CHAT WITH OUR READERS.

The election is now over, Abraham Lincoln has been chosen President for another four-years term, and the country is saved! Such being the case, we will have little cause, we think, to introduce politics into these columns for some considerable time to come.

We Americans are certainly a peculiar people, with peculiar ideas and customs. For weeks prior to election day, the prevailing interchange of compliments between two political opponents is, on the one side, "Hurrah for So-and-So!" and on the other, "D—n So-and-So!"

We heard a friend say, the other day, that the provisions of the law giving a man the right of citizenship were intrinsically wrong. He contended that, in order to eligibility to vote, every man ought to be required to commit to memory the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, and the Ten Commandments, and be able to fully understand, and on occasion, to explain the essential and leading points of each of the which.

ETCHINGS.—The vote of the 54th regiment P. V., in which are several Cambria county companies, for President, was: For Lincoln, 218; for McClellan, 74; Union majority, 144.

barter off their votes for whisky or greenbacks—in view of the fact that fellows of this class hold the balance of power in an election, who can say our friend's theory is not based on equity and justice?

The election, or rather the elections, which were no exceptions to the general rule of fuss and excitement and hard words and harder knocks holding good on and along by such occasions, are over, and we are glad of it.

WHY DON'T WE HAVE A TELEGRAPH?

—Some months ago, in these columns, we made use of the following language with reference to the great want experienced by Ebensburg of a Telegraph: "We need a Telegraph, and need it badly. The county-seat of a flourishing county, it is a shame and disgrace we are without such an institution. We hardly expect to-day, to-morrow, or next day, to see any definite steps taken in the matter, but if, within the year, a Telegraph hence to the Main Line is not constructed, then we will say that our people are blind to their own interests, lacking in energy, or else intensely impecunious."

The fact is, we must have a Telegraph. Local pride and the pressing wants of our business men alike demand it. Of all her sister towns, it is mortifying to see Ebensburg alone unblest of telegraphic communication, while the interests of her business men suffer and languish through want of the facilities it would afford.

THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR OUR SOLDIERS.—A movement is on foot to furnish our gallant soldiers in the field and our sailors afloat a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner, and an appeal has been published calling on the people of the North to assist in the undertaking. Donations of cooked poultry and other meats, as well as mince pies, sausages, fruit, &c., are solicited.

FROM OUR SOLDIERS.

LETTER FROM CO. C, 209TH P. V.—ELECTION DAY IN CAMP, AND SOME OBSERVATIONS THEREUPON—VARIOUS ITEMS.

BERMUDA HUNDRED, Nov. 8, '64. Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

The day is about to close, and that, too, upon a great contest. The struggle commenced soon after the sun had risen above the eastern hills, has lasted throughout the entire day, and will close only with the setting in of night. But this contest is not one of blood, of bullets, but of reason, of ballots. Yesterday, the heavy, constant rumble of artillery to our left told us too well that amid slaughter of men the great Republic was contending with the cohorts of treason.

On Friday of last week the company were glad to greet the man whom but a short time before they had helped to place in a Congressional seat. But he came not alone, for with him was Squire Miller, of Wilmore, commissioner to receive soldiers' votes.

And all owing to the goodness of our worthy friend whom the Copperheads were certain they would defeat for Congress.

While it is not my wish to boast, yet I will say that Co. C so far does honor to herself and the people she represents. She has but two sick men in hospital, and four in quarters, all doing well, while other companies in the regiment have sick in hospital and quarters as high as from twenty to thirty.

The election resulted as follows: Union electors.....55 Democratic electors.....90 Union majority.....55 Truly, GAMMA.

NEW BOOK.—"The Life and Public Services of Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth President of the United States; with a full history of his life, his career as a Lawyer and Politician, his services in Congress, with his Speeches, Proclamations, Acts, and Services as President of the United States and Commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy of the United States up to the present time."

A very readable biography of the man who, for four years, has piloted successfully the good old Ship of State through the turbid waters of treason and disunion, and who has just been requested by the People, in the most pointed manner, to retain his onerous position for another four years to come.
