One hundred per cent of the foregoing names constitutes an excess drawn to cover exemptions, desertions, &c.

HASSONIA.—They call Michael Hasson, editor of the Ebensburg Dem. & Sentinel, Colonel. Do you wonder why? It is because he is the acknowledged head and front of the Black-guard battalion of the 17th military district, Pennsylvania.

With due respect to the fitness of titles, what they ought to call Michael Hasson:—Cur-nel.

In common conversation, these latter days, it is not infrequently the custom for persons to contract familiar proper names of two and more syllables to one. By this means, Robinson takes the guise of Rob, and Richardson becomes Rich. In case an unappreciating English cockney should attempt to give the cognomen Hasson the benefit of this free-and-easy system of abbreviation, he would evidently render it 'Ass! And in so doing, he wouldn't be guilty of slandering anybody.

Concerning the derivation of the word Michael: Michele in the Scottish dialect signifies much; and Miche in the Saxon means to sneak. One or the other of these must be the root of Michael. Seeing that he is a perfect mountain of flesh and blood, Much Hasson might be thought legitimate; but we incline to the belief that Sneaking Hasson, or Hasson the Sneak, is what is intended to be conveyed as the true meaning of the word Michael.

The initial letters of the name of the editor of the Dem. & Sent. are M. H.—These are also the initials of Mutton Head and Monster Heart. We view this in the light of a happy coincidence.

Hasson frequently boasts that he has "gone through the classics." A cursory perusal of the paper he edits is sufficient to convince the most skeptical that the classics have never gone through him.

Hasson is a lawyer. His talents in that line are not often called into requisition, still (paradoxical as it may seem) it may be said of him that he practices considerably at the bar.

Hasson is an agriculturist, but an indifferent one. He sows nothing but wild oats.

Hasson calls his paper the Sentinel.—In view of the particularly bad odor in which it is held by respectable men, wouldn't it be a good idea to change the name to Scent-inel?

They tell about a big gun—the biggest in the world—lately cast at Fort Pitt Foundry, Pittsburg. Its bore is twenty inches. How much larger is this than Hasson's?

If you were to cut up Hasson and fill him into tin boxes, what staple commodity might you sell him for? Concentrated Lic.

Why is Hasson one of a deck of cards? Because he is a knave.

Which would you rather see—a bust of Hasson, or Hasson on a bust?

FROM OUR SOLDIERS.

LETTER FROM CO. C, 209TH P. V.—THE WEATHER—NO STARTLING NEWS—HEALTH OF COMPANY—ON DETACHED SERVICE—THE ELECTION, &c., &c.

BERMUDA HUNDRED, Nov. 14, '64. Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

The bright days of sunshine are past, at least for the present. The North wind is upon us, cold and dreary, and as the sentinel paces his beat, or the vidette watches at his weary post, he longs for fire to warm his benumbed fingers or his almost frozen feet.

If you would have news, the only news of importance that I can give is that everything is quiet here. There is the usual routine of business, so that before the dawn begins to break, the drums beat reveille, the camp is awaked, and the fortifications lined with troops, to prevent even the possibility of a surprise. A little smart walk, an occasional "rough and tumble," or a few embers, serve to keep one comfortable until daylight sends him to his quarters.

It is a pleasure to still be able to state that the health of Co. C is good. We have not one seriously ill, and only four all told off duty on account of sickness.— In a neighboring regiment, which came out about the same time as we, the deaths amount to twenty, there being as many as three in one company.

We are so unfortunate as to be cut up into a good many detachments. A corporal and ten men have been on duty in redoubt Carpenter ever since we first reached this neck of earth. The names of these ten are, Corp. Wm. F. Baum, privates Gordon Sinclair, William Humphreys, Henry Houp, Richard Griffith, Wallace Stiles, William Montague, John Gittings, Alexander Leslie, and Archibald Smith. There is also a detail for fatigue duty, to build hospitals at Point of Rocks. They have been absent during the present month, and will probably be through the winter. Their names are, Sergt. Alex. Jones, privates Robert R. Jones, David J. James, Ed. W. Humphreys, Peter Wagner, Uriah Wagner, H. W. Delozier, Adam Shinafelt, William M. James, Evan S. Jones, and John Darby. There are also other details, but they are small ones. In the company, there are but forty men present for duty.

On Tuesday came the election, and on Wednesday evening it was announced that Abraham Lincoln was re-elected to the Presidency of the United States.— Upon that announcement, not one, nor three, nor nine cheers went up, but cheer upon cheer until they united in one continuous roar, mingled with the sound of drums and the notes of trumpets. If the hosts of Israel as they came out of the depths of the Red Sea had raised their voices in one universal acclamation for their deliverance, it would have been a fit counterpart to the union of voices that rose upon the air and swept over to the rebel lines when it was announced that copperheadism was forever laid low by the re-election of Abraham Lincoln.

Your statement of the vote cast for President by our company is erroneous. There was an aggregate of sixty-six votes polled, every one of which was for Father Abraham. Of this number, forty-nine were cast by Cambria county electors. Truly, GAMMA.

FROM JOHNSTOWN.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—CO. F, JONES, 194TH P. V.—WHO WANTS EMPLOYMENT?—PERSONAL ITEMS.

JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 20, 1864. Correspondence of The Alleghanian.

One of those sad accidents which cause a shudder when we hear of or read about occurred in a family named Cooney, residing a short distance east of Gallitzin, this county, on last Monday. At the time of its occurrence, both Mr. and Mrs. C. were absent from home, leaving behind them as sole occupant of the house their child, aged about three years. The child, finding itself alone, commenced tampering with the fire; and the result was that the flames speedily communicated themselves to its clothing, and when the mother returned, a short time after, it was to find nothing remaining of her little one but a blackened and shapeless crisp. Let this be a warning to parents to never permit children to remain alone in the vicinity of fire.

A man named William Frew was caught between the bumping-beam of an engine and a car, near Lilly's station, this county, one day last week, and squeezed to death. His remains were taken to Hollidaysburg for interment.

An engineer on the railroad named Frank Colie had one of his legs taken off, a few days ago, by falling under his engine a short distance west of this place. Not long since, I chronicled the sudden death of a brother of this Colie in a railroad smash-up at Conemaugh.

Our "hundred day men" returned home week before last, under charge of Lieut. Heyer, their term of service having expired. Capt. W. R. Jones (commander of the company) enlisted a company of one hundred and fifty men out of the regiment, to serve for one year, and is now doing provost duty in Baltimore. The Capt. was home on brief furlough last week, and showed me an elegant sword which had been presented him by the members of his company. He is worthy to wear it, for there are few better officers or men above ground than this same Capt. Jones.

Lieut. Dan Jones, of the Signal Corps, and Lieut. A. K. Babcock, of the 54th P. V., returned home here last week. Both these officers served their country creditably for three years, and are now honorably discharged the service.

Col. Linton, of the 54th P. V., left to rejoin his regiment last week. He has almost wholly recovered from the effects of his late wound.

Mr. William Fritz, superintendent of the new Government rolling-mill at Chattanooga, Tenn, was in town last week.— He expects to be able to commence the manufacture of railroad iron there about the 1st of January next. Persons in need of employment can get good situations, with transportation free, by applying by letter to him, at Chattanooga.

LIST OF CAUSES.—Following is the trial list for the December term of the Cambria County Courts, 1864:

FIRST WEEK. Morgan vs. Holiday and others, Bowser vs. Gages, M'Closkey vs. Collins, Emerson vs. Wood & Morrel, Gar., Griffith vs. Hughes, M'Googlie vs. Rodgers, M'Closkey vs. Carland, Kohler vs. Elwanger.

SECOND WEEK. Stellsel & Porter vs. Whites, Eb. & C. RR. vs. Noon, Jackson vs. Johnston, Collins vs. Eb. & C. RR. Co., Lloyd vs. Skelly, Cashion vs. Heslop, Brallier vs. Kibler, Kemp vs. Griffith, Malzie vs. Brown, Herman endorseo vs. Hawes, Henderson, et. al. vs. Hawes, Pedan, et. al. vs. Leff, Kerrigan vs. Linton, Commonwealth vs. Linton, Same vs. Wolf & Welchorn, Gates vs. Smyth, Dougherty for use vs. Moore et. al., Lantz vs. Moore et. al., Buck vs. Noel, Bargoona vs. Matthews, Noel vs. Link, Sharbaugh vs. Gonseregan, M'Closkey vs. Nagie, Frederick vs. Nagie.

IMPORTANT TO DRAFTED MEN.—Capt. Lloyd, Provost Marshal of this district, sends us the following announcement, with a request to give it publicity through our columns:—

"Notice is hereby given that from this day forward the 13th section of the Enrollment Act will be rigidly enforced.— Any person drafted and wishing to put in a substitute must do so 'on or before the day fixed for his appearance.' The privilege of putting in a substitute expires with that day, and if on hearing his claim for exemption he is held to be liable, he cannot escape personal service.

"A. M. LLOYD, "Capt. & Pro. Mar. 17th Dist. Pa. "HOLLIDAYSBURG, Nov. 18, 1864."

PHONOGRAPHY.—At the urgent solicitation of many of our citizens, Prof. Mahan, superintendent of the Ebensburg Union schools, has consented to receive a class in Phonography. He is a thorough master of the science himself, and professes his ability to impart a tolerably full knowledge thereof to pupils in so few as twelve lessons. The first meeting of the class will be held at the Union School House on next Friday eve, 25th inst., commencing at 6 o'clock, when and where all desiring to enter it are invited to be present.

ALMOST A DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION.—On Monday morning last, the hotel building of Mr. Isaac Crawford, in the West Ward, was discovered to be on fire, between the ceiling and second floor. Happily, the flames had not then made much headway, so what most speedily have become a destructive conflagration was easily overcome. The fire was communicated by a defective stovepipe.
