

ODDS & ENDS.

Mr. Lincoln was about the last man in Washington to hear of his nomination on Thursday. A dispatch was sent to him, but it failed to reach him, announcing that he was nominated by acclamation. Towards night he was looking over the war telegrams in Mr. Stanton's office, when a dispatch was brought to him stating that Mr. Johnson was nominated as Vice President. Mr. Lincoln asked, "Is it customary to nominate a Vice President first?" A friend asked him in astonishment if he had not heard who was nominated for President? and Mr. Lincoln replied that he had not! There probably were few men in Washington who had not heard of the action of the Convention at that time.

The following sad story we find in an account of some firing along Grant's lines on Sunday, given in the New York Times: "A chance shot today also worked some mischief in the 2d Rhode Island Regiment. The term of the regiment had expired, and it was going from the front, bound for home. Having got, as was supposed, well out of range, the order was given to halt, and a moment after came the rushing ball, bringing its death message to two poor fellows who, after faithful service, having escaped all the dangers of the fight, were full of loyal anticipations at the speedy prospect of being home again. Their fate was doubly shocking."

The word "canteen" has had a curious history. It is perhaps the only word in our language, which, originally English, passed into a foreign tongue, and was afterwards taken back in a modified form. As originally spoken by the Saxon it was simply tin can, but the Gaul, as it is his wont, placing the noun before the adjective, and pronouncing the letter i as e, brought it out as can tin, pronounced canteen. Adopting a thousand other French military terms, the dull Englishman took back his own original word in a new shape, without any inquiries on the subject, and hence we now say canteen instead of tin can.

A young woman about nineteen years of age, residing at Jamestown, Chautauqua county, New York, takes the lead of her sex in agricultural labor. One of her brothers is in the army; the second one has been in service, but returned home a cripple, and the father is also disabled. Unable to hire help on the farm, the young woman went into the field. She is not slow, having covered two thousand and fifty hills of corn in five hours, some three weeks since. She was "dragging in oats," when last heard from.

Abernethy's prescription to a wealthy patient was: "Let your servant bring you three or four pails of water and put it into a wash-tub; take off your clothes, get into it, and from head to foot rub yourself well with it, and you'll recover." "This advice of yours seems very much like telling me to wash myself," said the patient. "Well," said Abernethy, "it is open to that objection."

One day a little girl, about five years old, heard a preacher of a certain denomination praying most lustily, till the roof rang with the strength of his supplications. Turning to her mother, and beckoning the maternal ear to a speaking distance, she whispered: "Mother, don't you think that if he lived nearer to God he wouldn't have to talk so loud?" Such a question is worth a volume on elocution in prayer.

A gentleman in conversation remarked to President Lincoln, that nothing could defeat him but Grant's capture of Richmond, to be followed by his nomination at Chicago and acceptance. "Well," said the President, "I feel very much like the man who said he didn't want to die particularly, but if he had got to die, that was precisely the disease he would like to die of!"

A physician, examining his student as to his progress, asked him, "Should a man fall into a well forty feet deep, and strike his head against one of the tools with which he had been digging, what would be your course if called on as a surgeon?" The student replied, "I should advise them to let the man lie, and fill up the well."

July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN— I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam B. Burt, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of goods confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK. A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia. 1864. TINWARE! 1864. SHEET-IRON WARE. COPPER WARE. J. & H. HERRINGTON. Desire to call the attention of the public to their new TIN SHOP now opened in the large brick building on the corner of Main and Franklin streets, opposite the Mansion House, and next to the Banking house of Bell, Smith & Co., Johnstown Pa., where they purpose manufacturing all kinds of TIN, SHEET-IRON AND COPPER WARE. Their work will be made by the best workmen and of the best materials. They are determined to sell all kinds of ware at the cheapest rates, wholesale and retail. P. S.—All orders for SPOTTING attended to on the shortest notice and on reasonable terms. Johnstown, December 8, 1859-tf. —Blanks of all kinds printed at this office.
