AN INTERESTING INCIDENT.—The following incident is related by the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial:—While a number of gentlemen were discussing the merits and demerits of Mr. Lincoln—principally the latter, though—at a dinner table, the other day, one of them spoke about as follows, in reply to some pretty severe reflections on His Excellency: "Gentlemen, you may talk as you please about old Abe's capacity; I don't believe him to be the ablest statesman in America by any means, and I voted against him on both occasions of his candidacy. But I happened to see, or rather to hear, something the other day that convinced me that, however deficient the old man may be in the head, he is all right in the heart. I was up at the White House, having called to see the President on business. I was shown into the office of his private secretary, and told that Mr. Lincoln was busy just then, but would be disengaged in a short time. While I was waiting I heard a very earnest prayer being uttered in a loud female voice, in the room that adjoined that in which I was. I inquired what it meant, and I was told that an old Quaker lady, a friend of the President, had called that afternoon and taken tea at the White House, and that she was then praying with Mr. Lincoln. After the lapse of a few minutes the prayer ceased, and Mr. Lincoln, accompanied by a Quakeress not less than eighty years old, entered the room I was sitting in. I made up my mind then that Mr. Lincoln was not a bad man, and I don't think it will be easy to efface the impression that the scene I witnessed, and the voice I heard, made on my mind. If a good artist had been in my place, I think he could have found the material for a painting that would have immortalized him,—that of Mr. Lincoln and the old Quakeress kneeling together in prayer."

DESCRIPTION OF OUR SAVIOR.—The following description of our Savior was written by Publius Centullus, Governor of Judea, to the Senate of Rome, in the reign of Emperor Augustus Cæsar:

Conscript Fathers: There appeared in these our days a man named Jesus Christ, who is yet living among us, and of the Gentiles is accepted as a prophet of great truth; but his own disciples call him the Son of God. He hath raised the dead and cured all manner of diseases. He is a man of stature, tall and comely, with a very ruddy countenance, such as the beholder may love and fear. His hair is the color of the filbert when fully ripe, plain to the ears, whence downward it is most ornate in color, curling and waving about his shoulders; in the middle of his head is a seam of partition of long hair, after the manner of the Nazarites. His forehead is plain and delicate, his face without spot or wrinkle, beautiful, with comely red—his nose and mouth are exactly formed—beard the color of his hair, and thick, not of any great hight, but forked. In reproving, he is terrible; in admonishing, courteous; in speaking, very modest and wise; in proportion of body, well shaped. A man, for his surpassing beauty, excelling the children of men.

A FAST AGE.—The Erie Dispatch has the following examples of the progressive spirit of the age:

"A man residing in Spring tp., Erie county, buried his second wife on Tuesday, November 1, 1864, and on the 12th, eleven days after, married again. His first wife died about a year ago, and he was then five weeks in finding a second. But the third he makes better time on, having had experience, and suits himself in eleven days.

"A case which occurred in Dryden, New York, however, leaves the Erie, Pa., case far behind for enterprise. A man in that town had the misfortune to lose his wife on Sunday; on Monday he married his servant girl; on Tuesday they attended the funeral of the deceased together, the new wife wearing the old one's clothes, and on Wednesday the bride gave birth to a daughter. This ended the programme for the time."

☞ It is not at all strange that the fact of Gen. Grant having originally been a printer, should only now be made known. Printers are generally good men, and in all great movements and revolutions, are always most prominent. Sixteen years ago the now Lieutenant General of the Armies of the United States was setting type in an Ohio printing office.

☞ The quota of Pennsylvania on the late call under the revised enrollment is 49,573.

A CARD.—
WITMER'S BRIDGE,
Lancaster Co. July 30, 1860.
MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN:—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam R. Baer, in Lancaster City, in July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The Safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your Safes than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours respectfully, [se13 SAMUEL RANCK.
☞ A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S.
