

ODDS & ENDS.

A correspondent writing from the Army of the Cumberland gives the following incident:

"While riding up Mission Hill on the memorable 25th, turning my horse to the right and left to avoid treading upon the wounded, I had dismounted from my horse to give water to a dying boy, who lay upon his gun with a bullet hole through his head, when, a few yards to the right, I observed an officer being carried down the hill on a stretcher. Riding up, I inquired of the men: 'Who have you here?'"

"Adjutant Marsh, of the 21st Michigan."

"Where are you wounded, Adjutant?"

"In the left arm," was the reply.

"Badly?" I inquired; when with a smile lighting up his face, at the same instant I discovered the arm adhering to the body by a small piece of flesh, he replied:

"My arm is gone; that's nothing; we've beaten them, thank God, and the star of the Chickamauga defeat is obliterated. Let the arm perish; such a victory is worth a thousand arms."

AN IDEA OF FAITH.—A female teacher of a school that stood on the banks of a stream wished to communicate to her pupils an idea of faith. While she was trying to explain to them the meaning of the word, a small boat glided in sight along the stream. Seizing upon the incident for an illustration, she exclaimed:

"If I were to tell you that there was a leg of mutton in that boat, you would believe me would you not, without even seeing it yourselves?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied the scholars.

"Well, that is faith," replied the school-mistress.

The next day, in order to test their recollection of the lesson, she inquired:

"What is faith?"

"A leg of mutton in a boat?" was the answer shouted from all parts of the school-room.

A MONSTROUS LONG BEARD.—The longest beard that is mentioned in history was that of the noted John Mayo, painter to the Emperor Charles V. It is said of and that though he was very tall, his beard was so long that he could tread upon it. He was very proud of it, and had it generally tied up with great care, and fastened with a ribbon to a button-hole. He used sometimes to untie it, by direction of the Emperor, who, making him sit down to table with him; with all the windows open, took great delight in seeing the wind blow this long beard in the faces of his courtiers. The reign of Henry IV. of France, was the golden age of beards, then it was that the modes of cutting them were so various. Beards were clipped round, square, or ending in a point, and sometimes shaped like a fan, or artichoke leaf.

A CARD.—WIMMER'S BEIDGE, Lancaster, Tp. July 30, 1862. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN.—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe, which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adams B. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1859, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my valuables together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Dollars and Dollars, ($20.00) was in my Mill when it was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of gas confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many by standing a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK.

A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm. At EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia.

1863. TINWARE! 1863. SHEET-IRON WARE. COPPER WARE. J. & H. HERRINGTON
