In the Pennsylvania Legislature, two years ago, there was a member named Charles Wilson, from one of the northern counties, who considered himself among the great orators of the day, and, when pretty well filled with "Harrisburg water," would get off for the edification of his colleagues some very rich illustrations .-Being somewhat interested in a bill before the House, he made what he considered one of his master speeches, during the delivery of which be used the illustration of "Nero fiddling while Rome was barning." He had scarcely taken his seat when a member tapped him on the shoulder and said, "Say, Charlie, it wasn't Nero | . that 'fiddled,' it was t'æsar. You should correct that before it goes on the record." In an instant he was on his feet, and ex- all sizes and best quality, 5 to 61 cts per lb. claimed, "Mr. Speaker-Mr. Speaker-1 made a mistake. It wasn't Nero that "fiddled' while Rome was burning; it was Trimmed complete, with baking arrangements, Julius Caesar." Happily for him, the speaker was so busily engaged that he did not hear him ; but some members near by heard and enjoyed the joke. Afterwards some one told him that he was right in | HEATING COOK STOVES, $3.00 to $8.00. the first place, which resulted in his reading all the ancient history in the State Library during the remainder of the winter, to assure himself who'it was that "fiddled."

After the advent of Gen. Logan's days' notice. corps at Huntesville, the rooms in the principal hotel at that place came into demand. A beautiful and accomplished actress had been staying at the hotel, and in about a minute, or a minute and a half or two minutes after she had vacated her room, the gallant Gen. O. was assigned to it by the landlord. The General, on examining his bed previous to retiring, found a snowy robe de nuit neatly folded under the pillow, marked in delicate characters with the name of the fair owner. The chambermaid was summoned, and asked by the General, he holding the garment in his hand-

"Do you know Miss Lottie Hough?" "Yes," answered the chambermaid.

"Then carry this to her, with my compliments, and say to her that General O. is not in the habit of sleeping with empty nightgowns !"

Lorenzo Dow, the itinerant preacher, so famous in his lifetime for his eccentricity, commenced his sermon upon one occasion by reading from St. Paul, "I can do all things." The preacher paused, took off his spectacles, laid them on the open Bible, and said, "No, Paul, you're mistaken for once; I'll bet you five dollars you can't, and stake the money." At the same time putting his hand in his pocket, he took out a five dollar bill, laid it upon the Bible, took up his spectacles again and read, -- "through Jesus Christ our Lord." "Ah, Paul," exclaimed the preacher, snatching up the five dollar bill and returning it to his pocket,-"that's a different matter; the bet's withdrawn."

The word "News" is not, as many magine, derived from the adjective new. In former times, between the years 1525 and 1737, it was a prevalent practice to put over the periodical publications of the day the initial letters of the cardinal points of the compass, thus:

Importing that these periodicals contained intelligence from the four quarters of the globe; and from this practice is derived the term Newspaper.

A young man and woman once upon a time stopped at a country tavern. Their awkward appearance excited the attention of one of the landlord's family, who struck up a conversation with them by inquiring how far they had traveled that day. "Traveled!" exclaimed the fairer of the strangers, somewhat indignantly, "we didn't travel-we rid!"

At a christening, while the minister was making out the certificate, he forgot the day of the month, and happened to sav:

"Let me see, this is the thirtieth." "The thirtieth !" exclaimed the indigthe eleventh !" ensure thing; it's only ensure. Office in Drug Store, on High st., opposite Thompson's Hotel.

Booth, the tragedian, had a broken nose. A lady once remarked to him, "I like your acting, Mr. Booth; but, to be frank with you, I can't get over your nose." "No wonder, madam," replied he, "the bridge is gone."

EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLERES-The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which Bar, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858 has been subjected to a very severe test which it withstood in a most salisfactor manner. This Safe, centaining all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neignbors and friends and represeting a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of J ly, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordes unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement or the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heal among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored This fact was, however, to many hystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK.
