A-"Spirits of just men made perfeet" don't cum within the whisky bill. B-"Spirits of the damned' are con structed the same as damnable spirits, and must pay the highest whiskee rates. C-Tax on "undressed poultry" dubled -the morals of the country seem to require it. D-Bologna sarsage, in part dorg and part red flanuel, must pay the duty on flannels also.

E-Aw! tabakker (unless the manufacturer diskriminate what is new and what all sizes and best quality, 5 to 61 cts per lb. is old chaws) is elevated 50 per cent. F-Ministers of the gospel, who don't dew over $1,500 worth of bizness a year, | Trimmed complete, with baking arrangements, are exempt.

A gentleman lately overheard the following conversation between a man and a woman who appeared as though they had just returned from a pleasure trip to some of the out of town resorts:

Woman-"Blow me, Bill, how tired I feel! I am as miserable, too, as a starved cat. What a miserable world this is! I wish I'd never been born, that I do, and now that I am born, I wish myself dead again !" Man-"Why, Bet, what's the matter with you now? What are you grumbling about?" Woman-"Why, don't I tell yer I'm as miserable as a rat." Man-"Miserable, indeed! Why, what on earth would yer have? You was drunk on Monday, and you was drunk again en Wednesday, and I'm blest if that isn't pretty near enough pleasure for yer, I don't know what is. I s'pose you wants to be a downright hangel here upon the earth !"

20 A bar of iron, originally valued at five dollars, is worth, when worked into horseshoes, ten dollars and fifty cents; into needles, three hundred and fifty-five dollars; into penknife blades, three thousand two hundred and eighty-five dollars; into shirt buttons, twenty-nine thousand four hundred and eighty dollars; into balance springs of watches, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Thirty-one pounds of iron have been made into wire upwards of one hundred and eleven miles in length, and so fine was the fabric that part of it was converted-in lieu of horsehair-into a barrister's wig!

A humarous old gentleman once fell in with an ignorant and rather impertinent minister, who proceeded to Inform | JOHNSTOWN STOVE & HOUSE-FURNISHthe former, in very positive terms, that he never would reach Heaven unless he was born again, adding-"I have experienced that happy change, and now feel no anx-

"And have you really been born again?" said the old man, musingly.

"Yes, I have," was the reply. . "Well," said the old man, eyeing him attentively, "it may be all right, but-I don't think it would hurt you to be born once more !"

War is a solemn matter, but it is relieved of much of its attendant solemnity by the many amusing stories told of the soldiers. We recollect of reading somewhere that in one of the hospitals, while the chaplain was praying the Lord street. to be a shield to the armies of Union and Liberty, a wounded soldier rolled over in his bed, clasped his hands, raised his eyes toward the ceiling, and piously ejaculated -"Breastworks, Lord-breastworks!"

In conformity with the old custom of advertising from the public sign-post all intentions of marriage, the following "Marriage is intended between Mr. William Wills of Williamstown, and Miss Wilhelmina Williams of Williamsbridge." A mischievous wag, to make it more explicit, added beneath: "For particulars, see small Bills next year."

A sympathetic individual in Detroit having heard that the substitute he sent to the war was wounded, took to his bed, from which he will get up on crutches, as the proxy recuperates. He will claim a pension, should his man be discharged or disabled.

WITMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSES. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN-The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Bar, in Lancaster (113, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neignbors and friends and represetting a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the prick walls. After the fire the said was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Sa'es than could be expressed in any other words from
