

EBENSBURG AND CRESSON RAILROAD. On and after Monday, May 16, 1864, trains on this road will run as follows:

LEAVE EBENSBURG— At 7.00 A. M., connecting with Balt. Express West and Thro' Accom. East. At 6.40 P. M., connecting with Mail Train and Fast Line West and Ex. East.

LEAVE CRESSON— At 10.45 A. M., on departure of Thro' Accommodation West. At 9.15 P. M., on departure of Fast Line West.

"MUCH ADO," &c.—Excitement seems to be the natural pabulum of the people nowadays; so every place of any pretension whatever tries to make it convenient to pander to the popular appetite by getting up an occasional excitement of its own. Failing in this, it is voted "slow" and "old-foggyish" on all hands. Thus, Harrisburg has its oft-recurring three-column-cash-10,000-strong invasion excitement; Pittsburg manufactures a canon of unheard-of proportions and an excitement at one and the same time, or else conjures up something to talk about and grow eloquent over in the shape of a scuffling match; while Johnstown celebrates herself now and then with the belief that a rebel raid into her body corporate is a vivid probability. With these eminent exemplars before her, and her people being constituted pretty much like unto other people, is it to be wondered at that Ebensburg finds it impossible to do without her little excitement? True, this excitement is of rare occurrence, but this fact only adds a palatable zest to the entertainment when it is spread before us in actual existence. The latest instance of local excitement coming under our observation transpired on Sunday last. Those sitting in the public places on the morning of that day were rudely awaked to a sense of impending danger, startled, or scared as the case may be, by the announcement by a self-constituted scout that in from "the front," given in a treacherous whisper, that "They-are-com- ing!" On being subjected to a rigid examination, it was soon ascertained that "they" referred to the rebels, the advance guard of a large body of whom had been seen but a few moments before reconnoitering the southern section of town!— This was terrorizing, to be sure. But those sitting in the public places seemed equal to the emergency. Their first impulse, upon which they acted, was to appoint a committee of about a baker's dozen of the bravest and most determined spirits present—those with

"Wills to do, and souls to dare"—to forthwith seek the "Johnnies," find them, and determine upon terms of capitulation, etc., before some illy-advised citizen should chance to fire upon them, thereby subjecting the town to indiscriminate pillage, and mayhap to utter destruction a la mode Chambersburg. The committee went—scoured the highways—except the byways—scrutinized carefully every spot that are neither high nor by,—in short, for the space of half an hour, hunted indefatigably here, there, and everywhere. They were successful. They ultimately discovered the objects of their search and anxiety. These proved to be a rebel. Not showing fight, he was immediately surrounded, seized, and disarmed. After a protracted consultation, pending which the news was received that other rebels were in the neighborhood, was resolved to administer "the oath" to this solitary-and-alone ranger, and let him run, as a living monument of North-western magnanimity to a fallen foe. This being done, nolens volens, when—horror!—the solitary ranger was suddenly discovered to be not a rebel at all, but a member of the 54th regiment P. V., residing here, and coming home on furlough! The committee, no further necessity for services appearing in view, were disbanded. "Unrivalled as their merit and their fame." The excitement has since subsided. Entirely so.

A FIT APPOINTMENT.—Mr. James [Name], of Johnstown, has been commissioned by the Governor agent for Cambria county to recruit in the seceded States.— He formerly held the position of Captain of the "Anderson Troop," and saw service in the Southwest. He is understood to be a Union man, and we know him to be a gentleman. Under the circumstances, we unhesitatingly endorse his appointment.

The weather during the past week has been intensely hot, the thermometer ranging from 80° to 90° in the shade.— For a lodge, &c.

EBENSBURG.—By reference to the table of election returns, it will be seen that a new election district, to wit, "Prospect Boro.," has been formed in this county. We do not know, but suppose this euphonious title is intended to give local habitation and name to that romantic looking cliff situate immediately and a short distance north of the railroad depot at Johnstown. Only one of the freemen of the district seems to have had the moral courage to vote for the Amendments, whereas twenty-two voted against. From which we infer it is a most dismal Prospect boro.—for the Union cause. One righteous man, however, may ultimately regenerate even a Sodom, so we entertain hopes that the district in the course of time may become a boro. whose every Prospect pleases, with nary a man in it vile!...Those of our readers who intend visiting Pittsburg should not fail to "put up" at the Mansion House. This hotel is located just at the Penna. R.R. depot, where you can step out of the door into the cars, or out of the cars into the door. The provant sat before the hungry is tempting, the beds for the accommodation of the weary are irreplaceable, while everything else appertaining to the comfort of travelers and guests is tip-top. Make a note of this.... The State Teachers' Association met at Altoona on Tuesday of last week, and continued in session three days. The attendance was large, and much interest was manifested in the exercises....The blackberry crop hereabout is said to be a comparative failure this summer. Pity, for we have nothing else left to make domestic wine out of....We direct the attention of our readers to the card of the "Altoona House," Richard M'Lain, proprietor, Altoona, Pa. It is an excellent hotel, where a man can be and always is "taken in" without being "done for." We recommend it to the patronage of our readers....The day of National humiliation and prayer was well observed here. The majority of our principal places of business remained closed throughout the day, and public service was had in the various churches....Four teachers are wanted to take charge of the schools of Ebensburg borough. See advertisement.

ITEMS FROM WILMORE.—On the night of the 30th ult., the domicile of Capt Wm. R. Hughes, Wilmore, was attacked by a gang of rowdies, names and number unknown, who completely riddled the windows and window-shutters of the house through the use of that inevitable resort of all cowards—stones. The bed containing the Capt's children, which stood close to one of the windows, was literally covered with the particles of broken glass, while stones fell on and thickly around it, injuring none of the occupants, however, we understand. After this wonderful display of bravery, the besiegers retired, standing not on the order of their going, but going fast as their legs could carry them for fear of revolvers. The only hypothesis upon which this unseemly demonstration can be accounted for is that the Capt. is a thorough and unyielding Union man, whereas some of his neighbors—are not.

On Wednesday morning last, Joseph Hanner and William Skelly, both of Wilmore, were arrested and taken to Provost Marshal headquarters, at Hollidaysburg, under the following circumstances: These men had been drafted several weeks ago, and had reported to the Board of Enrollment sitting in this place. Upon examination, they were exempted on account of partial blindness of the right eye of each. It seems, however, that the blindness was feigned—that it was put on for the occasion, through the aid of certain drugs and chemicals. So some of the citizens of Wilmore, themselves subject to draft and liable to be drawn to fill the deficiency occasioned by the fraudulent exemption of these two, laid the facts in the case before the Surgeon, and demanded another examination. This was accorded, and the men arrested and conveyed to Hollidaysburg as before stated.—The upshot of the matter is, that, upon re-examination, Messrs. Hanner and Skelly were held to service, from which they only escaped by paying, respectively, the commutation fee of $300.

DRAFT OR NO DRAFT?—Is Ebensburg going to raise a bounty so as to secure enough volunteers to fill her quota, or does she intend to "stand the draft?" This, above all others, is the question just now. Without attempting to decide it, we would merely state that, draft or no draft, Thompson, at his store, P. O. building, Ebensburg, will continue to sell as before—cheap for cash—all manner of dress and dry goods, hats and caps, boots and shoes, groceries, &c., &c. Remember this fact.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP.—A correspondent offers the following apology for the vote of Washington township at the late special election: "When you see the returns of the election hold here on the 2d inst., don't be surprised and come to the conclusion that seven-tenths of the people of our township are secession sympathizers. Far from it. A few of our voters, no doubt, entertain a deep sympathy for the rebels, but the majority are thoroughly loyal, and would have voted aright had they not been most shamefully duped and deceived by their leaders. As regards the first amendment, they were told it was intended to give the right of suffrage to negroes who might happen to be soldiers in the army! Of course, relying on their authority, the deception had the desired effect, and they voted against the measure, and also against the other amendments.

"An attempt was made to resuscitate the old and somewhat celebrated style of conducting elections in Washington tp.—At the usual hour of opening the polls, none of the election board happened to be present excepting one of the Inspectors, and he a Union man. So as to get the thing into their own hands, a motion was made by one of the copperheads to elect an entire new board! But after a protest from the Union side, and a little private caucussing among themselves, this was declared inexpedient by the more prudent of the opposition, and the motion was withdrawn."

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE. FACTS AND FANCIES FROM THE SOUTH OF THE COUNTY.

JOHNSTOWN, August 8, 1864. Correspondence of The Alleghanian. To describe the excitement and uneasiness of our citizens during the beginning of last week, all on account of the rumored invasion, were beyond the power of my pen. Every place of business in town, from the great mill to the one-horse blacksmith shop, was closed, and the idleness of our inhabitants but added fuel to the fire of fears and vague surmises already agitating them. It appeared to require the whole of the day of humiliation and prayer, which was generally observed here by services in the various churches, to restore the public mind to its wonted equilibrium. It is to be hoped that many months will elapse ere we are again thus agitated, and if ever, may it be with as little cause.

The Board of Exemption sat here on Friday last, to afford opportunity (which was well taken advantage of) to persons claiming exemption from military service on the ground of physical disability, &c., to be heard and have their cases disposed of. I heard quite a number remark that the examining Surgeon, whose honesty is yet unimpeached, understood his business most fully, and those who tried to "gull" him were invariably outgeneraled. A good many names were stricken off the rolls, which will materially reduce our quota hereafter.

A highly interesting though rather impromptu knock-down occurred on Railroad st. the other evening. A tall, stout-built Irishman, for want of something better to turn his hand to, attacked a smaller man of the same nationality, and for his pains received an "ilegant" and well-deserved thrashing.

A grand picnic, for the benefit of the new Catholic Church, is on the tapis for the last of the present month, and the young ladies of town (they know how) are making every exertion to insure it a success. Can't you come down? Col. John P. Linton, of the 54th P. V., arrived here on Wednesday. He is on short leave of absence, to recuperate from the effects of his wound lately received through the shoulder.

I must not forget to mention that the nomination of A. A. Barker for Congress gives great and general satisfaction to the Union men here.

DIED: On the 30th ult., at Gallitzin, this county, ELMER E., child of S. H. and E. Williamson, in his fourth year.
