

ODDS & ENDS.

A newspaper correspondent at Saratoga tells a romantic story of a young bride couple who recently figured there: "In the summer of 1860, Senor B—the son of a wealthy Cuba planter, was staying at Saratoga. While there he became acquainted with Miss Eugene F., daughter of a well known Mobile banker. The parties became enamored of each other, and all this being satisfactory, became betrothed with the consent of the old folks, and the marriage was appointed for the 16th of August, 1864. The lady returned to her home, while the gentleman went back to Cuba to arrange and settle his private affairs, with a view of permanently residing in the United States. About one month before the time appointed for the nuptials to take place, the Mobile banker received and accepted a commission as brigadier general in the Confederate service, and in his first battle, a few weeks after, received a mortal wound. His sudden death involved the family in cruel embarrassment, and from a state of wealth they were plunged into comparative obscurity; and upon this state of affairs being made known to the father of the young man, he broke off the match, and interdicted even the slightest correspondence afforded through the medium of blockade runners. Thus matters remained until January last, when the old man dying, left the son free to wed the maiden of his choice. He immediately took passage for, and after several delays reached Mobile. He there found that his intended mother-in-law, overcome with grief, had succumbed to the fell destroyer, and followed her husband to the grave, while Miss F. was conducting a seminary for young ladies. I need not dilate upon the meeting between the young couple, suffice to say, that the school was given up, the parties married, and in a few days' embarkment from Washington, they arrived in safety at Nassau. From thence they came to New York, and after staying a few weeks, set out for this place, where free from care the young Cuban and his bride, it is hoped, if appearances do not deceive, are enjoying as much happiness as it is fated that mortals shall enjoy on this mundane sphere."

Ignorance often conceals a deadly weapon in our choicest articles of food, but selfishness often conceals a greater. It manufactures and commends poisons for others in many temptingly disguised forms. Candies, toys and cakes are ornamented or colored with various poisons. (Arsenic of copper is used in powder to ornament cake green, or color candies.) The blending of colors in various ways, in candies and on cakes, makes them attractive to the eye, but destructive to the health of those who use them. Cakes ornamented with colored dust, candies colored in such nice style, toys so highly attractive to children, cause decayed teeth, canker, intestinal inflammation, nauseating headache, cholera, spasms, and often convulsions. Confectionery may be prepared without coloring material, so as to be wholesome. Gay colors are made of poisonous materials, that ought never to be introduced into food or drinks. Wall paper, ornamented with beautiful green, pretty yellow and lively red, often diffuses, through sleeping and sitting rooms, an atmosphere impregnated with a poisonous vapor that causes headache, nausea, dryness of the mouth and throat, cough, depression of spirits, prostration of strength, nervous affections, boils, watery swellings of the face, cutaneous affections and inflammations of the eyes. These occur in more serious forms in apartments that are not constantly and thoroughly ventilated.

"Gold," says a Copperhead paper, "represents Democracy—greenbacks Republicans." This is true in one sense at least. Generally when our armies are defeated, gold goes up, and so does butternut Democracy. On the other hand, when our troops overcome the rebels in the field, gold and Democracy drop together. The fate of that party, like the price of gold, depends very much on the success of Lee.

Young Sawbones wanted to kiss his pretty cousin under the mistletoe, but she snatched herself away, saying, "Manners, sir; don't thrust your doctor's bill into my face!"
