

ODDS & ENDS.

Here is the advice of an examining judge to a young lawyer, on the latter's admission to the bar: "Sir, it would be idle to trouble you further. You are perfect; and I will dismiss you with a few words of advice, which you will do well to follow. You will find it laid down as a maxim of civil law never to kiss the maid when you can kiss the mistress. Carry out this principle, sir, and you are safe. Never say 'boo' to a goose when she has the power to lay golden eggs. Let your face be long, and your bills longer. Never put your hand in your own pocket when somebody else is handy. Keep your conscience for your own private use, and don't trouble it with other men's matters. Plaster the judge, and butter the jury—Look as wise as an owl, and be as oracular as a town clock. But above all, get money; honestly if you can, but get money. I welcome you to the bar."

On one occasion, the senior Stephenson accidentally met a gentleman and his wife at an inn in Derbyshire, whom he entertained for some time with broad observations and playful sallies. At length the lady requested to know the name of the remarkable stranger. "Why, madam," said he, "they used once to call me George Stephenson; now I am called George Stephenson, Esq., of Tapton Hall, near Chesterfield. And further let me say, that I have dined with princes, and peers, and commoners, with persons of all classes, from the highest to the humblest. I have made my dinner of a red herring at a hedge bottom, and gone through the meanest drudgery. I have seen mankind in all its phases; and the conclusion that I have arrived at is, that if we're all stripped, there's not much difference."

A short time ago, D. and I were on a tour to Lake George and the headwaters of the Hudson river. One day we were strolling among the beautiful islands of the lake, fishing, but with bad success. We espied a boy in a red shirt and with an old straw hat, dangling a line over the side of a boat. As we passed him, D, by way of salutation, said: "Hallo, my boy! What are you doing?" "Fishing," came the answer. "Well, what do you catch?" "Fish, you d-d fool! What would you suppose?"

A lawyer, having some business to transact with a widowed lady, took occasion to inquire her age. The matron, who had long before doffed her widow's weeds, attempted to look prim and much younger than she really was, and replied: "Thirty-five years, sir." Then turning around to her daughter, he asked: "May I be so bold, miss, as to ask your age?" "Certainly; I am a little over thirty-two—three years younger than mother!" "Ah!"

An old clergyman one Sunday, at the close of his sermon, gave notice to the congregation that in the course of the week he expected to go on a mission to the heathen. One of his parishioners, in great agitation, exclaimed: "Why, my dear sir, you never told us one word of this before. What will we do?" "Oh, brother," said the parson, "I don't expect to go out of town!"

A Methodist and a Quaker having stopped at a public house, agreed to sleep together in the same bed. Before retiring, the Methodist knelt down and prayed fervently, confessing a long catalogue of sins. After he had finished, the Quaker said, "Really, friend, if thou art as bad as thou sayest thou art, I think I dare not sleep with thee."

A barrister, not over young or handsome, examining a young lady witness in Court, determined to perplex her, and said: "Miss, upon my word, you are very pretty." The young lady promptly replied: "I would return the compliment, sir, if I were not on oath."

July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam B. B. T. in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK. [Seal] A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia. 1864. TINWARE! 1864. J. & H. HERRINGTON Desire to call the attention of the public to their new TIN SHOP now opened in the large brick building on the corner of Main and Franklin streets opposite the Mansion House and next to the Banking house of Bell, Smith & Co., Johnstown Pa., where they purpose manufacturing all kinds of TIN, SHEET-IRON and COPPER WARE. Their work will be made by the best workmen and of the best material. They are determined to sell all kinds of ware at the cheapest rates, wholesale and retail. P. S.—All orders for SPOUTING attended to on the shortest notice and on reasonable terms. Johnstown, December 8 1850-tf.
