NEW YORK VERSUS PENNSYLVANIA.
—Pennsylvania compares well with our sister States in school affairs. We incline to the opinion that the school system of our State is in advance of that of New York. The whole number of pupils attending school in the Empire State during the last school year was 888,115, while in Pennsylvania it was 703,453.—The number of teachers in the former is 15,703, and in the latter 16,722. The number of schools in our own State is 12,337, and in New York 11,753. The amount spent in the latter for building, repairing, &c., was during the year now past $429,508, and in Pennsylvania $452,426. As regards district libraries, we fall behind. Our neighboring State has 1,172,404 volumes. The district library system has never flourished with us. We have three Normal schools in successful operation, while New York has none.—We should all be proud of these schools. Our school system is imperfect, yet with all its blemishes it is among the best in America. The State Superintendent of New York in his last annual report gives some excellent hints in regard to irregular attendance and its consequences. We cannot do better than subjoin his remarks on this head. Here they are:

A majority of the children, therefore, attend but a very short period each year; and a brief calculation will exhibit the virtual loss incurred by this enormous failure in the duty of school attendance. The aggregate loss of school instruction for those children who attended less than six months during the year 1863 amounts to 1,876,185 months, equal to 812,697 school years of six months each, in one official school year. If it be assumed that the 634,100 children, whose attendance exhibits this deficiency, could have been taught the whole six months by the corps of teachers actually engaged, then, allowing 50 pupils to each teacher, we have a loss equal to the service of more than 6,000 teachers. The loss, therefore, in the remuneration paid to the 15,703 teachers employed will exceed one million of dollars annually! And a far more serious and injurious loss is inflicted upon the future of our country. The loss of 312,967 school years is equivalent to the schooling of 312,697 children for one school year of six months.

It may be shown that in a single decade, as to these now neglected children, taking one hundred dollars as the minimum value of a lifetime of an educated over that of an uneducated person, and we gain in ten years the sum of $62,539,500; and if this be added to the amount above estimated at $10,000,000, it makes $72,539,500.—Large as the figures appear, they do not show the whole loss. Time (and time is money,) the harvest time of youth is lost, and oftentimes replaced by mischief and damage. Human happiness—all the beneficial results which most surely flow from the acquisition of a knowledge of our political duties as citizens of a free State, from a proper appreciation of the principles of social ethics, and from a conscientious understanding of the obligation of obedience to the wholesome restrictions of law, both human and divine—all are jeopardized or lost, or worse than lost. Few parents are aware of the serious injury wrought by a day's absence, once or twice a week, in the child and in the school. In the mind of the child despondency takes the place of cheerfulness and courage, indifference supersedes animated interest, and the apathy of ignorance supplants all fruitful desire for intelligence, for an honorable and useful career in life. In the school the classes are deranged and demoralized, and extra care and labor are imposed upon the teacher in the government and instruction of the pupils. In whatever light presented, the non-attendance and irregularity of the attendance upon the schools must command the serious attention of the Legislature.

A CARD.—
WYMER'S BRIDGE,
Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860.
MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R.
Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement or the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation. The paper not even being discolored.
This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours respectfully, [Sd] SAMUEL RANCK.
