A dispute arose between Campbell and McLean upon the subject of genealo-McLean would not allow that the Campbells had any right to rank with the McLeans in antiquity, who, he insisted, were in existence as a clan from the beginning of the world. Campbell had a little more biblical lore than his antagonist, and asked him if the clan of McLean was before the flood.

"Flood! what flood?" said McLean. "The flood, you know, that drowned all the world but Noah and his family and his flocks," said Campbell.

"Pooh! you and your floods!" said Mc-Lean, "my clau was before the flood." "I have not read in my Bible," said Campbell, "of the name of McLean going into Noah's ark."

"Nonh's ark !" retorted the other, in a tone of contempt, "who ever heard of a McLean that had not a boat of his own."

After the tea was thrown overboard in Boston Harber, Febuary 1774, one of the party engaged in that movement, Lot Cheever, whose direct descendants reside | HEATING COOK STOVES, $3.00 to $8.00. in Salem, stopped at the house of Colonel Abner Cheever in Saugus to change his disguise. Some of the tea in his shoes was saved by an old lady of the family, and has from that time until now been carefully preserved. A lady of the highest respectability, and a direct descendant of the days' notice. Cheever here spoken of, has presented to the manager of the Salem Table at the Naval Fair in Boston a remaining portion of the tea, which will be offered for sale.

A good anecdote is told of a housepainter's son, who used the brush dextrously, but had acquired the habit of "putting it on too thick." One day his father, after having frequently scolded him for his lavish daubing, and all to no purpose, gave him a severe flagellation. "There, you young rascal," said he, after performing the painful duty, "how do you

"Well, I don't know, dad," whined the boy in reply, "but it seems to me that you put it on a thunderin' sight thicker than

A wild wag once entered a Quaker meeting-house, and, looking around at the grave assemblage present, he determined ny tart, he solemnly said, "Whoever speaks first shall have this pie." "Go thy way, boy," exclaimed a drab-coated gentleman, rising, "go thy way, and-" "The pie is yours, sir !" interrupted the wag, placing it before the astonished speaker, and bastily effecting his escape.

An exchange is responsible for this "good un :" At one of the hotels in our city, lately, the landlord said to a boarder-"See here, Mr. A., the chambermaid found a hairpin in your bed this morning, and it will not answer!"

"Well," replied the boarder, "I found a hair in the butter this morning, but that did not prove you had a woman in it!"

"As an exemplification," writes a gentleman in London to a friend here, "of the ignorance with regard to Americans which one sometimes finds, even in the best society in England, let me mention that Professor Rogers, of Boston, was the other day asked by a lady, at a dinner party, (where I was present,) whether the street. English language was to any great extent spoken in the United States!"

A very curious method of reducing the intense headache experienced by fever patients has been lately pointed out by a R. L. JOHNSTON. French physician. It consists simply in pressure extended over the integument covering the temporal arteries. It was discovered quite accidentally in feeling the temples, rather than the wrists in order to ascertain the frequency of the pulse.

A fellow at a race-course was staggering about the track with more liquor than he could carry. "Hallo, what's the office same as lately occupied by Linton matter now?" said a chap, whom the in- and Noon, on Post Office corner—up stairs. ebriated individual had run against .-"Why-hie-why, the fact is, a lot of my friends have been betting liquor on the race to day, and they have got me to hold the stakes."

A CARD.

WIPMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSES, EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN-The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, containing all my books ogother with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neignbors and friends and represeting a value of over Twenty Thousand, Pollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which Oct. 15, 1863. stales and ranged sair to harm . was destroyed on the night of the 27th of the dy, 1860, and passed through the nery or all unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement or the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the orick walls. After the fire the sale was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored This fact was, however, to many hystanders a better recommendation of your Sa'es that could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCK.
