CHAT WITH OUR READERS.

After a couple of days of most enchanting Indian Summer, during which the genial, dreamy atmosphere almost persuaded one into believing that Spring had made us a pop-visit out of season, on Sunday winter again came down on us—like a wolf on the fold. Early Sunday morning, those who peeped out of their windows saw the great couriers of the Frost King, in the shape of a few scattering flakes of snow falling listlessly to the ground: somewhat later, they saw the flakes descending in systematic order, filling the sky and ground below with their prismatic brilliance, and giving promise of "a right smart of a fall."

later still, they saw the bosom of Mother Earth covered to the depth of many inches, very chaste and clear as to general aspect, and quite midwinterish as to peculiarity and particularity. Sunday though it was, we fear many a joyous prelibation unbidden rose with regard to fun on runners—on ice—"Your fastest horse, sirrah, and, mind ye, your narrowest sleigh!"

The snow continued to fall throughout the entire day, yet, in consequence of the extreme dampness of the ground, taken in connection with a sort of anti-frigid breeze which persisted in blowing, it failed to make much of a show—did the snow—Wherever two flakes fell, one melted; so, if two feet of snow fell during the day, only one was permitted to remain at night. Those thoughtful persons who jet-blackened their boots the evening preceding, with a view to go to church or elsewhere in proper trim, had their labor for their pains. The liquid snow, assisted by a liberal substratum of mud, effectually took the shine off them in short order. The moral of this is, always consult your almanac as to the probable phase the weather will assume on special occasions, or else wear patent-leathers.

Saying as we have said, we presume it were unnecessary to remark that the article of sleighing failed to go down in the hills. Monday and Tuesday made the matter no better in this respect, and as we write the airy bells haven't yet made their appearance—on the contrary, many bells. This is about the time of year, however, when the crystallized vapor settles upon the hoary peaks of ye Mountain for a three months' stay, and, inasmuch as there is no telling what a day may bring forth, who knows but to-morrow morning we may awake to a realization of a two-foot snow, with sleighs scudding in every direction, and the air resonant with wily melody!

The winter which has just been ushered in is going to be an extremely severe one, if we may believe the predictions of weather prophets. Migratory birds seceded southward earlier this fall than usual; the brook trout are said to be deserting the shallow streams and betaking themselves to deep water; the muskrat, or, as was at last accounts, busily engaged in giving an extra coating of mud to his hibernating habitation; and the husks on the corn this fall are positively declared to be thicker than they are wont to be—all dead-sure indications that the air will prove chillier and the winds piercinger and the snows deeper this winter than common. We mention this matter, not that we entertain implicit faith in the fallibility of weather prophets, but that our readers may mark their prognostications, and note whether or not they be verified.

the above quotation for provender a cow would easily "eat her head off" a couple of times before Spring. Hay is very scarce and very dear. An intimate acquaintance with this fact must induce many of our farmers and stock-raisers to kill off or sell their surplus cattle, and thereby save the cost of "wintering" the same. Beef, as a consequence, will most likely be plenty and cheap this season.

COL. JACOB M. CAMPBELL.—A correspondent of the Baltimore American writes as follows from Cumberland, Md., Nov. 4: "By arrangements just perfected, I learn that Col. Jacob M. Campbell, of the 54th regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, has been assigned to the command of all the troops along the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Sleepy Creek, Va., and Cumberland, Md., in addition to his present command at Romney and Burlington, Va. This will be most gratifying intelligence to the loyal citizens of Morgan and Hampshire counties, as well as to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. and their employees." Col. Campbell is a resident of this county, and was one of the first to buckle on his sword when hostilities were declared by the South.—We are glad to hear of his preferment.

BLAIR COUNTY ITEMS.—The streets of Hollidaysburg were, for the first time, lighted with gas on Saturday evening week.—The First National Bank of Hollidaysburg has gone into operation.—Henry Brunell, of Williamsburg, was seriously if not fatally injured by a railroad accident at the Williamsburg Furnace, on the 28th ult.—Capt. John Piper, of Hollidaysburg, was thrown from a buggy on Sunday week, his shoulder bone dislocated, and he otherwise severely injured.—Mr. W. A. B. Satterfield has vacated the tripod of the Hollidaysburg Whig, John Brotherline, its former editor, succeeding him.

—Conductor Scott, of the Branch, has laid us under obligations by the present of the new schedules of the Penna. Railroad and the Eb. & Cresson Branch. —Tudor and Jones keep good tobacco and segars for sale.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE. JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 16, 1863.

Dear Alleghanian: On Saturday morning last, a shoemaker, whose family reside here, met with a fatal accident near Penn station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, where he had been for some time working at his trade. It appears he had been at some house in the neighborhood until four o'clock that morning, and while passing along the track in the direction of his boarding-house, an approaching train caused him to move hastily to one side, and not paying particular attention to where he was stepping, he fell over the side of a culvert some thirty feet deep.—His condition was not discovered until about nine o'clock, when assistance was procured and he conveyed to the residence of his son-in-law, a short distance off. At this time he talked rationally, detailing the manner in which the accident occurred, but when one of the persons present attempted to remove his overcoat, he expired. It is supposed the spinal column was injured just beneath the neck. The remains of the deceased were brought to this place the same evening for interment.

The boy whom I noticed some time ago as having been badly burned by his clothes taking fire, died last week from the effects of injuries received.

Rev. Peter Zahm, several years ago pastor of the English Lutheran congregation of this place, has been assisting in holding a series of religious exercises in that church during the past and present weeks. Mr. Z. is a deep, earnest thinker and an unique and pleasing speaker, and I have no doubt his efforts will be productive of much good.

The wintry weather of last week changed into Indian Summer, and for several days we enjoyed the mild, ethereal atmosphere peculiar to that brief season. It appears to me as if autumn had chosen these dreamy days for its expiring throes.

"No funeral train Is sweeping past; yet, on the stream and wood, With melancholy light, the moonbeams rest; Like a pale, spotless shroud; the air is stirred As by a mourner's sigh; and, on yon cloud That floats so still and placidly thro' heaven, The spirits of the Seasons seem to stand."

"A change comes o'er the spirit of the dream;" and the romance of yesterday is succeeded by the rainy and very disagreeable reality of to-day.

"Revolutions sweep O'er earth, like troubled visions o'er the breast Of dreaming sorrow."

Thus with the weather—the changes which occur are like the fitful, varying scenes of a perturbed vision.

Yours, MAY LEON.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—We are in receipt of this popular Lady's Magazine for December. It is a splendid number. Peterson will be greatly improved in 1863. It will contain nearly 1,000 pages of double column reading matter; 14 steel plates; 12 colored steel fashion plates; 12 colored patterns in Berlin work, embroidery or crochet, and 900 wood engravings—proportionately more than any other periodical gives. Its stories and novelets are by the best writers. In 1864, four original copyright novelets will be given. Its fashions are always the latest and prettiest. Every neighborhood ought to make up a club. Its price is but two Dollars a year, or a dollar less than Magazines of its class. It is the Magazine for the times! To clubs it is cheaper still, viz:—three copies for $5, five for $7.50, or eight for $10. To every person getting up a club, at these rates, the Publisher will send an extra copy gratis. Specimens sent (if written for) to those wishing to get up clubs. Address, post-paid, Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut st., Philad.

So.—The Johnstown Democrat says that "the gentleman who 'lost his mind' before the election has been Dunn ever since." Careful inquiry on our part has demonstrated the fact that whilst the editor of the Democrat was a Campbell before the election, he has been a considerably Calmer-bell since. That 15,000 Union majority is popularly supposed to be the cause of this effect.

A "pusher," pushing ahead without due regard to time and place, ran into the Local Freight west, wrecking a couple of cars, running the rest off the track, and playing smash generally. No person was injured thereby.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for the benefit they have conferred. J. NEWTON BROWN. PHILAD., June 23, 1861.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS! Will build up the constitution, and give health and strength to an overtaken and diseased system. PHILADELPHIA, August 12, 1862. DR. C. M. JACKSON—Dear Sir: While in Virginia, owing to the change of water, I was taken with a severe diarrhoea, which seemed incurable, and which greatly weakened me. When we reached Martinsburg, I feared that I should have to come home; but noticing some of your Bitters in the store of Mr. H. H. Price, in that town, I purchased a supply, and on taking it was speedily restored to health. The diarrhoea was quickly checked, and I experienced no return of it. A number of my comrades who suffered in the same manner and from the same cause, with whom I shared the Bitters, join me in this certificate. I expect to return to the seat of war with the Legion, and I shall certainly take a supply of the Bitters in my knapsack. I would not be without it for its weight in gold, particularly on going into a limestone region. A. E. ALMEUS, Yours, truly, Company B, Scott Legion.
