of an unexpected present of a rather unusual character. It happened in this wise:

For some time past the ordinance prohibiting swine running loose through our streets, has been in force, and, as a natural consequence, the boys around town have been doing a large business in the way of cornering stray piggies, and "impounding" them. One of the pigs thus "arbitrarily arrested" was so unfortunate as to die, whereupon its owner, deciding that as the borough authorities were the main cause of its death, they were best entitled to its remains, procured a wheel-barrow and conveyed it from his residence to the Diamond in the centre of town, where his defunct "lard"ship was for the time being deposited. The laugh, as a matter of course, came in here, but was considerably changed to the other side, when, upon the borough authorities being notified of the occurrence, the gentlemanly donor was fined five dollars for depositing a nuisance upon the highway, and when he, in addition, was obliged to pay a cartman for removing the odoriferous carcass to a more appropriate place of sepulture!

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—In the case of the United States vs. Joseph Will, indicted for obstructing the enrollment, which was tried before Judge M'Candless, in Pittsburg, during the past week, the jury found the defendant guilty. A motion in arrest of judgment was made by defendant's counsel, M. D. Magehan, Esq., on the ground that the statute under which the defendant was indicted imposed no penalty for resisting an enrolling officer. The matter will be argued at a future day.

WHO IS HE?—We find the following paragraph in the Harrisburg Telegraph of Wednesday morning: Yesterday, a young man, hailing from Ebensburg, Cambria county, had his pocket picked, in this city, of a pocket-book containing $40 in greenbacks, and two baggage checks, on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, Nos. 5920 and 3189. If the thief will return the checks to this office, he may retain the money, as the trunks are very valuable.

—To allow us to make some necessary improvements, no paper will be issued from this office next week.

IN TOWN.—We had recently the pleasure of greeting our friends, Dr. Jno. H. Clarke and family, formerly of this place, but latterly hailing from the "Smoky City," who were in town to pay a brief visit to their numerous friends in this vicinity. A few weeks' rustication, with the addition of our refreshing mountain breezes, will, we doubt not, be beneficial to our friends, who may then carry back to their city home a grateful remembrance of Old Cambria. May the withering hand of Time ever rest lightly upon them as now.

Mr. W. Linton, of Johnstown, recently of the 12th Penna. Cavalry, illumined our town with the light of his genial countenance, on last Friday week. So far from his recent campaign proving deleterious to his health, he presents even a better appearance than usual. Long may he wave!

IRON CITY COLLEGE, PITTSBURG, PA.—We were surprised on visiting the College a few days since to find it completely filled with a most interesting and industrious class of young men. The immediate and constant attention of the Principals to their students, secures to them the very highest advantages, which is evinced in the steady and regularly increasing demand among business men everywhere, for graduates of this school, as every student is thoroughly and carefully instructed, and NONE but competent accountants are ever awarded the Diploma of the Institution.—Pittsburg Post.

THIEVES AROUND.—On Thursday evening, 6th inst., some scoundrel not having the fear of the law before his eyes, entered the stable connected with the Cresson Springs House, and therefrom feloniously abstracted two horses, with saddles, bridles, and all the other necessary accoutrements. Although no traces of the perpetrators of this villainy have yet been discovered, it is to be hoped that they may not always go "unwhipped of justice," but that they may receive their full deserts.

REMOVAL.—During a recent visit to Philadelphia we called upon our enterprising friend, A. H. Francis, at his new location, 513 and 519 Commerce st., where we found him, as usual, busily engaged in attending to his numerous customers. To those of our readers requiring anything in his line, we cordially recommend this house, as being one of the most accommodating in the city. See card in another column.

THANKS.—Last week we were so fortunate as to be presented with a card of Miner's Aluminium Pens,—a useful and seasonable gift. They have thus far proved to be a superior article, and well worthy the attention of "scribers." They do not corrode, but remain good to the last, and cost but twenty cents per dozen. Address Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth st., Pittsburg, Penn.

DIED.—At his residence in Philadelphia, on Thursday, 6th inst., JACOB H. EGNER, in the 48th year of his age.

Mr. Egner was well known to many of our citizens, and his death will be generally deplored. He leaves a wife and a large family to mourn his early demise.

PROVOST MARSHAL'S OFFICE, 17TH DIST. PENNA., HUNTINGDON, June 11, 1873. MEN WANTED FOR THE INVALID CORPS. Only those faithful soldiers who, from wounds or the hardships of war, are no longer fit for active field duty will be received into this Corps of Honor. Enlistments will be for three years unless sooner discharged. Pay and allowances same as for officers and men of the United States Infantry; except that no premiums or bounties for enlistment will be allowed. This will not invalidate any pensions or bounties which may be due for previous services. All persons honorably discharged from the service, not liable to draft, whether they have served in this war or not, can be admitted into this Corps of Honor. Men who are still in service and unable to perform effective field, may be transferred to this corps. For the convenience of service, the men will be selected for three grades of duty.—Those who are most efficient and able bodied, and capable of performing guard duty, etc., etc., will be armed with muskets, and assigned to companies of the First Battalion. Those of the next degree of efficiency, including those who have lost a hand or an arm; and the least effective, including those who have lost a foot or a leg, to the companies of the Second or Third Battalions; they will be armed with swords.

The duties will be chiefly to act as provost guards and garrisons for cities; guards for hospitals and other public buildings; and as clerks, orderlies, etc. If found necessary they may be assigned to forts, etc. Acting Assistant Provost Marshals General are authorized to appoint Officers of the Regular Service, or of the Invalid Corps, to administer the oath of enlistment to those men who have completely fulfilled the prescribed conditions of admission to the Invalid Corps, viz: 1. That the applicant is unfit for service in the field. 2. That he is fit for the duties, or some of them, indicated above. 3. That, if not now in the service, he was honorably discharged. 4. That he is meritorious and deserving. For enlistment or further information apply to the Board of Enrollment for the district in which the applicant is a resident. J. D. CAMPBELL, Capt. and Provost Marshal. Ebensburg, July 2, 1863-tf.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

---1863--- The New York Tribune first issued in 1841, now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th day of December, 1862, is as follows: Daily, 60,125; Semi-Weekly, 17,250; Weekly, 148,000; Aggregate, 215,375.

Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, The Tribune has political convictions which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICANISM. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the aristocracy and despots of the Old World, who fondly hail in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever. The Tribune devotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Invention, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the investigation and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust is soon to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that no other-wise can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation. TERMS:—The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of The Tribune. Our new terms are: DAILY TRIBUNE, 3 cents. Single Copy, 3 cents. Mail Subscribers, one year, ($11 issues,) $8 SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE, One Copy, one year, (104 issues,) $5 Two Copies, one year, $8 Five Copies, one year, $12 Ten Copies, one year, $21.50 WEEKLY TRIBUNE, One Copy, one year, (52 issues,) $2 Three Copies, one year, $5 Five Copies, one year, $8 Ten Copies, one year, $15 Any larger number, addressed to names of subscribers, $1.50 each. An extra copy will be sent to every club of ten. Twenty copies, to one address, one year, $15, and any larger number at same price.—An extra copy will be sent to clubs of twenty. To clubs of thirty, THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE will be sent. To clubs of fifty, THE DAILY TRIBUNE will be sent gratis. Address THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Buildings, New York.

When drafts can be procured, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post Office and State should in all cases be plainly written. Subscribers who send money by Express must prepay the Express charges, else it will be deducted from the remittance.
