CHIT-CHAT WITH OUR READERS.—During the past week, we have been enjoying weather of almost every imaginable size, shape and complexion. We have had snow, suggestive of Edgar A. Poe and of two in a bed o' nights; we have had rain, suggestive of rafts gliding to market adown the Susquehan', of leaky roofs, and of umbrellas; we have had shine—of both the sun and moon persuasion—suggestive of chip hats, copperheads coming out of their holes, lemonade, trout fishing, maple sugar, and of partnership walks out the plank road into green fields after supper; we have had storms, suggestive of—well, of anything except of going out of doors. Furthermore, we have had mud. We are sorry to say we have got this latter yet—badly. We expect to have it for some time to come. This is about the season when that commodity does most abound, not here alone, but everywhere; therefore, in this particular, we are not unique. We have got a good word for our mud. Unlike that of certain localities we wot of, it does not stick closer than a poor relation, neither is its touch especial contamination. On the contrary, it is of the earth earthy, and not of filth filthy. It will easily rub off. In this respect it differs materially from our moral blemishes. Just here we desire to enter our protest against their way of doing business down at Pittsburg. When it commences thawing there, subsequent to a "freeze," the scavengers go to work and cut a channel of about a foot in width in each of the gutters, so as to afford ready egress for the melted water. This channel often becomes clogged with floating ice, or coated over with slush, and a person of unsuspicious turn of mind would readily commit his whole weight thereto upon the presumption that it was solid surface. We know. We had an extra touch administered to our calfskins the other day, and started down town for a promenade. Didn't go further than the first of these channels we have spoken of. Our fixed purpose was to go over the crossing, but instead of that we went in. Like many another, we became the victim of misplaced confidence. Thereby, that "extra touch" was effectually eradicated—a dead loss of ten cents cash, to say nothing of a promenade gone to thunder. Besides, our boots have savored strongly of mackerel and coal oil ever since. We hope the city fathers of Smokedom will give ear to our complaint, and see to it that the gutters be not allowed to freeze over at all hereafter.

It has been a juicy week, so to speak. First it blew, then it thew, then it snew, then it friz—in the language of John G. Saxe. Wear gum shoes this weather, and keep out of strong drafts. That's our advice. You can get the gum shoes at any store—to keep out of the draft, it is only necessary to enlist. This leads us to remark that Cambria county in general, without particularizing Ebensburg, will be sorry when her sorrow will avail not that she didn't put in her quota of volunteers under the President's call for five hundred thousand men, by means of bounties and the like. She is able—willingness seems to be the only attribute lacking. By our present line of policy, Cambria county is losing scores of men daily, who are persuaded, through the instrumentality of a sugar plum of $150 or $200 local bounty, to credit themselves to other sections. Well, "time at last sets all things even," and perhaps those who have persistently opposed our offering bounties may yet receive their just deserts. The new Conscription law is not the old Conscription law—with which sage observation we dismiss the subject.

It was a very juicy week, indeed, and strongly provocative of influenza, rheumatism, diptheria, and common colds in the head. We are a common man—we had the latter. As proof of the assertion, we have only to mention that we write this item with a snuff-box in one hand and a pocket-handkerchief in the other. Everybody could tell it was unhealthy weather by noting the important, self-satisfied appearance of all doctors. Disease to them is dollars and dimes, bread and butter; therefore, why not? Bless them! They are a fine old institution, are doctors, sometimes unappreciated, especially when one feels like kicking physic to the dogs, but occasionally looked up to as ministering angels and the sole stay of perishing humanity. How could we get along without them? Echo answers, no-how! Our hearts, beating funeral marches to the grave, were untrue to their legitimate functions if they failed to quiver with gratitude to the doctors.—May they never disagree!

Apropos of the fraternity, we hear a good story, which we think has never been in print. Once upon a time, the services of a certain M. D., a bluff, outspoken, yet withal genial and kindly dispositioned gentleman, were required, in connection with those of two or three other doctors, to perform the experiment of amputation upon a patient not a thousand miles from here. The case was one of peculiar nicety, the chances of success hanging suspended on the very uncertain hazard of a die. So our worthy M. D. thought it nothing but right that a preparatory appeal should be made to the Throne of Grace for assistance in the undertaking. Accordingly, he invited Dr. A. to pray; Dr. A. declined. He invited Dr. B.; Dr. B. declined. He invited Dr C.; Dr. C. also declined.—"Well, gentlemen," said he, "if you won't pray, and seeing that I can't pray, let's to work—in my opinion, this is going to be a d—d infernal hard case, and the sooner we finish it the better!"

ESCAPED AGAIN!—In accordance with the advice of legal counsel, Mr. James Shorthill, of Summerhill township, this county, whose arrest as a deserter some weeks since by Deputy Provost Marshal Heyer, at Wilmore, and subsequent escape, our readers no doubt remember, voluntarily appeared before the Board of Enrollment for this district, at Huntingdon, a few days ago, to test the legality of his conscription. His plea, we believe, was, that, in August last, it was John Shorthill who was drafted, and not James Shorthill, and that the notification of draft was made out to John Shorthill, but was served on him, James. On the ground that one man cannot be legally held amenable for the infraction of a law on the part of another, he, James Shorthill, asked to be relieved from further personal inconvenience in the matter, and that the penalties attaching to the crime of desertion be visited upon the man who was in reality drafted, John Shorthill. The Board of Enrollment failed to see it in that light. They decided that James Shorthill was in reality the person drafted, his descriptive list abundantly proving that fact; that his successful skedaddle from the custody of Deputy Provost Mar. Heyer creates the impression that he must at one time have considered himself a conscript; and that a mere clerical error is not sufficient to exempt from the performance of military duty. Accordingly, James Shorthill was committed to the Huntingdon jail for safe keeping until he could be removed to camp. The same night, however, by some means or other, he escaped therefrom, and has not since been heard of.

DRUNK? OR WHAT AILS HIM?—The blatherings of the Johnstown Democrat of last week with regard to The Alleghanian are about as intelligible to us as High Dutch would be to a Choctaw pappoose. It has been suggested, however, that that journal wishes us to understand from his gibberish that he charges our Johnstown correspondent with the authorship of a couple of squibs at his expense lately appearing in these columns. If so, then we beg leave to say to him that his charge is without foundation. We wrote the squibs in question—no correspondent had aught to do with them in the slightest particular. We do not make a habit of embodying the sentiments of correspondents as our own. We think for ourself—our correspondents express their views of matters and things, as correspondents, untrammeled by dictation on our part.—Whatever appears in The Alleghanian, therefore, as editorial, is editorial—our own individual sentiments. Our shoulders are broad, and we particularly desire to bear the full onus of responsibility attaching thereto.

Our neighbor should not allow himself to become so suspicious. Because he sees fit to secure outside assistance toward the getting up of "original" for his columns is no reason we should do likewise.—Neither should he be afraid of our correspondents—they are all good fellows, and won't hurt him if he behaves himself like a gentleman "What'll you take, and take it sweetened?"

A SHAME.—Although something like fifty new men were recruited in Washington township, this county, for Col. Dick White's 55th Pa. regiment, Cambria county fails to receive credit for a single one of them. This is owing to the fact that no bounty is paid by the county, nor by Washington tp. These recruits went to Dauphin and Chester counties to be credited, where they received a snug recompense for so doing. Perhaps the policy of thus allowing ourselves to be diddled out of our fighting material thro' sheer lack of energy will pay—perhaps not. We shall see!

MARRIED: On the 21st of February, by Rev. J. S. Lemmon, Lieut. J. J. WILL, formerly of the 133d Reg. P. V., late of Pittsburg, to Miss JULIA SEIGH, of Perkinsville, this county.

—On the same day, by the same, SAMUEL J. CROYLE, to Miss SUSAN R. FORBES, both of Somerset county.

—On the 25th February, by the same, Rev. E. H. BAIRD, of New Lexington Charge, Pittsburg Conference, to Miss S. J. BRACKEN, this county.

AS WE EXPECTED.—Hollidaysburg being a "more central point" (!!!) than Huntingdon, the Provost Marshal's office of this district has been removed from the latter to the former place. We understand that a project is also on foot looking toward the removal of the seat of government of the State to some point inside Blair county.

JUST SO.—The Hollidaysburg Standard, we observe, hoists the name of Gen. Geo. B. M'Clellan for the next Presidency. If nominated, and he runs only half so well as a political chieftain as he stood still as a military chieftain, nothing can prevent the General from being triumphantly elected.

QUERE.—Taking the estimate of a discerning public, in dollars and cents, as its true valuation, how many thousand columns of "local" of the Johnstown Democrat stripe would it take to pay for a six dollar Dictionary? A speedy answer is requested.

QUOTAS FILLED.—Wilmore borough, we understand, has had her full quota of men under all calls sworn into the service. Carrolltown borough has also filled her quota by volunteering. Both paid good bounties.

HUNG HIMSELF.—A young man named John Yeager, of Chest township, Cambria county, deliberately hung himself to death in his father's barn about a week ago.—We have heard no cause assigned for the rash act.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 28, 1864.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS—VARIOUS MILITARY ITEMS—THE MOORE-MARBOURG TRAGEDY, &C., &C.

Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

Among the many changes and improvements which are daily occurring here, I must make particular mention of the enterprise displayed by one of our citizens—Mr. F. W. Hay. This gentleman, having purchased the old Collector's building, on Canal street, has fitted it up as a stove and tinware depot and work shop, and for beauty of interior arrangement and convenience it will compare favorably with any establishment in the State. Mr. Hay is a go ahead business man, and, as all who are acquainted with him are aware, a perfect gentleman.

Co. M, 12th Pa. Cavalry, commanded by Capt. Morgan M'Donald, and recruited principally in this place, will arrive here on furlough during the present week.—They have re-enlisted for three years more. The Capt. wishes to secure a few recruits, and from a long and intimate personal acquaintance with him, I can recommend him to any of the readers of this notice who may wish to enlist in a crack cavalry company.

Capt. David Hamilton, Co. K, 18th Pa. Cavalry, has, by direction of the War Department, opened a recruiting station in this place. He has power to enlist recruits for any regiment in the service.

Ebensburg will be filled to overflowing next week, as an immense number of witnesses are being subpenaed on the Moore-Marbourg case. A great deal of interest is manifested as to the probable result of the trial, and a large number of people, independent of witnesses, will doubtless be in attendance.

A report is current here that a member of Capt. Ryckman's company was shot dead in a street quarrel at Harrisburg last week. It lacks confirmation.

The weather for several days past has been of the rainy order, and, as a natural result, our streets and sidewalks are now in a muddy condition. MAY LEON.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an acloholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to use them. J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, August 12, 1862.

DR. C. M. JACKSON—Dear Sir: While in Virginia, owing to the change of water, I was taken with a severe diarrhoea, which seemed incurable, and which greatly weakened me. When we reached Martinsburg, I feared that I should have to come home; but noticing some of your Bitters in the store of Mr. H. H. Price, in that town, I purchased a supply, and on taking it was speedily restored to health. The diarrhoea was quickly checked, and I experienced no return of it. A number of my comrades who suffered in the same manner and from the same cause, with whom I shared the Bitters, join me in this certificate. I expect to return to the seat of war with the Legion, and I shall certainly take a supply of the Bitters in my knapsack. I would not be without it for its weight in gold, particularly on going into a limestone region.

Yours, truly, A. E. ALMEUS,

Men who are still in service and unable to perform effective field, may be transferred to this corps.
