

ODDS & ENDS.

LAONICS.—Belegity is preferable to munificence.
All faults are pardonable when one has the courage to avow them.
Avoid political and religious discussions as much as you can.
Reflect calmly—resolve prudently—perform promptly.
Hasty words are soon repented.
Evil thoughts are worse enemies than lions or tigers.
In conversing, give all leave to speak in their turn.
Speak no evil of the dead or the absent.
Keep aloof from quarrels; be neither a witness nor a party.
One ounce of discretion is worth a pound of wit.
Liberality is not in giving largely, but in giving wisely.
If the counsel be good, no matter who gave it.

Not long since the keeper of a lager beer saloon was arrested upon the charge of selling intoxicating liquor without license, when he attempted to prove that Teutonic beverage was not an intoxicating drink.
A number of witnesses who had amply tested its qualities, were called one after another, until finally an old German named W., took the stand, and the question was asked him,
"Do you consider lager intoxicating?"
"Well," replied W., "as for dat I can't say. I drinksh feefy or seext glasses a day, and it never hurtsh me, put I don't know how it would be if a man vash to make a hog of himself!"

Horace Maynard, of Tennessee, who was at first opposed to the emancipation proclamation, in a speech in Butler county, Ohio, recently declared himself convinced that the President was right, and that he was wrong. Mr. Maynard said that he had heard only one complaint in Tennessee, and that was, "some of the people are sorry the President did not include the negroes our 'true friends, and their friendship is much better than their enmity.'"

Some tell us that it will cost a vast deal of money to preserve our nationality. They are wretches who appeal to considerations so mean and sordid. What would you think of a fellow who should remind you in your sickness that it would be very expensive to save your life? And is the life of the mightiest republic of all time to be more higgled about than the life of an individual? "All that a man has will he give for his life." All that a man has he should give for his country's life.

Illustration is frequently more effective than argument, and an old Pennsylvania Democrat, who voted for Gov. Curtin, understood its force when he employed the following simile: "To send my son to the war to kill rebels, and to stay at home myself to vote against the Government, is like hitching a team of oxen to one end of a wagon and a team of horses to the other, when the only result will be pulling the wagon to pieces."

An Irishman once said to another, "and ye have taken the teetotal pledge, have ye?"
"Indad, I have, and am not ashamed of it, either."
"And did not Paul tell Timothy to take a little wine for his stomach's sake?"
"So he did, but my name's not Timothy, and there is nothing the matter with my stomach."

An Irishman attending a Quaker meeting, hearing a young friend make the following announcement: "Brethren and sisters, I am going to marry a daughter of the Lord."
"Och'n ye are," said Pat. "Faith an' be jabers, an' it'll be a long time before ye'll see your father-in-law."

We learn that the recent large majority for Curtin in this State was unconstitutional. We might however have known this, as there are only three things which are constitutional, nowadays, and they are Slavery, Copperheadism, and Rebellion.

An impatient Welshman called to his wife, "Come, come, isn't breakfast ready? I've had nothing since yesterday, and to-morrow will be the third day!"

A young lady being asked by a politician which party she was in favor of, replied that she preferred a wedding party.

A flower is sweeter the more it is pressed. So is a young woman.

A CARD—
Widener's Friend.
Lancaster Tp. July 29, 1860.
Messrs. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN.
The small size No. 1 Salmagander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R.
Bar, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1859,
has been subjected to a very severe test,
which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was the second floor and fell to the basement or 1st floor, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored.
This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from me.
Yours Respectfully,
SAMUEL HANCK.
