

John H. Jones, Dec'd.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Our beloved friend and brother, John H. Jones, dec'd., was too well known in our midst to need any introduction, or any apology for commending a Christian life so interesting, endearing, and so variegated.

He was born in Cambria township, Cambria county, August 16, 1836, and was the son of Mr. Daniel Jones and Mrs. Margaret Jones, (now Mrs. Williams.)—He was received a member of the Congregational Church of Ebensburg in 1848, when he was eleven years of age. In September, 1853, he entered Jefferson College, Canonsburg, where for two years he continued studying assiduously. In the fall of 1858, he went to Oberlin College, Ohio, in which connection he continued until his death, except during that noted interval, in September, 1862, when Cincinnati was threatened by the rebels, when he enlisted in the C. V. M. After his company had been disbanded, he still felt a desire to do something for his country, and engaged as a nurse in a hospital in that city, where for a year he gave faithful and untiring attention to the spiritual as well as temporal wants of sick and wounded soldiers. On returning to College, thereafter, he found his health rapidly declining. His old disease, fever, took a still stronger hold on him; so his physician peremptorily advised him to leave school at once and go home. This he attempted to do, but on his way hither from Pittsburgh, the burning fever again seized him, and, becoming bewildered therefrom, he knew not where to stop off, and hence was taken on to Philadelphia.

There, providentially, he was immediately found by his cousin, Mr. Ezekiel Hughes, but in spite of medical skill and careful attention, he died October 2, 1863, in the 27th year of his age. The following day his mortal remains were conveyed hither, and on the 4th consigned to the tomb.

Notwithstanding the abundant material furnished for a complete memoir, in this form we can give but a brief sketch of his life. He was most devoted in the service of his Master. With all his insatiable thirst for reading and knowledge, his Bible was still his best friend and companion from childhood up, whether at home, in college, or during his voyage across the ocean. While in Africa, in 1856-7, his heart yearned toward the poor benighted heathen he found there, and he then and there formed a resolution, which was never changed, to devote his life to the labor of a missionary. On his return home, and during his subsequent stay in college, his chief and only study seemed to be to fit himself for the high and noble calling of a missionary.

As he lived, he died; he died in the triumphs of faith. A short time before he ceased to breathe, his mother asked him whether he still loved Jesus. He looked into her face, and with a heavenly smile, said—"Oh, yes, mother, I do; and I shall soon be with Him, and see Him as He is."

OBERLIN, O., Oct. 30, 1863.

To the Friends and Relatives of our deceased Brother, John H. Jones:—We, the members of the Students' Ministerial Association, feeling that, in the death of brother Jones, ourselves as well as you have cause to mourn, take this opportunity of expressing to you our sympathy in this bereavement. The departed brother was for a long time connected with us in this Association. He was one of our most active and devoted members, assiduous in promoting the interests of the Association, as well as in helping forward the great cause in which we are laboring. He looked upon the work of the ministry as being of the first importance, and felt it a great honor as well as responsibility to enter it.—He possessed a lively sense of spiritual things, and though he often lamented his coldness toward the Savior, yet we believe his heart was most fully committed to the Savior's cause.

We rejoice in the full confidence that our loss is his gain. He is now with the Christ whom it was his delight to serve. We mourn our bereavement, yet we must praise God for that saving mercy which enables us to mourn as those not without hope.

Accept, dear friends, our kindest sympathies. That this affliction may lead you nearer to the Savior of our departed brother is our prayer.

Most truly yours,
C. N. POND, H. W. GATES,

OBERLIN, Nov. 4, 1863.

Whereas, An all-wise Providence has taken from us one of our number, Mr. J. H. Jones, Resolved, That we cherish him in our memory as a faithful and much esteemed society member, and mourn him as a warm-hearted friend.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with his friends in their affliction, and point them to comfort for that Savior whom he so firmly trusted and devoutly served.

A CARD.—

WITNES'S BEING,
LANCASTER Wp. July 20, 1860.
MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN! The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam Blair, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe loss, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends and representing a value of over Twenty Dollars, and Dollars, ($20,000) was in my possession, and was destroyed on the night of the 25th of July, 1860, and passed through the fire unscathed. The safe was on the second story and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of gas confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to my great surprise, a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words.
Yours Respectfully,
[Sigsbee] SAMUEL BLACK.
