

ODDS & ENDS.

About the time the temperance reformation began, a well disposed farmer told one of his men that he thought of trying to do his work without whiskey, and asked him how much more he should have to give him to do without it. The man told him what he pleased. "Well," said the farmer, "I will give you a sheep if you will do without." The oldest son then asked if he would give him a sheep if he would do without whisky. "Yes," said the farmer, "I will give you a sheep if you will do without." The youngest son then asked if he would do the same by him. "Yes, Sandy," was the reply; "you shall have a sheep too, if you will do without whisky." Presently Sandy asked, "Father hadn't you better take a sheep, too?" This was a home question; the father had hardly thought that he could do without the "good creature," but this direct appeal was not to be disregarded, and the father took a sheep too.

"What did your mother say, my little man? Did you give her my card," said an inexperienced young gentleman to a little boy, whose mother had given him an invitation to call upon her, and whose street door was accordingly opened to his untimely summons by the urchin aforesaid. "Yes, I gave it to her," was the innocent reply, "and she said if you wasn't a natural fool, you wouldn't come Monday morning, when every body was washing."

At this juncture, mamma, with a sweet smile of welcome, made her appearance at the end of the hall, when, to her surprise, Mr. Verisopht, the visitor, boited.

"What does the man mean?" inquired mamma.

"I dunno," replied bub, "but I guess he forgot suthin'."

Jerrod and a company of literary friends were out in the country. In the course of their walk they stopped to notice the gambols of an ass's foal. A very sentimental poet present vowed that he should like to send the little thing as a present to his mother. "Do," Jerrod replied, "and tie a paper round its neck, bearing this motto: 'When this you see, remember me.'"

When Judge Hale, who had been a fierce wash-buckler in his youth, sat in judgment upon one of his former boon companions, he took advantage of the retirement of the jury to ask the culprit in the dock sundry questions touching their old associates. "They are all hanged, my lord," answered the knave, "except you and me."

That remarkable old negro woman, Sojourner Truth, called on President Lincoln recently, and told him he was the only President who has done anything for her people. Mr. Lincoln replied, "and the only one who ever had such an opportunity." Had our friends in the south behaved themselves I could have done nothing whatever."

"Are you thinking of what I am saying?" said a music teacher to a young Miss M'C—, after explaining to her, at some length, the difference between the major and minor key. "Why sir," replied Miss M'C—, "I've been thinking all this time whether these keys are ivory or bone."

Hope is the ruddy morning ray of joy, recollection is its golden tinge; but the latter is wont to sink amid the dews and dusky shades of twilight; and the bright blue day which the former promises breaks, indeed, but in another world, with another sun.

According to a California paper, they have a queer currency in Owensville—seems. Business men got along very well, until the Indians began to lay up their winter stores, when the currency became deranged, and a panic ensued.

Ironbrace remarks that women are a good deal like French watches—very pretty to look at, but devilish difficult to regulate when once they take to going wrong.

A lady in speaking of the gathering of lawyers to dedicate a new court house, said she supposed they had gone "to view the ground where they must shortly lie."

A CARD— WITMER'S BRIDGE, LANCASTER Tp. July 30, 1860.

Messrs. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam H. Barclay, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1859, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe's than could be expressed in any other words from me.

Yours Respectfully,
SAMUEL RANCK.
