POTATOES .- Potatoes everywhere! Poatoes in the counting-room, the study, the shop, and the family circle, as well as in the ground and in bins. Potatoes-nothing but potatoes. If you drop in on any convention consisting of two persons or more, wherever assembled, these latter days, you hear not the war nor the election, but potatoes, discussed. Wars and elections may be all well enough in their place, but just now they are decidedly out of place. Potatoes have usurped the front seat. They rule the reast-monopolize public attention. People talk potato, eat potato, think potato, and talk, eat and think nothing else. Potatoes all the time. We haven't heard a preacher preach potato as yet, but even that may come in season. Approach a man on business, and ten to one he is too deeply immersed in the mystery of potato to look intelligibly at you; or if he does make an effort to give you a hearing, twenty to one he branches off insensibly to potato before he converses with you five minutes. The customary morning greeting used to be-Good morning, Mr. Smith; how's your health?" Now it is-"Good morning, Mr. Smith; how's your potato!" Waking or dreaming, working or whiling, potato is the prominent object before the mind of man. Loves and hates, and rewards and punishments, and things temporal and things spiritual, and even matters of dollars and cents, give way before bly." and are lost sight of in potato. It is allengrossing-all-absorbing-all-in all. A man's status is now measured by potato. If he can boast a thousand bushels or so, the hat of the common herd is tipped to him; if he owns five hundred, the common herd bow to him without tipping their hat; is he owns only one hundred, the common herd neither bow nor tip and the common herd avoid him as a leper. Potato is king, and its subtle infuence ramifies and impregnates and dyes to a long-red or a nashannoc-white color the entire social system. A mania for talips, for long-tailed bulls, for steam saw mills, has each in turn possessed the pubhe soul: a potato mania is certainly now thick about it.

We are speaking with respect to Ebensburg and vicinity. The potato crop is now being housed, and, to use an expressive phrase, it is a crop "as is a crop."-The "oldest inhabitant" says he never saw the like of it, and a liberal reward is offered for the man who ever heard of a parallel to it. It is tremendous-overshadowing -mammoth. More potatoes than you could shake a stick at. The weatherwiseacres last summer said a certain protracted "dry spell" was going to spile the potatoes. If it did so spoil them, it was not a oad thing, for counting this a half crop, and a half crop giving us more potatoes than there are sands in an anthill, what would we have done with a whole crop! All the cellars wouldn't contain and all the real estate in Cambria county would be insufficient to cover them. And then such potatoes! The entire crop The struggle to-day has, to be sure, been is unparallelled as to size, and specimen representatives weighing one, two and three pounds are thick as leaves in Vallambrosa. In short, the potatoes are larger and longer and plentier and cheaper here now than they ever were before .-Under the circumstances, it is not strange that the mania afflicting the people is a potato one. Is it?

THANKSGIVING .- The President, in accordance with his usual custom, has appointed the last Thursday in November as a day of National thanksgiving and prayer. Thangsgiving !- there is a magic in the word. It conjures up before us visions of peace, plenty, punkin pies and fice is Union. prodigiously high old times. It also refully enjoy Thanksgiving.

ETCHINGS .- Col. John K. Shryock, an old citizen of Johnstown, but who has recently become a resident of Wilmore, this county, has been appointed Postmaster of the latter place, vice Morris Keil, gone to the army A grand mass meeting of the Democracy of Cambria county is called for Johnstown on Saturday, 5th November. On that occasion, Messrs. Potts, Pershing & Co., assisted by the entire strength of der barty, will introduce to the consideration of the audience an entirely new comedy entitled, "Democratic Victories, or How Figures May be Made to to Lie."... The Dem. & Sent. evidently dislikes exceedingly to hear of Sheridan's brilliant victories in the Shenandoh Valley, whereby some of the chivalry have got hurt. Witness the following gem from last week's issue of that paper :-Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley is burning barns filled with grain, and destroying all the private dwellings." The fact is, instead of burning barns and destroying private dwellings, Sheridan is burning M'Clellan in effigy, and destroying his every chance of election. And that's what's the matter !... The post office at Mineral Point, Cambria county, is discontinued. Mail matter intended for that place should now be sent to Conemaugh, Cambria county The provost guard have made several arrests of deserters in this end of the county within the past week or two. A grand skedaddle of all of that ilk has been the result.

Is IT ANY WONDER?-Last fall, at the head of its table of election returns for Cambria county, the Johnstown Democrat, in flaming characters, made the following announcement:

"With the influence of a giant corporation in the south of the county-of the "shook" nterest in the north-and of Administration nterference everywhere-the Democracy have done nobly."

This fall, it congratulates itself thus: "With the influence of monster corporaions in our midst, and of five hundred Administration soldiers distributed throughout the county-the Democracy have done no-

Is it any wonder, "with" all this influence, that the Democracy could do nobly? On the contrary, would it not have been strange, passing strange, in the face of the influence, if they had done otherwise than nobly? Under the circumstances, we are not surprised the Democracy carried the county last fall by eight hundred and this fall by a thousand majority; but we are their hat; while if he counts his bushels surprised, and not only surprised but by twenty-fives or fifties, he is a nobody, absolutely stapefied, that the Democrat had the moral courage to make public, and in flaming characters, the interests and influences combining to bring about those results!

FROM JOHNSTOWN. SHORT VISIT TO RICHMOND-A BRAVE SOLDIER KILLED-SAD CASUALTY-EXTENSION OF THE ROLLING MILL, &c., &c.

Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

JOHNSTOWN, October 23, 1864. We were very agreeably surprised last week to see Lieut. John B. Hay, of the artillery company which left here lately, return home. After his capture, on the 5th inst., he was taken to Richmond, and incarcerated in Libby prison, where he saw and conversed with a number of our soldiers. He represents their condition as deplorable in the extreme. Lieut. H. had the good fortune to be paroled shortly after his arrival in Richmond, and is now here awaiting his exchange.

Capt. John O'Neill, of the 55th P. V., is reported killed in one of the recent engagements of Grant's army. His home was in this place, and a large circle of friends will mourn the loss of a gallant officer and a promising young man. He first enlisted in the three months service. Returning home at the expiration of that term, it was but a short time until he enlisted in the 55th for three years, where, by brave and chivalric bearing, he soon attained to the position of Captain. The writer of this knew him well, and can bear testimony to his many good qualities of head and heart. Peace to his ashes!

The remains of a man named Snyder, formerly a resident of this county, were brought to Conemaugh boro, on Friday last, for interment. It is stated that while laboring in an iron work in Wheeling, West Va., he suddenly fell dead. - A post mortem examination of the body was held, but the cause of his death was not ascertained. Snyder was drafted in this county, and had fled to escape service.

Our Rolling Mill is to be considerably increased as to size and capability, and the ground to that end was broken on last Monday. The extension will accommodate at least twenty additional puddling furnaces. Owing to its magnitude, it is not expected the work will be finished in less than a year. The Mill is already a miracle as to size and capability-what will it be with all this addition to it!

The soldiers stationed here for some weeks past took their departures for Chambersburg last week. While with us, their deportment was uniformly good, and they made many warm friends of our
