CHIT CHAT WITH OUR READERS .-The year which is rapidly drawing to a close has proven rich in blessings. During its continuance, we have had meted out to us a full measure of success in the war being waged for the perpetuity of great and eternal principles; our various industrial relations have been prospered abundantly; the earth has yielded a fruitful harvest; sickness and pestilence have been withholden; and harmony prevails throughout our borders, excepting where, by the exceeding wickedness of designing men, a rebellion, now tottering to its fall, still rears its hideous head. In view of this gratifying state of affairs, the President of the United States, by general proclamation, named and set apart Thursday, 29th inst., as a day whereon to return thanks to Almighty God for blessings conferred, and to humbly solicit a continuance of the same; and the Governors of all the loyal States have endorsed and sanctioned the appointment. To-day, then, we will witness the sublime spectacle of a Nation joining hands as one man and going forth to an acknowledgment of dependence upon the Most High. To-day log house and log stable twenty millions of voices will unite in singing psalms of thanksgiving that He hath vouchsafed unto us mercies without number, both as individuals and as a people-twenty millions of tongues will humbly beseech Him to encompass us with the shadow of His hand for all coming time. Oh! it will be grand-a proud. haughty, avaricious it may be, nation, in unity of purpose and singleness of heart, willingly bowing down and worshiping the Giver of all good. The diference between "the situation" as we now see it and as it would have been had the enemy been victorious at Gettysburg is too palpable to require comment. Those brave men who helped us to this signal deliverance from the hands of the foe, be they living or dead, should not be forgotten. Living, a prayer should ascend from every household and closet for their safety on other battle-fields; dead, their memory should be reverently honored.

Let the day be remembered. At one time a society, engineered by women, had an existence in this place, the object of which was the relief of our sick and wounded soldiers in hospitals .--It was a Good Samaritan society, indeed, telieving the sick, comforting the distressed, clothing the naked, and ministering in many ways to the necessities of for a long time has had a habitation or wounded soldiers languish in our hospitals | tribute to his memory : low as ever. to our prisoners at Richmond, and several boat-loads have been dispatched thither. The supply, however, is not equal to the demand. In view of this fact, and not forgetting that other fact that we have in our various hospitals thousands of helpless beings who depend upon the women of the loyal North for comfort and assistance in their trials and tribulations, we make the suggestion that the Soldiers' Aid Society of Ebensburg be resuscitated. The women can do nothing more-they should do nothing less.

Upon the organization, in May, 1861, of the "Cambria Guards," he became a member of the company, and went forth to fight the battles of his country. Becoming incapacitated for active service by reason of physical disability several months thereafter, he was transferred to a hospital in Washington. Here he remained until six weeks ago, when he was discharged from the service and sent home-alas! sent home to die. Kind, courteous, intelligent, the deceased was greatly beloved by a large circle of relatives and friends, who will sorrow and mourn at his untimely demise. His remains were interred in Lloyd's cemetery on Monlay, whither a large concourse attended, to pay the last solemn rites to the dead. He died in the hope of a blessed immortality above.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 23, 1863. Dear Alleghanian: A fearful accident occurred at Conemaugh station, two miles above this place, on Wednesday of last week, which resulted in the death of four men and probable tatal injury of two others. The facts, as near as I can ascertain them, are as follows: An engine which had been used for the purpose of assisting heavy trains over the mountain, was being brought out of the engine-house to be attached to a train of stock cars, which were destined for the east. In the rear of these trains there is generally a car for the accommodation of drovers who accompany their stock, and it was while the engine was approaching this train that from some cause its boiler exploded, throwing the engine a distance of thirty feet in the air, in its descent striking partly upon this drovers' car, and partly upon a truck loaded-with oil. Of three persons in the car, two were instantly killed, and the third mangled in such a horrible manner that he expired a few hours after the occurrence. The engineer, fireman and flagman were on the engine at the time of the explosion, the first of whom was scalded and otherwise so badly injured as to cause his death the next day. The fireman was thrown several rods, also badly scalded, and it is feared internally injured. The flagman was seriously hurt, and his precarious condition precludes much hope of his recovery. The names of the killed and injured are as follows:-John Hodges, Ky., and A. J. Cole, Toledo, O., drovers; Nathan Rosenfuchs, N. Y., pedler; and James Finley, Altoona, engineer, killed. Charles Donaho, of Hollidaysburg, fireman, and James Mills, of Centreville, flagman, are the

The officers and men of the 110th can congratulute themselves upon having secured the services of Rev. H., as he stands sans puer et sans reproche in this neighborhood.

The Ebensburg correspondent of the Democrat finds fault with our ladies visiting the railroad depot. Now, we boast of as moral and virtuous a set of girls as can be found anywhere, and if they see fit to promenade to the station, or "any other place," whose business is it but their own? I would remind the fault-finding scribe of an old saw which runs, "Evil to him that evil thinks." All of which is respectfully MAY LEON.

GODEY .- Godey's Lady's Book for December has been received. It would be like "carrying coals to Newcastle" to tell our lady readers that this is emphatically the Fashion Magazine of the day; so we will content ourself with saying that now is the time to renew subscriptions. The new volume commences with January Terms: One copy, one year, $3; two copies, $5; three copies, $6; four copies, $7; eight copies, and an extra one to person sending club, $15. From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an acloholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to use J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, August 12, 1862. DR. C. M. JACKSON-Dear Sir: While in Virginia, owing to the change of water, I was taken with a severe diarrhoea, which seemed incurable, and which greatly weakened me. When we reached Martinsburg, I feared that I should have to come home; but noticing some of your Bitters in the store of Mr. H. H. Price, in that town, I purchased a supply, and on taking it was speedily restored to health. The diarrhoea was quickly checked, and I experienced no return of it. A number of my comrades who suffered in the same manner and from the same cause, with whom I shared the Bitters, join me in this certificate. I expect to return to the seat of war with the Legion, and I shall certainly take a supply of the Bitters in my knapsack. I would not be without it for its weight in gold, particularly on going into a limestone region.
