WILL $300 COMMUTATION EXEMPT A PERSON FROM DRAFT FOR THREE YEARS?
The Lancaster Express publishes the following opinion of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, in regard to the effect of the payment of the $300 commutation by a drafted man, which sets forth the law of the case in so clear a light that we cannot see why there should be any conflict of opinion on that point. The conclusion arrived at is not only law but it is common sense; and laws ought certainly to be construed in accordance with common sense:

LANCASTER, August 27, 1863.
"Dear Sir: In answer to your inquiry, my opinion is that the payment of the $300 commutation and the furnishing of a substitute have precisely the same effect. Either of them frees the drafted man from further draft for three years. He is, in effect, in service, either by himself or another. The payment of $300 makes the Government his agent to procure a substitute. The Government has consented to act as such agent. The law says he may "on or before the day fixed for his appearance, furnish an acceptable substitute, or pay such sum not exceeding $300 for the procurement of such substitute, and thereupon the person furnishing the substitute, or paying the money, shall be discharged from further liability under that draft." No one doubts that furnishing a substitute excuses for three years. To give a different effect to the payment of the commutation seems to me little less than an absurdity. It is a very mischievous misconception, which, if need be, I have no doubt Congress will correct."
THADDEUS STEVENS.
"Ed. REILLY, Esq."

Says the Huntingdon Globe, a Democratic journal: Elect Andrew G. Curtin and you keep in the Chief Magistracy of the State a man whose heart is with his country, and against her enemies—whose action has ever been wise and patriotic, and whose principles are those of Washington; such a man as in the times of danger demand, and one in whom the people may trust as a leader, the soldier may look to as a friend. Keep him in the gubernatorial chair he fills so nobly, and you defeat the rebellion at the polls of Pennsylvania. We ask you, Democratic voters, can you vote against this Governor simply because he is not your party candidate? Are you offered a better man? Think of what Governor Curtin has done; of how well he has been tried; and answer if party politics shall force you to oppose him, that a rebel sympathizer may occupy his place. Every man who feels earnestly opposed to the success of the rebellion must vote for Curtin.

Pennsylvania has never held so momentous an election as that which takes place within her borders in October next. The issue is not a local, but a national one. Heretofore, we have gone to the polls as Pennsylvanians. Now, we must go to the polls simply as American citizens. Heretofore, we have merely had to choose between the success or failure of this or that political party. Now, we must choose between the life or death of the nation—Heretofore, in very many cases, our elections have recorded the triumph of men. The election we are now about to hold must record the triumph of a principle—the perpetuity of the American Republic—or it will probably be the last election that will ever be held within the limits of our State.

The Indiana Messenger, an independent paper, places the Union ticket at the head of its columns, and in doing so says: "In placing the names of the Union ticket at the head of our paper, we do not change our position—we merely avow it more emphatically and unequivocally. We still maintain our independence in political and all other matters. We intend, now and at all times, to do what we believe to be right, to support such candidates as are honest, most capable, and most unequivocally loyal, unswayed by demagogues, unfluenced by passion, unswayed by prejudice."

The Greek fire which is so distasteful to the fire-eaters of Charleston, is the invention of Mr. Short, who was for a long time a suitor to the Government to use this projectile, but did not succeed until it was recommended by Admiral Porter by his experience at Vicksburg. Meantime representatives of foreign governments have applied for the invention without avail. The fire missiles, forty or fifty in number, are enclosed in a shell which is itself enclosed in one of the ordinary shells of the service and explodes.

Richmond pays high for the honor of being the capital of the Southern Confederacy. Her State taxes alone are equal to one-fourth of the State revenue. They used to be only one-eleventh of the whole amount.

purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R.
Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 29th, 1858,
has been subjected to a very severe test,
which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed thro' the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement or 1st Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored.
This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of
