ODDS & ENDS.

President Lincoln made a speech at Philadelphia during his attendance on the Fair. It would be more correct to say it was a single question put to the people, who responded in a manner that contains all the instruction the Government needs on the manner of raising troops Mr. Lincoln said :

"I have not been in the habit of making predictions, but am almost attempted now to hazard one. I will, and it is :-That General Grant is this evening in a position with Meade and Hancock whence he can never be dislodged by the enemy until Richmond is taken. If it shall discover that he may be greatly facilitated in the capture of Richmond by rapidly pouring to him a large number of armed men at the briefest notice, will you go?-[Cries of 'yes !'] Will you march on with him ? [Cries of 'yes, yes!'] 'Then I shall call upon you when it is necessary.'-[Laughter and applause,] during which the President retired from the table."

If the President wants men-any number of men-he has but to call for them. To the question, "will you go?" the people, everywhere, will say yes!

A correspondent in Grant's army, says that about 2,000 rebel prisoners were marched past a portion of the negro troops of Burnside's corps. It was amusing to hear the negroes inquire, jestingly, "How is you, boss? Mighty good thing we didn't cotch you; we would never tuck ye prisoners." The prisoners became infuriated and begged to have their will of the negroes five minutes. "Remember Fort Pillow," the negroes would urge. "We'll Chimneys and Wicks for Lamps always on cut your black throats," was the threat of the others. Thus the two races reviled each other. The master was prisoner; the bondman free and a soldier.

Willis describing a visit to Wal tham, and the manufactory of the Ameriean Watch Company, says: "A small heap of grains was shown to us, looking MINER'S LAMPS. like iron filings, or grains of pepper from a pepper caster-apparently the mere dust of the machine which turned them outand these examined with a microscope were seen to be perfect screws, each to be driven to its place with a screw-driver .-A single pound of steel, costing but fifty cents, is thus manufactured into one hundred thousand screws, which are worth eleven hundred dollars."

"Madam," said a very polite traveler to a testy old landlady, "if I see proper to help myself to this milk is there any impropriety in it ?"

"I don't know what you mean; but if you mean to insinuate that there is anything nasty in that milk, I'll give you to understand that you have struck the wrong house! there ain't a first hair in it, for as soon as Darthy Ann told me the cat was drowned in the milk, I went right straight and strained it over." The young man fainted.

At a public meeting in a country town, an eloquent advocate of popular education thus delivered himself:

"Mr President, I rise to get up, and am not backward to come forward in the cause of education; for had it not been for education, I should be as ignorant as you are, Mr. President.

recently, a lady was seen in a low neck street. dress, while floating and waving an abundance of green gauze. She was politely asked by a gentleman what she personated. "The sea, monsieur." "At low tide, then, madame." The lady blushed and the gentleman smiled.

An inquisitive clerk in the Dead Letter Office, curious to find out how many letters were written without a postscript, made an investigation last week, and found that out of 6,854 letters written by females, only 375 were without postscripts. Some of the other letters contained two postscripts

A little boy running along stubbed his toe and fell on the pavement. "Never mind, my little fellow," said the bystander, "you won't feel the pain to-mor-tow." "Then," answered the little boy, "I won't cry to-morrow."

Man creeps into childhood, bounds into youth, sobers into manhood, softens us all.

CARD .-WITMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860.

MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN-The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam B. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends and represeting a value of over Twenty Thous-and Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordes! unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement or the Mill, and was subjected for eix hours to an intense heat among the rui.is, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes that could be expressed in any other words from
